SCORE DIE IN MIDWEST HEAT WAVE

Rehearing of Billings-Mooney Case Opens Tuesday

M'DONALD TO TELL STORY TO JURISTS

IS SECOND HEARING

BULLETIN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—(UP)—The California supreme court today rejected the request of Thomas J. Mooney that he be summoned as a material witness at a hearing to open tomorrow on an application of Warren K. Billings for a pardon.

The vote was an informal one and the decision was announced verbally by Chief Justice William H. Waste.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—(UP)—Last minute preparations were made today for a session of the California supreme court in which the case of Warren K. Billings, convicted of complicity in the San Francisco Preparedness day bombing will be "re-tried."

Indications are that the hearing, to start at 10 a. m. tomorrow, will be devoted largely to the testimony of John MacDonald, recanting witness, who returned here from Baltimore to tell the seven supreme court justices that he lied at the trials of Billings and Thomas J. Mooney.

Questioning of MacDonald will be carried on by the justices but it is likely that some cross examining by Charles M. Fickert, the prosecutor who convicted Mooney and Billings, will be permitted.

Both Mooney and Billings desire to appear personally at the hearing but it is unlikely that either will be permitted to do so. A petition by Mooney, asking that he be summoned as a material witness, is before the court now and probably will be denied before the opening of Tuesday's hearing.

The court has indicated it intends to limit the hearing to Billings' case only as the justices are without authority to act in behalf of or against Mooney.

In California a pardon for a twice convicted man, such as Billings, may be issued by the governor provided the supreme court recommends it and this week's hearing is being held under the authority of that provision.

Action on a Mooney pardon petition must come direct from the governor and for that reason the court is not interested in the Mooney phase of the bombing case, even though both men were convicted on the same evidence.

The hearing is the second one the court has held on the Billings case, having rejected his petition early this month. The return of Mac Donald, who wants to deny his testimony that he saw Billings plant the dynamite bomb which killed 10 persons, resulted in decision for the re-hearing.

While Mooney will have no part in the hearing, it is of importance to his case, Governor C. C. Young denied Mooney's pardon application recently, after the supreme court declined to recommend a pardon for Billings. He explained that he considered the cases as parallels and that if one deserved a pardon then both did.

ONE KILLED AND 15 INJURED IN ACCIDENTS OVER WEEK END

JUDGE MAY BE ASKED TO END BABY TANGLE

Habeas Corpus Petition to Be Sought to Determine Parentage

CHICAGO, July 28.—(INS)—That a judge will in the end be forced to determine the parentage of the infants Watkins and Bamberger became apparent today when Mr. and Mrs. William Watkins announced they would seek a habeas corpus petition to compel a trade with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bamberger.

The celebrated baby tangle, which began after the two infants were born on the same afternoon in Englewood hospital, was forced to a sudden climax yesterday by a hasty baptismal ceremony.

The infant baptized was the one carried home from the hospital by the Bambergers, and the name given him was George Edward Bamberger.

Mr. and Mrs. Watkins, still in accord with the verdict of a jury of eminent scientists who said the babies had been mixed, objected to the baptismal, maintaining that the wrong baby had been baptized with the wrong name.

As a result, attorneys for Watkins expect to obtain a writ of habeas corpus today to compel the Bamberger's to produce the baby they possess in court and show cause why a trade should not be made compulsory. Under this plan a judge would finally be called upon to determine which baby should go to each family.

Born on June 30, the infants were taken home from the hospital a few days later. It was found that the baby supposed to belong to the Bambergers bore a label "Watkins" and the Watkin's child was marked "Bamberger."

Question Right of Retail Oil Prices

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—(UP)—The right of an oil company to set an arbitrary price on gasoline sold to dealers was questioned today in an answer to Charles T. Haas, Van Nuys, to a suit brought in superior court by the Richfield Oil company.

The company sued Haas for $637 on his gasoline account but Haas claimed their contract was void because of a clause in which the company restrains him from selling fuel at prices other than those set by the company.

Senator Phelan Rallies Slightly

SARATOGA, Calif., July 28.—(UP)—After a "fairly restful" night, former Senator James D. Phelan was believed to have rallied a little today.

His physician, Dr. Jau Don Ball, warned, however, that Senator Phelan's slight rally can hardly be taken as a hopeful sign. Stricken with acute gastritis on May 5, his condition has been grave ever since.

Calvin Coolidge Says

By CALVIN COOLIDGE
Former President of the United States

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 28.—When the country needs a little encouragement it can look at the condition of the federal treasury.

Since August, 1919, the national debt has been reduced over ten billion dollars and now stands at a little over sixteen billions. The interest charge has been practically cut in two but is still over six hundred millions. In the meantime we have had five reductions of taxes which give the people direct relief of about two billion dollars yearly and an indirect relief to an amount that it is impossible to estimate. Nevertheless expanding business brought sufficient revenue to meet increased expenditures and show a large yearly surplus.

The credit for the original draft of tax bills and issuing new securities so as to cut the average interest rate well below four per cent belongs to the secretary of the treasury. The credit for a policy of economy that produced a surplus, reduced taxes and increased prosperity belongs to the president. He has been aided by the budget bureau, the department, and the congress. It is a wonderful record. But because of decreased business there must now be some rigid economy to prevent a deficit.

FISHING BOAT AND 25 ABOARD SAVED AT SEA

Picked Up Floundering in Rough Seas at Night and Towed Safely

VENTURA, Calif., July 28.—(UP)—The fishing smack Mary Ann was credited today with saving the fishing boat Starlight and the latter's 25 passengers and crew of three.

The Mary Ann returned here this morning to report that it towed the Starlight to the Anacapa islands after it found the craft floundering in rough water in the channel near the islands.

The motors of the Starlight had failed and it was half-filled with water when the Mary Ann arrived. All the passengers and members of the crew on the Starlight had donned life preservers in the belief that the craft was doomed.

The Mary Ann passed a line to the Starlight and then towed the craft to the Anacapas. Both ships remained there over night and the Mary Ann came here this morn-

DRY CHIEFS OF NATION LAUNCH NEW CAMPAIGN

Sign New Declaration That Will Safeguard Personal Rights

NEW YORK, July 28.—(UP)—The country's chief prohibition leaders have signed a new declaration of policy repudiating all enforcement practices that do not safeguard every personal right guaranteed by the constitution.

The dry group, in issuing the new declaration yesterday, said it was preparing a campaign to offset the influence of outstanding figures such as Dwight W. Morrow who takes a definite position against prohibition.

One of the signers, the Rev. James K. Shields, New Jersey Anti-Saloon league superintendent, characterized Morrow as the type who is likely to cause prohibitionists the most unrest.

In the part which referred to constitutional rights, the dry declaration said:

"Enemies of prohibition endeavor to make this (the 18th amendment) appear as offensive sumptuary legislation. This is not true, and we specifically repudiate all enforcement policies that do not regard and safeguard every personal right guaranteed by the constitution.

GIRL MAKES FOUR PARACHUTE JUMPS

Miss Cox made four jumps from airplanes within three hours breaking the record of two successive leaps which Miss Bobbie Brooks established in Los Angeles in 1922. She collapsed from nervousness while preparing to make a fifth jump.

The girl narrowly escaped injury when she was forced to "slip" her parachute to avoid landing on an automobile on the second of her four descents.

JOHN STRANG ENDS LIFE FROM BRIDGE

PASADENA, Calif., July 28.—(UP)—John Strang, 76, retired, became the 31st victim of the so-called "suicide span" when he leaped from the Colorado boulevard bridge to the rocks 130 feet below.

Strang's nurse, having heard him threaten to commit suicide from the bridge, raced there in a taxi-cab when he disappeared from home. Strang jumped just as she came upon the bridge. Thirty other persons have leaped to death from the same bridge.

Beach Youth Found Beside Wrecked Car

Seven Persons Are Hurt in One Mishap Near San Clemente Saturday

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS in Orange county over the week end took a toll of one life and showed 15 other persons injured in a series of seven crashes reported to police authorities and at hospitals.

Mystery surrounds the cause of the accident which yesterday morning cost the life of Domingo Acosta, of 6500 Regent street, Huntington Beach, on the Coast highway three miles north of Laguna Beach.

Acosta was found lying beside his overturned and burning automobile. His skull was fractured and his chest crushed. He was rushed to the Laguna Beach Emergency hospital, and then taken to the Orange county hospital, where he died at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, without regaining consciousness.

Police who made an investigation were of the opinion that the man was alone in his car at the time of the accident. They also advanced the theory that he may have fallen asleep and allowed the car to run off the road. So far as is known, no other car was involved.

Acosta is said to have a father residing at Stanton and a brother at Huntington Beach. The body was taken to the Winbigler Mission Funeral home, where Coroner Charles D. Brown will hold an inquest at a time to be designated later, he said.

Seven Are Hurt

Seven persons were cut, bruised and suffered from shock as the result of an automobile collision on the Coast highway five miles south of San Clemente Saturday night. All received medical treatment at the San Clemente hospital and then were allowed to go to their homes.

Vernon Spencer, of Vista, and Mr. and Mrs. Michael T. Irving and small daughter were driving south in their car when it collided headon with a machine driven by Mrs. Mary Adams, of 12604 Cometa street, San Fernando. Mrs. Adams, Isobel Clarke and her brother were injured in this car.

The accident was caused by a

CACTUS-SITTER ON DESERT DEFIES SUN

YUMA, Ariz., July 28.—(UP)—On an old immigrant trail crossed by the gold seekers in 1849, Lawrence Peters, 13-year-old newsboy, perched atop a giant Sagharo cactus today and defied the desert sun.

Lawrence, who spends his time playing solitaire, told his ground crew he intended to stay up 100 hours. He passed his 56th hour at midnight undaunted by weather ranging from 108 degrees of heat to a drenching rain and electrical storm.

"MA" FERGUSON RUNS AHEAD IN RACE FOR DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR

DALLAS, Tex., July 28.—(UP)—A matronly woman who turns to the housewifely talks of canning preserves during political doldrums, and a multi-millionaire newspaper publisher, and oil man, will lay their policies of government before Texas Democrats in the run-off primary race for the gubernatorial nomination.

The outcome of the contest, which promises to run the whole scale in contrasts, is ragerded as virtual determination of the state's next chief executive.

Miriam A. "Ma" Ferguson, whose political fortunes have soared and fell during her public life as official companion of her husband, former Gov. James A. Ferguson, and Ross Sterling, emerged successful from Saturday's primary in which 11 candidates were entered.

If Mrs. Ferguson, referred to by thousands of Texas plainsmen as "Ma," defeats Sterling it will send her to the state's executive mansion for a fourth time. Twice she has gone there as the wife of "Farmer Jim," as her husband who served a term and a half and was impeached, and once as governor in her own right.

Returns from 243 out of 253 counties in the state give Mrs. Ferguson a lead over Sterling of more than 55,000 votes. Sixty-nine of the counties were complete.

U. S. Senator Morris Sheppard, Texarkana, seeking a fourth term, won from R. Henry, Houston, wet opponent. All but one of the state's congressmen had safe leads. The losing candidate was John C. Box of the second district who was far behind Martin Dies jr., Orange, Tex.

RESCUE WORK IN 34 TOWNS AND CITIES IN SOUTHERN ITALY BEING RUSHED TODAY

NAPLES, July 28.—(UP)—Plans for a new Southern Italy were were being completed today as the Italian government ordered the greatest possible speed in caring for its homeless citizens.

The rescue work in the 34 towns and cities destroyed or seriously damaged by last Wednesday's earthquake was not even contemplated when the reconstruction plan neared the final stage. Soldiers wearing gas masks still sought among the ruins for bodies and trapped living victims.

Several hospital trains arrived here today with the quake's victims, who were placed in local hospitals for more up to date treatment.

The reconstruction of the devastated region will begin as soon as engineers making their final surveys of the territory's needs, and the Italian cabinet appropriates the necessary funds to carry on the work. That will be some time this week, it was believed.

Plan Model Town

Avezzano will be used as a model town in the reconstruction. This town was rebuilt in 1915 after it was destroyed by an earthquake, and contains chiefly one and two story buildings of reinforced concrete. Earthquakes since then have done no damage there, and the new southern Italy will be built along these lines.

Many of the towns will be moved from their old locations on hilltops to the valleys, where they will be safer from the earthquake's trembling. Most of the damage in the last earthquake was done in towns located at high altitudes. The government long had sought unsuccessfully to persuade townsmen to move into the valley.

In preparation for the vast recon-

SEEK WHITE GIRL IN KOREAN MURDER

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28—(UP)—Police here today sought "a beautiful young white girl" in connection with the slaying of H. K. Shinn, a Korean, whose knife-slashed body was found early yesterday.

The girl, authorities state, is a habitue of Chinatown resorts and incited jealousy between Shinn and an unknown rival.

Shinn, a barber, was discovered dead with a crushed skull and more than 16 cuts on his face and body. A large amount of jewels and money was left untouched in his possession, indicating that robbery was not the motive.

HEAVY TRAFFIC REPORTED OVER S. A. BOULEVARD

More Than 1000 Cars Use New Highway In One Hour On Sunday

FOLLOWING THE opening Saturday of Santa Ana boulevard, scores of Santa Ana persons have driven over the beautiful new entrance to the city from the north and commented on the beauty of the avenue, particularly at night, when the lamps in the ornamental lighting system shed their rays over the wide avenue.

Interest also centered today in whether or not the highway would be utilized by motorists driving in and out of Santa Ana. The fact that it is being used was evidenced today when B. A. Hershey, sergeant of the city motorcycle police, reported that 1037 cars were checked in an hour period between 10 and 11 a. m., yesterday.

The officer observed that many outside motorists not familiar with the new road hesitated yesterday as they approached the north end of the boulevard and continued on into town over the old route, Chapman avenue and Main street. It was pointed out that as yet no signs have been posted directing traffic to Santa Ana and southern points over the new route.

Hershey made several checks yesterday that are of interest. His check between 10 and 11 a. m., revealed that one out of every seven cars passing south on the boulevard turned on North Broadway to come into the city.

Between 9 and 10 a. m., 482 cars travelling south took Santa Ana boulevard and 253 followed Chapman avenue.

From 3 to 4 p. m., 987 cars passed over the boulevard, traveling in both directions. Between 4 and 5 p. m. 523 cars used Main street as

ATTEMPT BAN ON SOVIET EXPORTS

NEW YORK, July 28.—(UP)—The wage earners protective conference, an organization of 500,000 workers affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, has started a movement to bar all Soviet exports from the United States.

Matthew Woll, head of the organization and vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, announced the ban would be sought on the ground that Soviet materials and goods are the product of convict or forced labor. The provision of the new tariff law barring convict labor goes into effect Jan. 1, 1932.

RAIN EARLY TODAY MAY GIVE RELIEF

Conway, Arkansas Reports Hottest Spot in Nation With 110 Degrees

BEACHES CROWDED

Crops in Middlewest Reported Badly Damaged By Extreme Hot Winds

CHICAGO, July 28.—(UP)—More than a score of deaths were recorded in the mid-west over the week end as a result of the heat wave in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys.

Four persons died in Minnesota, four in Chicago, three in Illinois exclusive of the Chicago area, five in the St. Louis area, and six in Indiana. Temperatures over the mid-west were well over the 100-degree mark.

A trace of rain in Chicago early today, coupled with the weather forecast, promised relief before nightfall. A northwest wind was predicted for the upper Mississippi valley and extending south as far as northern Kansas, rain was predicted for parts of Illinois, Missouri, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska.

The heat record thus far is held by Conway, Ark., where the mercury touched 113 degrees yesterday. Temperatures ranging from 100 to 110 degrees were recorded in Illinois, Nebraska, Kentucky, Iowa, Indiana, Missouri, Texas, Louisiana and Washington, D. C.

Beaches in Chicago Sunday were crowded with thousands seeking relief. Condition were similar in other parts of the country.

Crops in the middlewest already have been heavily damaged.

AIR DERBY PILOTS TO RESUME FLIGHT

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—(UP) Disrupting their plans to remain here until Wednesday, the twelve pilots remaining in the all-American air derby, were ordered today to resume the flight tomorrow.

The fliers had asked for an extra day in which to make repairs to their planes but officials of the flight refused this delay and told the contestants they must follow the original schedule and leave tomorrow for Ogden, Utah, the next stopover.

Lt. Lee C. Gehlbach, Little Rock, Ark., leading the derby so far, will be the first off tomorrow at 9 a. m.

Remove Americans From China Today

PEIPING, China, July 28.—(UP)—American residents of Kiukiang and Changsha were evacuated by American gunboats today before the unimpeded advance of Chinese Communist troops into Hunan and Kiangsi provinces.

The gunboats Monocacy and Palos were dispatched to the two cities to take out Americans, who were said to number 100. They were also attempting to remove summer vacationists at Kuling before the Communists reached there.

The Communists already have seized Nanchang, in Kiangsi province, looting and burning the city, and slaughtering hundreds of Chinese residents. Many other sections of Kiangsi province and of Hunan where Changsha is located, also were occupied, and the advance continued steadily northward.

German Aviators Refuel for Trip

Hirth and Weller arrived here at 6:55 p. m. yesterday from Hanworth airdrome, London, to start their flight. They will fly first to Iceland, where they will refuel before continuing their flight.

STRIBLING WINS OVER SCOTT BY KNOCKOUT IN 2ND ROUND

RINGSIDE, WIMBLEDON, London, July 28.—(UP)—Young Stribling of Georgia defeated Phil Scott of England before a crowd of 45,000 here tonight in a match billed for the "world's heavyweight championship." Stribling knocked out the Englishman in the second round of a scheduled 10-round bout.

Scenes of wildest disorder preceded the bout when a wild unruly crowd of 45,000 continuously broke the barriers formed by police and stormed into the higher priced seats which already were filled.

The police were swept off their feet and were powerless to calm the great throng which filled the arena to capacity. It is believed to be the biggest crowd ever to see a glove fight in England, home of boxing.

The boxers in the preliminaries fought under extreme difficulties, as the crowd stood up in its chairs and cheered the battle between the police and the mob invading the ringside sections.

Stribling was the first to enter the ring, coming in at 9:25, followed two minutes later by Scott.

Sam Russell crawled into the ring with the fighters to act as referee. The British board of boxing control, taking a leaf from the American custom, kept the referee's name secret until the fighters entered the ring.

The Santa Ana city council is now having plans and specifications drawn for a sign to be erected at the north end of the boulevard, directing traffic into Santa Ana over the new route. Discussions by council members have indicated that a majority of them favor a suspended sign rather than an arch, and it is believed that final selection will be of this type.

Just what the wording on the sign will be has not been determined, but indications point to use of the words, "Santa Ana and Coast Cities."

RANCHER OF VILLA PARK FALLS DEAD

Walter Scott Elmer, 47, prominent rancher of Villa Park, died suddenly from heart failure Saturday night at the Los Serranos Country club near Chino. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at the Rosedale chapel in Los Angeles.

Elmer has lived near Villa Park for five years and had just completed an expensive new home equipped with a large swimming pool and other luxuries. He was attending a dinner dance at the country club and stepped out on the porch, where he fell dead.

The rancher is survived by his wife, Mrs. Anna Elmer and his mother, Mrs. Nancy Elmer of Los Angeles. Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Gillogly Funeral parlors of Orange. The Hollywood Lodge of Masons, of which he was a member, will be in charge of the services.

Until the Mary Ann reported this morning fears were held for both it and the Starlight. Both were due back here with fishing parties last night but failed to return.

Captain Miller said that the Japanese told him that two other boats had failed to stop to aid the Starlight.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Airplanes carrying U. S mail have flown a distance equal to nearly 1000 times around the world during the period from February, 1926, the Post Office department reports. In 1926 only 9 routes were involved in carrying mail. Chicago-Frisco is the longest, covering 1932 miles.

REAL FAIRY CASTLE

A real fairy-tale castle, only one of its kind in the world, here is shown after completion at Hamburg, N. J. Designed by Joseph Urban, celebrated architect and stage artist, the $50,000 structure of poured stone represents the gingerbread house in Hansel and Gretel, and is built on the grounds of Fred H. Bennett. The sparkling roof, white as cake icing, is decorated with pink and blue imitation candy hearts, and fantastic figures decorate stairways and reproductions of fairy-tale scenes—all for the entertainment of visiting children.

struction program, long freight trains moved out of Naples at frequent intervals today, bearing lumber, bricks and cement for the new buildings. Other building supplies were sent in military and private motor trucks.

Homeless Cared For

The homeless population, meanwhile, was cared for in tents and portable huts similar to those used behind the front during the war. The devastated area resembled a great encampment.

Telegraph and telephone service has been restored completely, and damaged bridges replaced, so that communication throughout the region was normal. Radio stations, established by the army engineers, were functioning as a complementary service.

While only two American citizens were killed by the earthquake, and they of Italian ancestry, southern Italy is the 'emigrant territory,' and there was scarcely a family in the earthquake zone but had connections in America.

Many inhabitants of Sossio, San Nicolo and the Trevico section have relatives in Boston and Newark, N. J., while New York, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Chicago often are mentioned.

Several Rescued

Hopes that more living persons might be rescued from the ruins were raised throughout the section when three girls, between the ages of eight and six, were extricated from a demolished house at Melfi, and when a four months old boy, Filippo Antinozzi, was found beneath an overturned cupboard at Lacedonia, where his entire family was killed.

A mother and two children also were found alive at Aquilonia, and while the mother was in a weakened condition, the children were playing as though nothing had happened.

The three day tour of King Victor Emanuel, who personally contributed 100,000 lire to the relief work, also served to bolster the inhabitants courage. The king went from town to town, talking with survivors and rescue workers, and inspecting the revastation at first hand.

Two persons were reported injured at 8:30 o'clock last night, when the car in which they were riding, driven by D. E. Drake, 23, of 3517 South Flower street, Los Angeles, collided with a machine driven by John Valenzuella, near the Olive bridge.

Drake and Violet Knight, 19, of Inglewood, passengers in his machine, were treated at the Orange county hospital. No one in the Valenzuella machine was reported hurt.

Mexican Injured

Andrew Lopez, of Huntington Beach was seriously injured at 10 o'clock Sunday morning when the machine in which he was riding collided with a car driven by M. H. Smith, of Lindsey, Calif., near Midway City. He was taken to the Huntington Beach hospital.

Three Are Hurt

Three persons were reported injured at Seventeenth street and Grand avenue at 11 o'clock yesterday morning when an automobile driven by T. J. Rhone, of Brea, collided with a car reported driven by G. W. Rockefeller, of Santa Ana, Route No. 1.

Viola Rhone, Glenn Rhone and T. G. Rhone, all were reported badly cut and bruised. They were taken to the Orange county hospital for treatment. No one in the Rockefeller machine was hurt.

Louis Thompson, of 1418 South Fifth street, Alhambra, was given first aid treatment at the Santa Ana Valley hospital yesterday for cuts and bruises reported received in an automobile crash.

State Hospitals Prisons Gain In Population Daily

SACRAMENTO, July 28.—Population of California's state prisons and hospitals is increasing at the rate of six persons daily, even allowing for those released from these institutions.

Earl E. Jensen, state director of institutions, made this estimate after completing his quarterly census report. A total of 33,501 persons are now on the rolls, compared with 32,891 three months ago.

Men inmates number 17,293, having a two to one advantage over the women, of whom are but 8,011 confined in institutions.

Giant British Dirigible To Fly Soon

LONDON, July 28.—(UP)—The R-100, giant British dirigible, will start its trans Atlantic flight to Canada as soon as weather permits, the British air ministry announced yesterday.

Weather charts at present do not indicate when flying conditions might be suitable for start of the flight, which will require between 60 and 70 hours to reach Montreal its destination.

The dirigible returned to its hangar at Cardington early Saturday night after a 24-hour test flight. It was announced that the ship was in excellent condition.

Leaders last week, in the big Fox Coast-Santa Ana Register Popularity contest now being conducted by the paper and the Fox West Coast and the Fox Broadway theaters, continued to hold their respective positions, following the counting of votes again Saturday night.

Norman Paul, who went into the lead in the boy's division last week, was 16,000 votes ahead of Mario Mecurio, who has been at the head of the list of candidates almost from the start.

In the girl's division, Corrine Pennington continued to lead Luvina Layton Schade, being 12,000 in front with the last count, while Sue Verburg, Legion Drum Corps candidate, was in third place more than 100,000 votes behind the second place.

Everett Conkright made a neat gain during the last count and now has more than 400,000 votes, while Dorothy Reynolds, Orange girl, continued to make progress in her race and is less than 50,000 votes behind third place.

The contest runs until August 4. Votes can be procured through the purchase of admission tickets to either of the Fox theaters in Santa Ana, through the sale of merchandise from any of the merchants who have offered prizes in the contest, through the sale of subscriptions to The Santa Ana Register and through the sale of scrip books to the theaters here.

First prize is the leading part in a big motion picture to be made in Santa Ana, the winner also getting his or her pick of the some dozen big prizes which have been offered by the merchants.

Ballot boxes have been placed at each theater so that persons can vote for their friends in the contest at the theaters.

All Canada Band Being Organized

TORONTO, Ont., July 21.—(UP) Captain Charles O'Neil, of Quebec, is organizing an All-Canada Permanent Force Band, the first of its kind, to accompany a chorus of 2,000 voiced at the Canadian National Exhibition this August.

The band, of 76 ppieces, is being made up from the bands of the Royal Canadian Regiment at London, Ontario; the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery at Kingston, and the Royal 22nd Regiment of Quebec.

M'DONALD WILL TELL STORY TO COURT TUESDAY

In the light of his previous action, it is expected that Governor Young will follow the judgment of the court again.

As though anticipating that the governor will use the court's recommendation on Billings as a guide in his case, Mooney today sent a new petition for a pardon to the governor's office in Sacramento.

Frank P. Walsh, New York attorney, drew up the petition. It was said that Mooney was convicted on the testimony of MacDonald and Frank Oxman, Oregon cattleman. MacDonald has confessed that he was a perjurer, the petition said, while Oxman's testimony was discredited years ago, even by those opposed to a pardon for Billings and Mooney.

Meanwhile, the disappearance of two reports on the case from police files here was reported.

The reports are the basis for a denial by Police Captain Charles Goff, that he identified Mooney and Billings for MacDonald, as the latter charges in his repudiation affidavit.

"I expect the reports will turn up," Goff said. "The search isn't complete yet."

SEEK BODY OF MEXICAN YOUTH IN GROVE HERE

Search was being made in a 60-acre gum grove, located on Ocean avenue, west of the Santa Ana river, today by Sheriff Sam Jernigan and deputies for the body of a Mexican youth, reported to be lying there in a sack.

A telephone call received from Long Beach told the sheriff's office that a search of the gum grove would reveal the body. How the body got there, if it is there, or the nature of the boy's death was not revealed in the telephone call.

F. W. Howard, chief criminal deputy sheriff, said today that he was skeptical regarding the truth of the report, but that searchers were sent to the grove, nevertheless, on the theory that the annonymous report may have been true. No success in finding the corpse had been made at noon today.

The report from Long Beach was to the effect that the body had been there several days.

A giant 200-inch reflector telescope, now under construction in the United States, will weigh 1600 tons and cost more than $12,500,000 when completed.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

It is not to the weaklings of our race, who craved another existence to make up for what they had missed here, that we owe the stability of our well-nigh universal faith in immortality, but to the great thinkers.

The conviction is deep-seated in the minds and hearts of men like Plato, Zoroaster, the philosophers of India and the Taoist sages of China, along with all the Christian leaders.

Brave men, who were ready to face facts as they discovered them, regardless of the conclusion which might be reached, have found themselves convinced that immortality is sure.

Accept their verdict to strengthen your hopes and walk each day with the realization that you are to live forever.

FISHER—July 27, 1930, Mrs. Nellie G. Fisher, of 336 Pine avenue, age 44 years. She is survived by her husband, Milton J. Fisher. Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Harrell & Brown Funeral home, 116 West Seventeenth street, the Rev. W. S. Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church, officiating. Interment in Fairhaven cemetery.

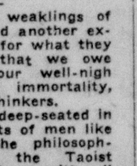

HOPEWELL—In Santa Ana, July 27, 1930, Mary Agnes Hopewell, age 35 years. She is survived by her husband, Jimmie E. Hopewell, and five children, Otho George, Doris Agnes, Virginia Tennessee, Mabel Clair, and Violet Rae, all of Garden Grove. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m., at the Harrell and Brown funeral home, 116 W. Seventeenth St., the Rev. Geo. A. Warmer officiating. Interment Central Memorial park.

FLORES—In Santa Ana, July 27, 1930, Mary Flores, age six months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sisto Flores. Services and interment, under the direction of Harrell and Brown, will be held at 9 o'clock tomorrow at Santa Ana cemetery.

WILSON—At the home of his aunt, Mary D. McGuire, 383 South Orange stret, Orange, July 27, 1930, Frank H. Wilson, aged 60 years. Notice of funeral will be announced later by Smith and Tuthill.

ABOUT 48,000 VOTERS SIGNED, BACKS REPORTS

Registration for the primary election is approximately 300 greater than two years ago, County Clerk J. M. Backs estimated today as his force of registration deputies was hard at work checking records and totaling the figures. The estimated registration is between 47,000 and 48,000.

The registration books closed Saturday for the primary, which is to be held on August 26, and there was an unusually heavy last day rush, which the county clerk attributed as due in no small degree to the publicity given through the Register. The clerk kept his office open as late as voters continued to come in Saturday and did not close until after 10 o'clock.

In addition to the large number registered in the last few days, there have been more changes of party affiliations than ever recorded before in the history of the office, Backs asserted. The changes are expected to run close to a total of 200. These were persons who had registered as democrats or prohibitionists and who have changed party affiliation to Republican, evidently in order to express a preference for dry candidates who are running on this ticket.

The registration at this time two years ago was about 45,700, Backs stated, and the total registration at the fall election then was 51,097.

Bruce Harnois gained his mother's consent and resumed his interripted tree sitting operations at 8 o'clock Saturday night. The time elapsed at 1 o'clock was 41 hours.

The young Santa Ana tree sitting representative has a host of attendants during the day but the one who will see him through is Bill Semnacker. It must be said that Bruce is not literally sitting on a limb but has a platform built and has several blankets. In discussing his plans Bruce stated that he would stay in the tree until all existing records were broken. His family voiced regrets today that the tree was situated so near the residence as Bruce wakes them up each morning calling for food.

With this young man's ascent to the tree tops, Santa Ana is officially entered in the race for tree sitting supremacy that is sweeping the nation.

Farm Bureau Work Is Discusse dWhen Secretaries Meet

A discussion of various problems in connection with the work of the county farm bureau organizations under the direction of Harry Morrell, organization director of the California Farm Bureau federation, featured the meeting of the executive secretaries of county farm bureaus, which was held at the Ambassador hotel in Los Angeles Friday and Saturday.

R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm bureau, was one of the four secretaries from Southern California in attendance at the meeting. Flaherty was secretary of the meeting and Earl Maharg, Los Angeles county secretary, was chairman.

Membership campaigns, records, development of volunteer leadership and organization methods were discussed by the group of secretaries.

Fullerton Youth Paralysis Victim

The first case of infantile paralysis since July 15, was reported Saturday to the health department. The patient is 4-year-old William Winters, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Winters, of Fullerton. The boy was staying at Balboa when the first signs of the malady was noticed and he was quarantined to his home.

This makes the third case of this sickness in Orange county, the other two being quarantined at the Orange county hospital. These two cases will be dismissed Friday, it is reported.

Council Members To Attend Meet

The Santa Ana city council will miss a Monday night session tonight for the first time in "many moons."

The members will join with members of other city councils in the Southland and representatives of chambers of commerce in a jubilee meeting to be held at San Bernardino tonight in connection with the institution of work preliminary to the building of Boulder dam.

Congressman Phil Swing, who arrived in San Bernardino from Washington yesterday, will be the principal speaker, and it is expected he will present in detail the status of the project.

The mass meeting will be held at the public auditorium there and will be preceded by a street parade.

Court Notes

LeRoy Allen Parks, charged with non support of an infant child, was given probation in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning, when his case was heard on condition that he pay $25 per month for the child's keep, the first payment to be made August 1.

ADVERTISE FOR BIDS ON SCHOOL IN SANTA ANA

Bids for the new Willard Junior high school plant to be erected on the site recently purchased at Ross street and West Washington avenue are being advertised today and will be opened by the Santa Aan board of education at its meeting August 12. Estimates of cost prepared by the architect run at approximately $330,000.

The general contract for new construction and alternates at the Lathrop junior high school has been awarded to Wilson-Bever, Santa Ana contractors, whose bid for the general contract was $53,-122. Total costs of the work at Lathrop are expected to run close to $68,800. The work here is to provide a new cafeteria building, a new eight-room class unit and changes in the interior arrangement of the main building. A Los Angeles firm was low on the bidding but was not given the contract after an investigation was made by the board.

Heating and plumbing contracts at Lathrop have been awarded by the board of education to Hickman brothers. The contract for electrical work has not yet been awarded.

The new Willard plant, which it is anticipated will be completed in eight months, is to include a main class room and office building, auditorium of 600 seating capacity, cafeteria and shops. The total costs at Willard, including architect's fees, site, landscaping and tennis courts, is estimated at $411,875.

YOUNG WINS IN STRAW VOTE OF REALTY GROUP

Realtors of the state will vote overwhelmingly for nomination of C. C. Young for re-election as governor of the state, if a straw vote taken here Saturday at meeting of the board of directors of the California Real Estate association may be taken as an advance indication as to how real estate brokers will cast ballots in the primary election.

The group of men and women present at the meeting were truly representative of the most important sections of the state. The straw vote on the gubernatorial nomination fight was taken at the tables just after the group had finished luncheon a St. Ann's inn, and the count revealed that 67 were for Young, 5 for James Rolph and 6 for Buron R. Fitts.

The directors devoted their discussions to various items concerning the association, possible legislation that will be of benefit to property owners, and the program for the convention to be held at Santa Cruz October 21-24.

Interest in the discussions centered chiefly around proposed legislation creating a system of taxation that will transfer from real estate some of the burden real estate is carrying in the development of revenues for state, city and county governments.

Resolutions were adopted by the board complimenting Herbert N. Alleman, president of the Santa Ana Realty board; W. F. Croddy, secretary; F. C. Pope, regional vice president; Leon Lauderbach, chairman of committee on arrangements; the board of directors and entertainment committee, the chamber of commerce and St. Ann's inn, for the success and pleasure of the quarterly meeting. The resolutions also carried regrets of the board at confinement of Carl Mock to the hospital as a result of an operation fr appendicitis. Mock has been a very active member of the state board for a number of years.

Is $1000 Worth Saving on Your Loan?

IF refinancing your present real estate loan will give you a more convenient and economical type of financing, you want to know it.

Because: (1) they are fully paid by monthly instalments of as little as $10.24, and in some cases $8.99, per $1000; (2) may run for 12 or even 15 years without renewal, and (3) cannot be called providing the terms of the loan are complied with.

And perhaps you can save as much by refinancing as the property owner we tell you of here:

He was paying off his original loan of $7000 over 145 months by monthly payments of $11 per $1000, or a total of $77 per month. Analysis showed that his interest rate was 8.4%.

By refinancing on our 7% basis he secured the same size loan, running for the same term, yet his monthly payments was only $10.24 per $1000, or a total of $71.68. Thus he is saving $5.32 interest each month, or $771.40 over the life of his loan.

By placing this $5.32 each month with us, in accordance with our usual 6% provisions, he will accumulate his saving to approximately $1000 by the time his loan is paid.

Call or send for our new booklet, "Charting Your Course to Lower Cost Loans." It will quickly show you your possible saving by refinancing your residential or income property loan on our 7% basis.

We are making long term loans of from 65% to 75% of the sound market value of residential and income property meeting our qualifications in or near to cities served by our offices. Borrowers need not carry savings balances with us.

PLEADS GUILTY TO INTOXICATION COUNT

Harold Sutherland, 34, of La Habra, pleaded guilty this morning in the La Habra city court of being intoxicated on the night of July 12 an dwith the choice of 100 days in jail or $100 fine, he paid the fine. Sutherland was represented by Tom McFadden, of Anaheim, while R. M. Reed, city attorney, and H. H. Lyon, of Fullerton, represented the city of La Habra.

On Thursday, Harold and Donald Sutherland will go on trial for assault and battery against an officer before Judge A. C. Sarley of La Habra. The case arose out of an asserted wild party on July 12, when E. N. Brown, traffic officer, attempted to take the two men home. They were intoxicated and beat Brown up, it is said. At the preliminary hearing they were released on $650 bail.

The brothers were to go on trial this morni gnforsodirl ETAOIN this morning for disorderly conduct but the case was settled out of court.

Mrs. Fred J. Boling was hostess to a number of neighbors and friends one day this week, the occasion honoring Mrs. Elmer Weaver with a shower. Many lovely gifts were presented the honoree.

SOVIET CURBS SALE OF JAZZ IN ITS STORES

MOSCOW, July 28.—(UP)—Soviet opposition to jazz music apparently has been greatly intensified in the last few months. The Communist regime is in no mood to trifle with such abominations as syncopated rhythms.

The publication of sheet music of jazz dances has been entirely discontinued by the music departments of the state publishing houses.

At the same time the manufacture of jazz dance records has been stopped by the state phonograph establishments.

Although always under a cloud of official disfavor, these items nevertheless previously were provided in small quantities. As there are no copyright safeguards for American music, a good deal of the sheet music and the phonograph records was a frank reproduction of American songs.

The import duties on notes or records of foreign manufacture are literally prohibitive. With local production cut off, jazz may indeed become extinct here after a while. Certainly the latest songs will be unable to crash the Soviet gates and whatever jazz survives the official campaign of extermination will be of an early vintage. "Hallelujah" is still being played here as a late American innovation.

With the greater influx of tourists, however, a concession has been made in this direction in the hotels. A jazz band functions in a new over-decorated restaurant in the Savoy hotel here. The government is said to have spent 75,000 rubles for beautification of this restaurant. Its appointments include a small fountain where large fish cavort despite the fish shortage. Each of its four rooms is gotten up in a different style—gold room, silver room, etc.—but all are equally garish, especially when contrasted with the poor mission-style furniture.

For some reason the majority of the foreigners have failed to respond to the thick grandeur of the Savoy establishment, which is filled instead with real Muscovites. They sit for hours staring at the gold and silver and purple embellishments and are properly shocked by the size of the bill when they are ready to settle accounts.

There is no lack of summer amusements for the populace. In addition to the huge Park and Rest and Culture, there are several smaller parks in the heart of the city, each equipped with theatres, cinema shows, vaudeville houses and refreshment places. The Moscow River is crowded with rowboats which can be rented for a moderate sum. The workers' clubs and a number of special sport clubs provide tennis fields, swimming and other facilities for exercise.

TALBERT

TALBERT, July 28.—The Woman's Home missionary society of the Talbert and Greenville churches met for an afternoon with Mrs. Fred Wells in Santa Ana and a surprise miscellaneous shower was given Mrs. Turner whose birthday anniversary was Saturday. Many gifts were received by the honoree who was also presented a lovely large birthday cake by Mrs. Anna Helm, president of the society. On Thursday the society met and tacked a comforter for the parsonage.

The Rev. and Mrs. T. P. Turner are entertaining as their guests, the Rev. Turner's sister, Mrs. Brazleton, and her two daughters, the Misses Fay and Cue Brazleton of Dallas, Texas. Mrs. Brazleton is director of the girl's dormitory of the Southern Methodist university of Dallas, while the Misses Brazleton are both teachers of Spanihs.

Thursday Mrs. Brazleton and two daughters accompanied Mrs. Crowson, Mrs. Audrey Turner and brother, Joe Hutts, on a motor trip to San Diego and the Turner family and their guests with relatives from San Bernardino, Redlands, Newport Beach and Los Angeles enjoyed a reunion one day in the home of Judge Gilson in Los Angeles.

PIONEER TELLS OF EARLY DAYS IN CALIFORNIA

The local parlors of the Native Sons of the Golden West and Native Daughters of the Golden West were hosts to 100 persons at a barbecue dinner served at Hewes park yesterday at 1 p. m.

Following a sumptuous feast of barbecued beef and pork, Spanish beans, corn, coffee and watermelon, prepared and served by committees representing the two organizations, an impromptu program was arranged that developed into one of the most entertaining the parlors ever had at an out door meeting.

State Head Present

The occasion was graced by the presence of John Newell, of Los Angeles, state president of the Native Sons and by the "grand old man of Santiago canyon," Judge J. E. Plasants.

Requested by the state president to recite to the assembly some of his early day experiences in California, Judge Pleasants sat upon the platform at the park and recounted happenings of 80 years ago, demonstrating the remarkable memory he has. He told how he came across the plains in May, 1849, in a train comprising 32 wagons drawn by oxen and with 120 persons in the train group, five of them women.

Judge Pleasants, who is 91, was but 10 years old when he came to California. His father and older brother were with him. Their first mining operations were on Feather river at Bidwell Bar, where the three panned for gold a short time, meeting with success in gathering flakes of gold from the gravel and sand of the stream. None of the members of the family ever had had experience in mining and they did the work in a crude way as compared with methods that were later developed for recovery of the rich mineral.

Land at $1.25 An Acre

The pioneer related how later his father started out to investigate lands in the vicinity of Sacramento, and how his father purchaed from the government for $1.25 an acre 1500 acres of rich land in what is the valley being named after his father.

It was in 1856 that Judge Pleasants came south to Los Angeles—and he was sent south to attend a school conducted in Los Angeles by Judge Wolfskill. Wolfskill at the time was the owner of 11 leagues of land in what is now Orange county, the holdings embracing what is now the Irvine ranch.

In 1861 the owner arranged with Judge Pleasants to come down here and look after his big holdings, and the pioneer established his first home at what is now Irivne park. Later in 1866, Wolfskill sold his land to James Irvine, father of the present owner, and Pleasants acquired property further up the canyon, the Madame Modjeska place being a portion of his first holdings. Judge Pleasants bought and sold various pieces of land in the canyon in the meantime, and for 69 years has lived continuously in the vicinity of Irvine park.

Tells of Purposes

Newell made a short talk on the aims and purposes of the order he heads, and recited some of the accomplishments of the lodge in preserving historic land marks, in the erection of monuments and in maintenance of a home for homeless children. He said that since institution of the latter some 10 years ago, 4015 children had been placed in good homes.

Asserting that the 6,000,000 laborers reported to be unemployed in the United States were largely Americans, with foreigners occupying positions that the Americans should have, Newell said that the Native Sons of the Golden West would continue to work for exclusion of other foreigners as it had for the exclusion of Japanese.

Among others introduced from the platform were Willard Smith, Z. B. West, J. M. Backs, W. C. Jerome, Ray Adkinson, J. C. Lamb and Earl Abbey.

Signs With Name Of City Suggested By Chief Rogers

"What town is this?"

That is the question being asked Santa Ana police officers at Fourth and Main streets, at Seventeenth and Main streets and other places in the city almost every day, according to L. C. Rogers, chief of police.

Rogers thinks it would be a good idea if the city could find some way to finance the erection of a number of signboards or other manner of advertising the city's name on the streets leading into town.

Rogers said that several of his officers had reported to him that they were asked the question almost every day by tourists.

Police Stop Fight, Jail 3 Motorists

Three men, who stopped their automobile on the new Santa Ana boulevard last night to stage a battle among themselves, were arrested by Santa Ana police officers and are being held in the county jail.

A. H. Quesnel, 32, Los Angeles salesman; George Maloney and Thomas Maloney, also of Los Angeles, were the three arrested.

Officers Perry, Wolford, Flower and Murrilla soon put an end to the skirmish. They reported they did not find out what the trouble was about.

YACHTING NEWS

BY STUART H. LUCAS

The third race in the July series for Stars was sailed in a good sailing breeze Saturday afternoon over the Balboa outside course, and Tempe IV added another victory to her already impressive string of firsts.

The wind was from the northwest and steadily freshened until on the second lap the spray was flying and the canvas showed wet on the lower quarter.

The Plumbs and the Merrills got into this race and while their lack of tuning up was apparent, their continued presence will make the going more difficult for the leaders as they round their craft into racing form.

No. 474 got the break of a wonderfully close start, but lost out on the first windward leg and never regained their position.

The course was dead to windward and return, twice around and the ability to beat was of more importance than in races where the slides predominate.

Bartholmae took a long leg out to sea on the first leg and found enough extra wind to overcome the additional drift, and made the first mark two seconds ahead of Hubbard, who gave a great exhibition of pinching on the last leg of the beat, and saved making stays twice, thus gaining about four boat lengths, but Barthomae headed him and tacked around the mark, taking the weather position for the run home. It required quick work and both boats were handled perfectly at this point. Bartholmae increased his lead on the run slightly, but lost the additional gain on his jibe before the home mark was reached, and completed the first round two seconds ahead of Hubbard, and then sailed on to the bay, leaving the race, having carried away a spreader. Had he continued on he would probably have lost his mast in the increasing breeze. Webster, who at one time was leading on the first boat, lost out on a long shore tack and was 38 seconds behind Hubbard at the first mark. On the second round he closed the gap to 18 seconds, but could not quite catch the flying Hubbard. On the second windward leg, Keith on coming about to get from under the lee of Merriman, did not take into consideration the additional length of the boom on the old rig, and tipped the end with his headstay, carrying away his headstays. These were soon repaired but having fouled the Tempe I, Keith also headed home. At the first mark the picture presented as the boats approcahed and rounded was one that will never be forgotten by those who saw it. Boats approaching from both directions, it was necessary for some to tack to round, and with the numerous overlaps that existed, the necessary maneuvering was an exhibition of seamanship that is seldom seen in such large doses. Five boats rounded inside of 10 seconds, and another group of five in 17 seconds. Four boats also finished inside of 18 seconds. Start 2:40 p. m.

The bay sloop handicap was sailed last Thursday and Walton Hubbard, the winning star boat skipper of the local fleet, found himself all wet in the handling of the smaller craft. He was so wet in fact that he took the better part of an hour on a sand bank in the middle of the channel drying his sails and baling out his boat after taking a graceful flop into the drink when his craft upset during the race. Walt was well up in the lead when he took his customary look over the side, searching for seaweed. He must have forgotten that the usual 900 pounds of iron was not on the bottom of the boat.

When next seen, our popular skipper and his crew were swimming lustily, with the boat's painter in their teeth, towing the immersed craft to shallow water. Walt's well known gameness was evidenced, however, by the fact that he finished the race and placed for the future events. First place was won by Miss Gene Sherman in the "Blunt Arrow," second, by Miss June White ni the "Winged Arrow" and third by Andy Wilson in the "A.B.C." The next race will be sailed next Thursday. All of Hubbards friends are pulling for him to do better then.

Starboat Race Sunday

The wind was northwest and about the same velocity as on Saturday. The course was the little triangle, twice around, with the first leg out to sea. The start was at 1:35, and the time of sailing the race was two hours, three minutes and 34 seconds. The six meter boats which started at 2 p. m. required two hours, one minute and 39 seconds over the same course. This comparison shows the stars with the new rig to be very fast in this weather.

Hubbard broke over the line a second before Webster, but the Tom Robin had the better position as she was to windward, but Tommy got bothered on the first beat and finished the first round in fifth place, which he held to the finish. Bartholmae reversed his campaign of Saturday, and came off on the port tack, as soon as he could clear the ruck, and finished the first round in fourth place, which he improved on the second lap to second after a jockeying finish with Dan Murphy, whom he beat by one second. Keith gained a position on the second round and is in third place for the series, having been headed by Bartholmae by two points for the show position up to date.

The final elimination race will be sailed next Sunday, and unless Hubbard gets dismasted or stubs his toe some other way, he is looked upon as a sure possessor of another gold star, and will represent Newport harbor at Chesapeake bay next fall. Bartholmae, Webster, Keith and Lyons all have a good chance for second money and the battle will be hard and furious there next Sunday. Had it not been for an unintentional and unfortunate foul, Dan Murphy would have been roosting on second right now waiting for the gun for one of the hottest place battles we are likely to see.

JAMES TREW DIES IN SAN DIEGO HOME

James Trew, former resident of Santa Ana, passed away Saturday at his home, 2169 Brandt street, San Diego, at the age of 71 years. He had been sick since February. Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m., tomorrow, at Bonham brothers' undertaking parlors in San Diego.

Mr. Trew is survived by his widow and three daughters, two of them being Mrs. May Canfield, of Bakersfield, and Mrs. Jess Warburton, of San Diego. James Trew and his family were identified with Santa Ana for many years, coming here some 40 years ago, originally. Mr. Trew engaged in a number of business enterprises during the period of his residence here, and following his return to Santa Ana from Seattle some years ago became a real estate broker and negotiated many important deals here during the recent "boom." He was at one time part owner of the building on the northwest corner of Sixth and Main streets.

He moved to San Diego three years ago, following an exchange of his residence property at 843 Birch stret to J. G. Welch for residence property at San Diego.

Police News

Three Mexicans were arrested last night by Santa Ana police officers on drunk charges. They later made bail of $25 each for their appearance in police court today. The men were M. Flores, 25, of 915 East Walnut street; Antonio Baldorino, 30, of 1214 1-2 East Third street, and O. V. Cervantez, 44, of 714 Walnut street. Officers Perry and Lentz arrested the trio.

L. A. Ferguson, charged with being drunk, was arrested by W. A. Swain of the Santa Ana police Saturday night, on a drunk charge.

CYPRESS

CYPRESS, July 28.—C. E. Greenleaf of De Vose, Calif., has moved into the F. L. Harbin property on Harding street. The Harbin family moved into Anaheim. Harbin exchanged his property with Greenleaf for 80 acres of land at the foothills of San Bernardino mountains.

Mrs. Dan Green and daughters, Wilda and Donaldo, Babe Pierson and Mrs. Arlene Foster spent Tuesday at Anaheim Landing.

Mrs. R. B. Anderson and five daughters spent Thursday at Newport Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Shaw of Harding street are rejoicing over the birth of their first baby, a nine-pound boy, born Monday morning. He will be named William D.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Middleton and son, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Walls and son, Glen, and A. Moon spent Friday at Anaheim Landing.

GINGHAM

GINGHAM BLUE [WAXED WRAPPER]

SURELY it deserves a test—the statement we have so frequently made—that WEBER'S BREAD is worthy of its new BLUE GINGHAM dress. The freshness, the goodness and the purity are typified by this dear old gingham pattern. All of these sterling qualities are there in abundance—in the loaf. And in addition, fragrance and flavor as distinctive as the wrapper itself.

WEBER'S BREAD "AS YOU LIKE IT"

You can buy Weber's Bread in the White or the Whole Wheat loaves, either sliced or unsliced. Weber's White Bread is wrapped in the attractive gingham blue, and Weber's Whole Wheat in appetizing gingham brown. The word "sliced" appears prominently on the wrappers of the sliced loaves.

Inspiring Addresses Heard In Orange Churches

COMMITTEES IN CITY CHURCHES GIVE REPORTS

ORANGE, July 28.—Reports of the committee appointed to plan the fall leadership campaign training school which will be held by Orange churches the next fall are being received daily at the church. The school will be held the last three weeks in October and the first three weeks in November. A vote is being taken as to whether the school will be held on Mondays, Tuesdays or Thursdays.

The committees were appointed by R. C. Patton and the committee in charge of the campaign includes the Rev. Franklin Minck of the First Christian church, Charles A. Robinson of the First Methodist church and Mrs. F. M. Gullick of the First Presbyterian church.

Select Subjects

A number of subjects are being selected from the course and those not chosen this year will be studied at the spring leadership school which helps to prepare church and Sunday school leaders for their duties.

Courses will be made up from the following list of subjects which are required: "A Study of the Pupil," "The Old Testament," "The New Testatment," "The Message and Program of the Christian Religion," "The Teaching Work of the Church," "A Study of Cradle Roll Children," "Cradle Roll Materials and Methods," "Cradle Roll Administration," "A Study of the Beginner Child," "Beginners Materials and Methods," "Beginners Administration," "A Study of the Primary Child," "Primary Administration," "Junior Administration," "Intermediate Administration," "High School Department Administration," "Young People's Department Administration."

Elective subjects include: "Life of Christ," "Studies in the Prophets," "Missionary Materials and Methods," "Training in Worship," "Christian Education in the Family," "How the New Testament Grew," "Beginners Worship," "Primary Worship," "Junior Worship," "Church School Administration."

Install Heads Of Young People Groups

ORANGE, July 28.—The newly elected officers of the high school and young people's departments were installed at the morning church service of the Christian church yesterday. The Rev. Franklin H. Minck, the pastor, was in charge of the service.

Those installed as officers of the Young People's department were: Randall Bivens, president; Loraine Ingle, first vice president; Jack Rossier, second vice president; Leota Ingle, secretary, and Charles Spotts, secretary. Those installed as officers of the high school department were: Dorene Simpson, president; Donald Todd, first vice president and chairman of the Boost and Bring committee; Louise Hilyard, second vice president and chairman of the Good Times committee; Erene White, third vice president and chairman of the Christian Helpers' committee; Dorothy Finley, fourth vice president and chairman of the Sunday Surprise committee; Mary Lou Alloway, secretary, and James Simpson, treasurer.

The officers will hold their positions for one year. There was a very good attendance at the morning service.

SELECT WOMAN FOR METHODIST RELIGION POST

ORANGE, July 28.—Miss Esther Terry of Concord, N. H., was chosen as director of religious education and assistant to the pastor at the meeting of the official board of the First Methodist church yesterday morning. Miss Terry's election was recommended by both the financial and the religious education committee of the church.

Miss Terry is a graduate of the Boston University and School of Religion and is at the present time the director of religious education in the First Congregational church of Concord, N. H. She will have the supervision of the religious educational program of the church and will outline the aims and objectives of religious education and will plan courses of study to further the work.

The new chosen worker will help secure and instruct teachers and it is expected that she will give a great deal of her time in directing religious pageantry.

The securing of a religious educational director has been under consideration by members of the official board for some time and it is said the action taken yesterday is felt to be an advanced step in religious education. Miss Terry is interested in athletics and is an enthusiastic horsewoman and swimmer and is especially fond of hiking.

It is expected that under her direction a number of outstanding pageants will be given during the present year. Miss Terry's people are living in Pasadena.

No More Piles

HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, is guaranteed to banish any form of Pile misery. It gives quick action even in old, stubborn cases. HEM-ROID succeeds because it heals and strengthens the affected parts and removes blood congestion in the lower bowel—the cause of piles. Only an internal medicine can do this, that's why salves and cutting fail. Schramm-Johnson and druggists everywhere sell HEM-ROID with guarantee that it cost you nothing if it doesn't end all Pile agony.—Adv.

Mid-week Union Service Planned In Anaheim Park

ORANGE, July 28.—Members of the First Presbyterian church of this city are planning to attend the union mid-week service of Presbyterian churches of the county which will be held at the Anaheim city park near the Palm street entrance Wednesday evening.

A pot-luck dinner is to be held at 6:15 p. m. and the services are to follow. Each family will bring a covered dish, sandwiches and table service.

Two outstanding speakers will appear on the program, Dr. Hilldrith Caldwell, a missionary from India, and Dr. Murdock McLeod of San Francisco, secretary of men's work in the Presbyterian churches on the Pacific coast.

The Rev. O. Scott McFarland of the First Presbyterian church of Santa Ana is the general chairman of the event.

REV. L. MCAFEE GIVES TALK TO PRESBYTERIANS

ORANGE, July 28.—"The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me," words spoken by the prophet, Isaiah in the 61st chapter of Isaiah, was the theme of the sermon delivered by the Rev. Lapsley McAfee, D. D., of Berkeley, at the morning service at the Presbyterian church. It has been the custom, on synod Sunday, when the synod assembles in Southern California for the ministers from northern California fill the pulpits in the south. The Rev. Mr. McAfee is not only the pastor of the church at Berkeley with a congregation of 2000, but is also an outstanding leader of the young people of the Christian Endeavor, and has spoken on the program of nearly every Christian Endeavor convention.

"Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty," found in Second Corinthians 3:17 was the text for the sermon Sunday morning.

The speaker said in part:

"Every one needs lordship in life; every one is following a master purpose or a master person. There are people who want liberty and liberty is the master of their lives. The proper lord is the Holy Spirit. 'Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.' Where you are well mastered you are free, freedom is liberty. You are free from bondage that binds you down. What is your besetting sin? I don't know your besetting sin—but you are held in bondage by it.

"Where God's Holy Spirit is dominate He guarantees freedom from bondage. That is liberty in the fullest and truest sense. Some people believe there is freedom for other people but not for them but 'Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom.'

"In your inner life, the life not expressed in conduct, the thoughts and passions, the thing that is entirely secret to you, the subconscious life is expressed in the things you instinctively do. You can be dominated by God's Holy Spirit therein.

"The fruit of the Spirit is just one piece of fruit with nine characteristics. Do our faces express love, joy and peace? Are we long-suffering, kind and good? Have we faith, meekness and temperance? Our facial expressions come from the domination of God's Spirit, if we allow His Spirit to be our master. God's Spirit can change the expression of our faces. If we live by the Spirit let us walk by the Spirit. It is the privilege of every Christian to be filled with the Holy Spirit. We may be dominated by the Holy Spirit, and the experience may be yours for 'Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty'."

MIDWAY CITY

MIDWAY CITY, July 28.—The public card party given by the Midway City Woman's club Friday evening entertained at eight tables of cards, both "500" and bridge being played. Mrs. A. A. Snow, Mrs. V. Everett Hall, Mrs. Chester Campbell, Mrs. J. L. Beaver and Mrs. W. H. Taylor, the last substituting for Mrs. S. A. Miller, were hostesses of the evening and served a light luncheon of macaroni salad, wafers and coffee at the close of the evening. The next public card party will be held the evening of August 8, this to be under the supervision of the Chamber of commerce. All proceeds from card parties go toward liquidating the debt on the community building.

Mrs. S. E. Miller has been ill at her home as a result of a painful operation necessary for the extraction of a wisdom tooth. Mrs. J. L. Esser has also been ill as the result of a like operation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Beaver entertained as overnight guests, Mrs. Beaver's parents of Imperial Valley, who remained two days before leaving for a motor trip to Redding.

Mrs. J. P. Peterson, daughter, Miss Adeline Peterson, and son, Grant Peterson, and Walter Zerrol motored to Long Beach Friday where they spent a pleasant day on the beach. Miss Adeline Peterson had just returned from Barber City where she spent two days as the house guest of a friend, Miss Ruth Goble.

DR. W. TIPPLE GIVES SERMON AT VILLA PARK

VILLA PARK, July 28.—At the Villa Park Community Church, on Sunday morning, the pastor, Dr. Walter M. Tipple, preached, his theme being, "Alone." The text—"He was there alone," Matt. 14:23.

His sermon was in part as follows:

Jesus lived a lonely life. There were depths to His being, which no man could fathom. In every crucial experience He went down into the valley of decision alone. After the feeding of the five thousands, He went into the mountain to pray—"there alone." In the trying hours of temptation, there was no friend by His side. In the garden when He agonized before God, His trusted friends were faithful, "not one hour." When the way of the cross loomed up, His disciples left Him. On the cross—"My God, my God. Why hast Thou forsaken me?

To Live Is to Be Alone

The experience of Jesus accentutes the common lot of us all. Who has not felt himself alone? Just to live is to be alone. In varying degrees each person, just because he is the person he is, is doomed to live and die alone.

Men have become competitors striving to dominate each other by making the most of themselves. Gone their individual way achieving here and there character of great strength. The individual has been left with his destiny solely in his own hands and for multitudes life is a lonely affair.

Intimate Friendship Difficult

How difficult, to achieve intimate friendship. How hard to have oneself understood. To get across to others just what we think and feel. The thought expressed by Bradford in his Life and I, "The desire for spiritual contact and the affection founded on that desire is one of the great charms of life." Emerson says, "We descend to meet." We may go further and say, We descend but we do not meet. There is the perpetual striving with the perpetual lack of achievement. We have so vastly much to say, and cannot say it. To achieve vital touch with our fellows is indeed difficult. There are crowds about us but we have no significant contacts. We are driven to the very outposts of loneliness, where it seems that God Himself has forgotten us. The song of the Ancient Mariner wakes an echo in many a heart:

O wedding guest! This soul has been
Alone on a wide, wide sea;
So lonely 'twas that God Himself
Scarce seemed there to be.

"This community of need and interdependence is not a dream" says Dr. Wieman, "it is not a hope; it is an actual fact, however undiscerned by the institutionalized mind. In the hour of his forsakenness the prophet can sink into the folds of this great fellowship and be comforted."

Unfailing Escape

The unfailing escape—COMPANIONSHIP WITH GOD?—lies the way to the ultimate and unfailing escape from Life's loneliness. When in the actualities of daily living; when the possibilities of human fellowship have been exhausted; when we find ourselves driven into the very extremities of loneliness; when we hold to life by the thinniest thread of hope there is a Presence near, if we yield ourselves to it, which proves to be, "Love that will not let me go." That which cannot be shared with an individual, can be shared with God.

Alone With God

Even Christ Jesus' terrible moment on the cross—"Why hast Thou forsaken me," could not really dispel His deep and abiding sense of the presence of God. "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit." It is this experience of being alone with God, that proves life's supreme source of strength. Some one has said, "A man is strongest when he stands most alone." Invariably the apostles of human good and the heralds of human freedom have traveled a rough and lonely road.

If we, too, find ourselves upon some lonely cross—if wielding the sword of truth, we are left to battle single-handed. If standing for conviction, we get no support. If breasting life's circumstances, there is no one by our side. If we are driven back upon ourselves, we are driven back upon God. We will find when we are most alone, we are strongest.

Unexplained

Something we cannot explain: Something that convinces a man when he is alone that he is not alone. Something that in the dark and tragic hour when utter loneliness settles like night: Something that in such an hour enables him in spite of it all to say as Jesus said, "Father." This is a something which is absolutely indispensable to man.

Shaw's "Joan of Arc"—facing the stake, "Yes, I am alone on earth. I have always been alone. Do not think that you can frighten me by telling me that I am aolne. France is alone, and God is alone; and what is my loneliness before the loneliness of my country and my God? I see now that the loneliness of God is His strength: what would He be if He listened to your jealous little counsels? Well, my loneliness shall be my strength, too; it is better to be alone with God. His friendship will not fail me, nor His counsel, nor His love. In His strength I will dare, and dare and dare until I die."

Turned History

"The story of Jesus of Nazareth," says Jean Paul Richter, "concerns one who being the mightiest among the lowly and the lowliest among the mighty, has, with His pierced hands turned the stream of history out of its course and lifted the gates of empire off their hinges."

"Though we crucified Him upon a stick," says Bernard Shaw, "yet He managed to get hold of the right end of it, and today we cannot escape the feeling that the only hope of ever solving the problems of the world, is by applying to them the spirit in which He lived and the teachings He taught."

MISSIONARY IS CHURCH TALKER AT EL MODENA

EL MODENA, July 28.—An impressive service was held yesterday in the El Modena Friends church in charge of Mrs. Dorothy Cammack, who is on a furlough from missionary work in Honduras, Central America. After more than twenty years of active service in the Friends' mission field, Mrs. Cammack is able to relate many thrilling experiences, some of which have a pleasant angle and some which are sad.

El Modena was the home of Mrs. Cammack during her girlhood days, and in her address the missionary stated that she became a Christian in this little Friends church many years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Cammack, daughter, Miss Lenora Cammack, and son, William Cammack, pioneered in this mission field, Mr. Cammack having laid down his life there after twenty years of faithful service, it was said.

Lenora and William Cammack are attending the Missionary Training school at Huntington Park and will return to Central America with their mother when her furlough is ended.

Mrs. Cammack presented two graduates of the Huntington Park Training school for Christian workers, Miss Dorothea Juanita Taylor and Miss Dorothy Elizabeth Stone, both of whom will sail from Wilmington Thursday morning on the S. S. City of Panama, for Honduras where they will be engaged in mission work for at least five years before returning to their homes in this state.

A solo by Miss Stone was especially enjoyed and she was accompanied by Mrs. Douglas Marshburn at the piano. Miss Taylor, a very close friend of Miss Irma Moody, "El Modena's own missionary," will work from the same station with Miss Moody, in La Esperanza, while Miss Stone will be stationed in Tegucigalpa. Both these young women who are giving their life, home, relatives and friends to answer the call which they feel has been given them, but they are more than willing to go into a strange land among strange people with a strange language to do this wonderful work of the Lord, the speaker said.

REDUCE TAX LEVY ON SANITARY BONDS

GARDEN GROVE, July 28.—The trustees of the Garden Grove sanitary district at the last regular meeting reduced the tax levy five cents, making the present levy 18 cents on each $100 assessed valuation in this district, instead of 23.

Of this levy all except 10 cents goes to take care of the district's bonds and interest.

The Garden Grove sanitary district at the present time has a substantial balance on hand to take care of shrinkage due to delinquent taxes, etc., and for use in case of an emergency, according to Charles E. Stevens, secretary.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, July 28.—Mrs. Winifred Morris entertained as her guests for two days her sister, Mrs. Nellie Harrod and a friend, Mrs. H. L. Rivers of Long Beach. The visitors attended Rebekah installation with Mrs. Morris and the follwoing day a theater matinee was enjoyed by the three at Anaheim.

A. A. Baker has been quite ill at his home but is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells McCoy, daughter, Miss Helen McCoy and Miss Lillian Arnett, left Saturday morning, motoring to the McCoy mountain cabin at Cedar Pines Lodge, to remain over several days.

Harry Anderson celebrated a birthday anniversary Saturday, and in observance of the event, Mrs. Anderson served a dinner with ice cream and birthday cake in the evening.

MAKE REPAIRS ON EL MODENA SCHOOL

EL MODENA, July 28.—An attractive improvement in the El Modena school buildings and grounds are being made during the summer vacation. The increase in the enrollment of the Mexican school has necessitated another class room, for the Lincoln building which is nearly completed. The walls and woodwork have been brightened and renewed by the use of paint and varnish.

New shrubbery and lawns have been planted and the grounds are being kept in first class condition during the warm months. New sand piles and playground equipments will be put in before school opens in the fall.

RELIGION HEAD OF U. C. L. A. TALKS AT MEET

ORANGE, July 28.—The religious work carried on at the state university in Los Angeles was told by Thomas S. Clair Evans, executive secretary of the University of Religious conference, U. C. L. A. at the union service held in the Christian church Sunday evening. This is the fourth of the union services held by the members of the Christian, Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist churches during the summer months.

The Catholic students together with the Jewish students and the Protestants unite in religious services at U. C. L. A., the speaker said.

Brooklyn Surprise Team of Majors

BY JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(I.N.S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 28.—Here it is, getting along toward August, and the amazing Brooklyn Robins haven't "cracked" yet. A club that finished a dismal sixth last season, they are still galloping out in front of the pack in the National league pennant race and breezing along like a team of destiny.

Brooklyn's ball club has the pennant complex and they will be hard to beat out of the flag. They have shown themselves able to lick every team in the league with the exception of the Chicago Cubs and they are not convinced yet that they can't "take" the boys from the pineapple belt. They go so far as saying they fear the New York Giants more than they do the Cubs in the race for the pennant, and they have been able to trim McGraw's nifty aggregation with heartening regularity.

The spectacular success of the Robins can be largely attributed to four factors:

1. Glenn Wright's return to the regular lineup.
2. The catching of Lopez, one of the "finds" of the year.
3. A combination of heavy hitting and good pitching.
4. Able handling of the team by Manager Wilbert Robinson.

Wright's return to the infield was the outstanding factor that started the Robins off on the right foot early in the season. Last year this famous shortstop couldn't throw a ball across the infield because of a lame arm and had to sit on the bench all season.

This spring at Bradenton, Fla., he told the writer he would be "in there" this year, and he was—or rather, is. Few believed that Wright could nurse his arm back in shape. But he did, and now he is throwing the ball around the diamond with the same rifle-like speed that made him famous.

Lopez's catching has been a revelation. It has been so good that a receiver as capable as Picinich has been crowded into the background and Hank Deberry, the third Brooklyn catcher, only works when Vance is pitching. Lopez and Wright are the "spark plugs" of the Robins, imparting the fire and dash that was entirely lacking last year.

The hitting and pitching of the Robins is all that could be desired and certainy good enough for any club with pennant aspirations. Frederick, Herman, Bissonette and Wright comprise a "murderer's row' 'powerful enough to make life miserable for the best flingers in the league. And with Lopez, Finn, Gilbert and Bressler in the lineup there isn't a soft spot from top to bottom.

July 30 Set For Opening Of Olympics

NEW YORK, July 28.—The 10th Olympic Games to be held at Los Angeles in the summer of 1932, will open Saturday, July 30, and continue until Sunday, August 14.

The third Olympic Winter Games will take place at Lake Placid, New York, between Thursday, February 4 and Saturday, February 13.

These date were set at the congress of the International Olympic committee held at Berlin, May 25 to 30, and attended by representatives of 45 nations, but just announced today.

The following is the program of events to be contested at the games of the 10th Olympaid: Track and field, gymnatics, boxing, wrestling, fencing, swimming, rowing, equestrian, road cycling weight-lifting, yachting, shooting, polo, water polo, and field hockey.

STRIBLING AND PHIL SCOTT IN BOUT TONIGHT

LONDON, July 28.—Another claimant to the world's heavyweight boxing championship will be developed tonight when Young Stribling of Georgia and Phil Scott of England meet in a 10-round heavyweight bout at Wimbledon stadium.

Jeff Dickson, promoter of the bout, was billing the attraction as "for the world's heavyweight championship," and the winner may get recognition from at least the British board of control, which has failed to recognize Max Schmeling's claims.

Stribling is a favorite, but there is little betting on the outcome although Lloyd's has offered odds of 2 and 2½ to 1 that the Georgian will win.

No provisions have been made to prevent the bout from ending in a foul. The last time Stribling appeared here he lost to Primo Carnera on a foul. Scott has either won on a foul or claimed foul in his last hilf dozen bouts.

TOUCHING THE HIGH SPOTS

Aviation isn't the only air-minded business in the world, as these two lumberjacks will tell you. They do most of their work at altitudes upwards of 100 feet. At the left is Ed Serger, 120 feet up on a giant Douglas fir tree which he has just topped. When the top falls away, Ed gets a violent shaking as the tree vibrates to its very roots. To the right is a squirrel's-eye view of Phillip Grabinski, champion high climber, pausing for a rest while descending a tall tree which he has just "limbed" in preparation for the high climbing and tree topping contests at the Longview, Wash., Rolleo.

Currys Play Kennedys In Golf Finals

Rex Kennedy and son, Donald, will play B. V. and Elmer Curry this week for the 1930 fathers-and-sons' golf championship of the Santa Ana Country play as a result of semi-final contests which put them in the last round.

Week-end sweepstakes results:

Medal plays: Class A—Dr. C. E. Saulsberry, 75-10-65; G. A. Parker, 82-14-68; William Rohrbacker, 83-14-69; J. L. Ainsworth, 81-12-69. Class B—Dr. W. A. Flood, 83-16-67; E. Robins, 87-18-69; J. W. Beach, C. B. McKinney, 90-90-20-70.

Match play: Class A—Van Pomeroy, one down; Van Pomeroy and Ed Holmes, two down; Z. B. West jr., R. A. Graves and M. B. Lacy, three down. Class B—M. G. Harvey, one down; W. E. Watkins, two down; Dr. John Ball and E. Robins, three down.

DALEY, HUNTER IN LINEUP FOR PEPPER TUSSLE

Returning to their orchard after a week of travel that saw their two-game lead in the National Night league sliced to one, Herb Salveson's Santa Ana Stars meet the Garden Grove Peppers for the last time this season in the Bowl tomorrow.

The homesters will be on the road again Friday, however, for they are scheduled to invade the seaside park at Huntington Beach and give the veteran owl southpaw, Howard Morning, one more crack at them.

Garden Grove's inability to muster a full team for the Olive foray Friday night has not been fully explained but there must have been a good reason for its forfeit to the Packers. Never a team of "resigners," Garden Grove in the past always has played out its schedule whether a contender or a tailender, and Louie Aubuchon is expected to bring his outfit here 100 per cent. Next to Olive no second division outfit in night baseball has been so tough for Santa Ana as Garden Grove.

Morrill On Hospital List

Earl Morrill, pitching ace of the Peppers who has looked like the best young heaver in the league at times this summer, is on the hospital list and may not be able to pitch again this year, according to reports received here today. Morrill is said to have smashed several fingers when they were caught in a press, and while the digits are on his left hand the injuries may be severe enough to keep him out of a uniform.

Joe Cornelius is in line for both local pitching assignments this week and the two infielders who were out of the Anaheim debacle Friday will be ready to go, too. Cornelius undoubtedly works better when he gets a lot of work. He is a big-shouldered fellow of the type who can stand plenty of pitching. The week's layoff left him wild and erratic against Anaheim, in contrast to his usual sureness and fine control, although Cornelius, his catcher, "Eeny" Wilcox and most of the regulars claim it was the umpiring that kept Cornelius in so much hot water. Almost to a man, the Stars say that the guessing of "Shorty" Smith behind the bat and of Art Nunn on the bases was the worst they have seen this season.

Leavitt Daley, the Stars' great second baseman who was out of the game with an infected knee, is considerably improved and will be back in the lineup with his dangerous war club.

Hunter To Play Third

Bill Hunter, called away by the serious illness of his mother in Riverside, also will be on deck. Salveson plans to employ him at third base against Garden Grove.

Long Beach, one of the Stars' many pursuers, will shoulder the greatest attention from fans and players this week. The Acorns meet the hated Anaheim Valencias at Long Beach tomorrow, La Habra at La Habra Friday. If the Acorns win either or both these games they will do Santa Ana a valuable service indeed. Joe Ochoa will face the Long

COLLEGE STADIUMS ENLARGED FOR COMING GRID CAMPAIGN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—The privilege of yelling one's self hoarse—and paying well for that privilege—is one that football fans indulge in yearly, about the time the last robin flits southward—and, business depression or not, the football stadiums expect another standing room only year on the Pacific Coast.

With that expectation in view, many of the coast colleges are making plans to have their stadiums enlarged, in order to accommodate the increasingly large crowds of rabid fans which now tax their present bowls to capacity.

Jack Mackenzie, graduate manager of the University of California, has announced that more than 5000 temporary seats are to be erected in the Berkeley bowl. They are to be installed shortly after the commencement of the fall terms. This will enable approximately 80,000 fans to witness California's big home games, namely, the St. Mary's-California and the Stanford-California games.

Plans are also under way at Stanford University to increase the seating capacity of its stadium. This will be accomplished by excavating the present stadium and lowering the level of the field to increase the number of rows. This move would eliminate the track, but the officials are contemplating building a new track and field stadium.

There is one disadvantage to this problem. The lowering of the field would tend to increase the heat that is generated within the enclosed bowl. Nothing is so discouraging to a northern team, coming from cooler localities, than to be confronted with a warm, sultry day in the Stanford stadium in which to battle for gridiron laurels. The heat saps their strength and does not enable them to play the game of which they are capable.

Attendance at the games in the north has never been as large as in California. But the attendance is bound to increase with the new brand of football these two teams are expected to display.

In Southern California, prospects for the coming season do not seem to indicate the stadiums will be exactly empty this fall. The Los Angeles Coliseum has been enlarged to handle 10,000 more fans.

UNDEFEATED TEAMS IN ACTION TONIGHT

Two undefeated Santa Ana City league baseball teams will go into action in the Bowl tonight—but not against each other.

Opening the third week of play in the new inter-mural loop, Peek's market meets the Dennis Printers at 6:45. The Richfield Oilers go against the Orange County Builders' exchange at 8:15. The Peeks and the Richfields have won two straight.

Other games this week follow: Wednesday—Courthouse vs. Eastern Oil, 6:45 p. m.; American Legion vs. Excelsior Creamery, 8:15.

Thursday—Pacific Telephone company vs. Auto Club of Orange County, 6:45 p. m.; Dennis Printers. vs. Orange County Builders' exchange, 8:15 p. m. (playoff game).

Griffiths, Heeney Tangle Tomorrow

NEW YORK, July 28.—(INS)—"Tuffy" Griffiths, Sioux City, Iowa, heavyweight, and Tom Heeney, New Zealander, wound up training today in prepraation for their ten-round battle tomorrow night at Queensboro arena. Griffiths was a slight favorite in the betting.

PASADENA BOY, 17, WINS FROM HUNTER

NEW YORK, July 28.—A new tennis star—Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena, Calif., has made his appearance in the east and today held the metropolitan grass courts singles championship and a brilliant victory over America's second ranking player.

Only 17 and competing on grass courts for the first time, Vines demonstrated clearly that he is a Davis cup timber by dropping two sets to Francis T. Hunter of New Rochelle, N. Y., No. 2 in the national rankings, and then winning the next three to take the final match, 1-6, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1.

MORENO MEETS JESS GABUCCO HERE THURSDAY

Fighting for the third time, Tony Moreno of Placentia and Jess Gazucco of Los Angeles will headline Thursday night's boxing show at the Orange County Athletic club, Promotor-Matchmaker H. T. Foust announced here today.

The active little bantams will travel a distance of eight rounds this week. The poundage is 125.

Moreno and Gabucco collided a week ago last Thursday at Delhi, Moreno receiving from Referee Steve Nyland a decision which was questioned by most of the fans. Moreno set the pace but the Filipino's counterpunching entitled him to no worse than a draw in the opinion of my customers.

The same boys met the first time in a preliminary at Hollywood about a year ago. Gabucco knocked out the blond Placentia idol in one round.

Promoter Foust is using another Placentian, Urban Hernandez, in the semi-windup again and promises him an early main event if he gets over Battling Ortego impressively. Ortego comes with a good reputation. They will step six rounds.

Mickey Koshell and "Spike" Harvey, welterweights, head the preliminaries in another six-rounder. They have both fought at Delhi before, Harvey, a collegian, making his debut last week against Mickey Thomas Koshell stopped Reggie Placentia two weeks ago.

Andy de la Parra, Santa Ana, and Emil Jure, San Bernardino, bantams, will open the show in a four-rounder.

This will be "Ladies Night" again. Those of the fair sex who are accompanied by escorts with tickets for the reserved section will be admitted free.

La Barba In Chi For Mastro Bout

CHICAGO, July 28.—Fidel La Barba, California featherweight, arrived here today for his match against Earl Mastro, Chicago, August 7. Mastro was quoted an 8 to 5 favorite today, but the odds were expected to turn toward the Californian before the bout.

GEORGE TO MEET PLESTINA

FRENCH RETAIN HISTORIC CUP: LOTT IS SOLACE

By JOHN WHITE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, July 28.—For the third successive year, France has withstood successfully the challenge of the United States for the historic Davis cup.

Winning both singles matches Sunday, Jean Borothra and Henri Cochet made the final count 4 to 1 in favor of France, admist scenes of tremendous enthusiasm in Roland Garros stadium.

Borothra defeated George Lott of Chicago after one of the hardest fought battles in Davis cup history, 5-7, 6-3, 2-6, 6-2, 8-6. Cochet won easily over William T. Tilden, II, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1, 7-5.

The defeat was sound and convincing as any ever administered to the United States in a Davis cup challenge round since 1911, when the Austalians were invincible in the tennis world.

But while the Americans were beaten, they found some solace in the great fight put up by Lott in the deciding singles match yesterday, a match packed with as thrilling, desperately contested tennic as the big stadium at Auteuil ever has known.

The Chicago boy, facing a man whom he never had been able to defeat, with the knowledge that possession of the Davis cup depended on him, carried the battle to Borothra with dash and brilliance.

Lott took the first set, using a beautiful change of pace, passing Borotra when the latter tried to storm the net, and pitching short lobbs over the Basque's head. Lott led again, two sets to one, when they pased for a rest, but after a brief interval, Borotra opened up with an irresistible attack. The Basque ran out the fourth set and led in the fifth, 4-2, before the Chicagoan rallied.

Taking the seventh game on his own service, Lott broke Borotra's to square matters at four all. Then each broke service for the next five games. The American fought desperately in the final game, but Borotra had greater strength in reserve and won.

The ovation given the Basque was unparalleled. Cushions filled the air and the crowd cheered itself hoarse.

The concluding singles match between Tilden and Cochet was dull by comparison. With no incentive to win, since Borotra's victory over Lott had clinched the Davis cup for France, "Big Bill" played a good but unspirited tennis game, his erratic temperament entirely under control.

Cochet played easily, a smile on his lips, handling the Philadelphian with what seemed to be insolent ease after losing the first set.

RANDOLPH BELL DEFEATS CRESS STRAIGHT SETS

Playing with the same sureness and acuracy that has long made him an outstanding figure on the city's courts, Randolph Bell won first place in the Class A division of the Santa Ana playground tennis tournament by swamping Johnny Cress, former city champion, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-3, on the high school cements yesterday.

Playoffs between the three leading Class A and Class B players will begin immediately, Merle Ewell, tournament director, announced today.

Bell will meet Earl Waycott in the final 'A" match tomorrow night. Waycott made his way into the first three by defeating Eddie West 8-6, 5-7, 6-4.

The premier "B" entries are Gorham Smith, Dr. Kenneth Coulson and R. D. Crowl.

Bell will play Dr. Coulson Thursday and Cress faces Crowl Friday. Playoff finals are scheduled for next Sunday with Bell and Cress likely to face each other again.

Carnera Plea For Time Up to U. S.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The application of Primo Carnera, Italian heavyweight for a six months extension of stay in the United States, was scheduled to be taken up today by the immigration board of view of the labor department at a public hearing.

HOOKS and SLIDES

by William Braucher

WAY BACK WHEN

There was a time when hitters who could compile a batting average of .300 for the season were scarce. Pitchers were the heroes of the day. Usually they held the upper hand and seldom were they removed from the mound because of being unable to snuff out batting rallies.

Hitters in the .300 class were supermen, fellows with unusually keen eyes and supple wrists. They connected for home runs occasionally, but never more than 10 or a dozen times in one season.

But times have changed and, knowing that they have, I looked at recent batting averages compiled for the National and American leagues to note the difference. I am not surprised that an old-time pitcher recently advised young men who contemplated big league careers to discard the pitching idea and go in for jobs that entail little, if nothing more than batting the ball to far corners of the undersized major league parks.

NOW LOOK AT THEM

National League averages at hand tell me that 70 athletes are rapping the ball at a .300 or better clip. American league statistics reveal that 41 players top the .300 mark. That makes a total of 111 ball players, doesn't it, who are .300 hitters. And there are only 400 players in the major leagues.

In 1908, the National league had four players whose batting averages were in the charmed circle. The 1930 averages recently showed eight men with batting averages of better than .400. The Pirates led the world in hitting in 1908, compiling a team average of .254. Nine of the 16 teams today have club batting averages of more than .300. The 2.54 record of Pittsburgh 22 years ago just about matches the mark of the St. Louis Browns today.

* * *

WORSHIP THE SLUGGERS

Heroes of the game back in 1908 were Donovan, Plank, Joss, Brown, Bender, Mathewson—all of them pitchers. Of course, a few cheers were distributed to the Wagners, the Cobbs, the Magees and one or two others. Donovan won 25 games, lost four and was not taken out of a game; Plank won 24, lost 16 and was not relieved; Joss won 27 and lost 11 and was taken out only once. Even the eccentric Rube Waddell, playboy of the big leagues at that time, pitched 32 games and was taken out only seven times. And his was the poorest example of the year.

Name our big shots today. They are Ruth, Gehrig, Simmons, Fox, Wilson, Stephenson, Klein, O'Doul, Ott, Berger and a long list of other men—all sluggers. We send up a cheer now and then for Lefty Grove, Earnshaw, Ferrell, Walberg, Root, Luque, Hubbell and a few more.

Rube Walberg pitched a three-hit game for the Mackmen the other day, blanking the hard-hitting Yankees. Previous to that game, though, Walberg had been shelled from the box in seven consecutive starts.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

'Tis a sad, sad story, but unless Len Shires, brother of Art (The Great) Shires, peps up in his play, he may not last in a semi-pro league. . . . The young man was ballyhooed to the skies last spring in San Antone, where he was given a trial by the Giants. . . . He went to Bridgeport in the Eastern league when the season opened. . . . Now he's back in Texas, playing with—guess who? . . . Goose Creek. . . . Yes, sir, Len's playing for Goose Creek in the South Coast league, a semi-pro loop of the bushiest type. . . . The October (1899) issue of the Weekly Carom, a billiard publication, said: "Little Willie Hoppe is booked for a series of exhibitions at Maurice Daly's billiard exhibition room. . . . According to Daly, the lad has made runs of 200 straight rail and upward of 80 balkline. . . . Orville Oddie, who saw the youngster disporting with the ivories, pronounces him a wonder for his years and a coming champion." . . . Seven years later, Little Willie won the world's balkline championship by defeating Maurice Vignaux in Paris. . . .And he held it oh so many times after that.

SHOOTING with SHUTE

by DENNY SHUTE

If every golfer would take the same care in making his tee shot that he does in making a short iron shot to the green, I believe he would find himself in a lot less trouble off the tee.

By this I mean that a great many players just stand up on the tee and slam into the ball, thinking only of distance and not much about direction.

From the tee, there is usually such a large space out on the fairway where there is no trouble that the ordinary player does not select carefully a certain position for his second shot.

Reward Is Twofold

I think it is vastly important for two reasons. In the first place, if you are aiming at a certain position, the shot is apt to be at least somewhere near that position. In that way you frequently can avoid bunkers and down hill lies.

Secondly, the second shot to the green can be made much easier if the first shot lands in a carefully selected spot. Most greens have approaches where there are no traps to lure a misplaced iron shot. Why not arrange the first shot so the second has an opportunity to make use of such things?

Psychological Aid

Second shots should be played, whenever possible, from places where the ball has a chance to get as close to the cup as possible without forcing one to shoot over a trap.

Think it over. Also think over the psychological part of it, the danger a trap suggests, which ruins so many shots before the swing has even been taken.

FIRE CHIEF IN CAMPAIGN FOR FEWER BLAZES

FULLERTON, July 28.—A warning against throwing of lighted cigarettes or other burning material from automobiles on the highways or roads was issued today by Fire Chief Roy Davis of Fullerton in response to an appeal from state officials to fire chiefs of California to join in a general campaign to enforce the measure. Davis issued the following statement:

"Our climatic conditions in California, together with the acts of careless motorists who scatter thoughtlessly fire brands along our highways and roads, into dry grass, or shrubbery, or into our ripened grain fields, cause immense fire losses annually, and it is imperative that steps be taken to prevent this needless waste.

"The motor vehicle act, if properly enforced, will afford ample protection, and it has been decided to set aside one day for a concentrated effort of bringing this matter to the public attention. It is the object of such a campaign to instill in the public mind a greater caution in regard to the disposal of burning cigarets and cigar butts in their homes, offices, workshops, as well as when riding in automobiles."

Saturday, August 2, has been set for the drive. In addition to the calling of public attention with a plea for co-operation, state traffic officers and police generally will assist. Uniform firemen are to be placed along the road at many points wherever possible as an added reminder and to assist in the enforcement of the law.

SAN CLEMENTE WILL ENTERTAIN MASONS

SAN CLEMENTE, July 28.—Plans have been completed for the Monte Vista lodge No. 655, F. & A. M. picnic and outing at San Clemente on Sunday, August 3. E. W. Hecker, worshipful master of the Long Beach lodge in a communication to Hal Warner, secretary of the Spanish Village chamber of commerce says that 300 members of the lodge will be in the Spanish Village for the outing.

In the morning many will play golf. At 1 p. m. a ball game is scheduled on the grass diamond, which will be followed by field events on the same field. Swimming is scheduled from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. Food will be served on the barbecue tables located on the beach near the Beach club from 6 to 7 p. m. The rest of the evening is scheduled for entertainment around a beach fire.

W. C. T. U. Hears Talk On School

BUENA PARK, July 28.—A talk on Americanization applied especially to the foreign born by Mrs. Georgina Boyd, teacher at the Lindbergh grammar school was the main feature of the program of the local W. C. T. U. at the meeting held Friday afternoon in the primary room of the Congregational church. She traced the development of Americanization work through the various grades of schools, stating that the desire for naturalization and worthwhile citizenship varies greatly with the races. "Americanization through health centers is another method of reaching the foreigner," the speaker said. She also stated that some work toward Americanization had been done through religious teachings.

Mrs. Estella Harper of Garden Grove, county president, was a visitor. She gave a short review of her impressions of the recent state W. C. T. U. conference held at the Pacific Palisades. She especially stressed the talks given by Dr. John Mitchell, noted health authority.

An all day picnic to be held by the Orange county W. C. T. U. next Tuesday at Irvine park was announced. The affair will be a pot-luck dinner with a review of candidates for Orange county offices as the special feature.

Mrs. H. H. Haggarty presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. C. H. Brown. It was announced that the official song books had been sent to Mrs. Mott Keisler for the national headquarters building fund in India. Mrs. C. E. Crumrine announced that a new member had been secured, making a total of 39.

Group repetition of the Mizpah prayer closed the meeting.

Judge Landell Has Gay Musical Party

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 28.—The beautiful new home of Judge and Mrs. John Landell was the scene of a gay party last week, the following guests being present: George Stinson, famous "singing cop," Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Adams, of Santa Ana; Mesdames H. C. and William Hargreaves, Miss Gretchen Rienke, Dr. Nichols and Mrs. Zealer, all of Oceanside, and Miss Margaret Errecarte, of Capistrano. The "singing cop" gave several numbers, and Mrs. Zealer, who is a composer and accompanist, played a number of selections.

START GLADIOLA FARM

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 28.—A new industry will be introduced in this locality in the near future. Carl Hankey, successful orange grower of the district, last week leased to Hosmer and Reid, nurserymen of Dana Point, four acres of land which will be planted to gladiolus. The introduction of the bulb industry in this section will mean another source of agricultural returns.

CITY LIBRARY SHOWS GROWTH IN CIRCULATION

ANAHEIM, July 28.—Showing the steady growth of the Anaheim city library, the annual report to the officials of the city council discloses a large increase in circulation over last year, it was learned from Miss E. Kate Rea, secretary-treasurer.

The figures are as follows, with the numbers in parenthesis denoting 1928-29: Adult fiction, 61,750 (58,405); adult non-fiction, 10,774 (10,405); adult magazines, 7,831 (8,177); adult reference, 886 (832); adult pictures, 204 (74), making a total of 77,585 for 1928-29 and 81,445 for 1929-30.

In the juvenile department, 37,799 books were circulated in 1928-29 and 39,576 in 1929-30, making a grand total of 115,384 for 1929-30 and 121,081 for the past year. New books added were 1499 and 1959 while books mended and repaired brings the total valumes up to 13,440 for last year as against 14,924 for 1929-30. New card holders show an increase of 39. A total increase of patrons numbers 867.

The report also showed total receipts for the year to be $28,057.06 with expenditures amounting to $19,350.52, leaving a balance on June 30 of $8,725.34.

HOLD FUNERAL FOR MRS. BUCK TUESDAY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 28.—Mrs. Helen L. Buck, one of the most prominent business and club women of the city, died at 6 o'clock Saturday morning at the Santa Ana Valley hospital from typhoid fever. She had been ill about two weeks and the case took a malignant form ten days ago when she was removed to the hospital.

Her position as secretary of the National Building and Loan company, which position she has held for two years, brought her in touch with the general public and she was widely known and universally esteemed. She was active in the P. E. O. and other organizations and was a member of the Chamber of Commerce and a constant attendant at the weekly meetings and luncheons.

Mrs. Buck was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey S. Young, her father being vice president and manager of the First State bank here. She leaves besids her parents, a daughter, Gretchen, nine years old, residing at the family home 717 Main street, where her sister, Mrs. Ruth Tucker, who is visiting here from Iowa, is also seriously ill with typhoid fever, but is improving.

Mrs. Buck was born in Iowa, April 25, 1894 and was 36 years old. The funeral will be held from the A. M. Dixon chapel at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Harvey Engham, pastor of the Meethodist church and a resident of Iowa and old family friend of the Young family, who is visiting in Glendale, will conduct the funeral and will be assisted by Rev. John M. Barnhart, pastor of the M. E. church here, of which Mrs. Buck was an active member and constant attendant.

Build Buena Park Midget Golf Links

BUENA PARK, July 28.—A miniature golf course is being constructed in Buena Park on Grand avenue, near Seventh street. John Siddell is in charge of the construction.

The course is to contain many new and novel features. For the present nine holes will be built to be followed immediately by the addition of the other nine holes. The greens will be heavy felt with jute base to provide a green similar to that used on standard golf courses.

The course, which will be known as the Teenie-Weenie Golf course, will open about August 1. The completed project will occupy a space 75 by 120 feet.

FILL IN TRACT

MIDWAY CITY, July 28.—The five acres which constitute the immediate corner of Bolsa and Huntington Beach boulevards in Midway City and which belongs to Walter J. Hill, who is erecting the new hotel directly on the south border of this tract, is to be filled in to a depth of 18 inches to bring the lots up above a level with the adjoining boulevards. The dirt for the purpose is all on the ground and the fill will be made soon according to present plans. The frame work of the new stucco hotel building is going up rapidly.

Reach Settlement on Mexican Debt

NEW YORK, July 28.—(UP)—An agreement for settlement of the $500,000,000 Mexican national debt has been signed, according to an announcement by Thomas W. Lamont, chairman of the international committee of bankers on Mexico, and Mo Tes De Oca, Mexican finance minister.

The agreement provides for refunding of the principal with a reduction in the amounts due for accrued arrears of interest. It will go to the bondholders and the Mexican government for ratification.

Payment of approximately $368,000,000 is provided for as follows: Direct external debt, $267,000,000; unpaid interest $89,000,000; arrears of principal $112,000,000.

BOLSA

BOLSA, July 28.—Construction work on the mile of Wright road, between Bolsa boulevard and Seventeenth Street boulevard, is now under way in preparation for making of the road from Seventeenth to Talbert boulevards a macadam road.

Lafe Ross, who recently sold his home in Bolsa has rented a house at Sunnyside Gardens and the family will move to it within the week. It is understood that Ross contemplates building at Sunnyside Gardens later.

Mrs. Glade Fuller, who has been a patient at the Santa Ana Valley hospital since a recent major operation, returned to her home, Friday. Mrs. Fuller is now convalescing very satisfactorily.

PASTOR TO SPEAK ON "LIFTED EYES"

PLACENTIA, July 28.—Don Milligan, assistant pastor of Calvary church, Placentia, spoke at the morning service, hi subject being "Lifted Eyes."

Sunday evening the Rev. Charles M. Kilgore, a Los Angeles evangelist, preached on the subject "Saved or Lost," and also talked at the 6:30 meeting of the Christian Endeavor society.

All young people's meetings were held as usual Sunday morning, with Sunday school at 9:45 and teachers' meeting at 9:30.

It is announced by Don Milligan that the Junior Fishermen's club will open Friday, August 1, for the first meeting of the new club year. They are to meet at 7:30 as usual, in the club rooms at Calvary church.

Hold Funeral Of Miss Rose Smith

Especially affecting were the rites held in the Christian Missionary Alliance church last week for Miss Rose Smith, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith, formerly of Santa Ana but now of Banning.

Miss Smith suffered a break in health in 1928 during her senior year at Polytechnic high school and her parents immediately left with her for Banning, where the change in climate seemed to benefit her at once. She had seemingly recovered her health in the intervening two years and the family was anticipating an early return to this city. But in the recent hot weather, Miss Smith took a sudden relapse and although the family took her at once to Forest Home, her death followed within 24 hours.

Build Maintenance Station At Beach

CAPISTRANO BEACH, July 28.—A crew of men is at work on the triangular plot of land owned by the state, at the intersection of the two highways, where they go under the Sante Fe bridge here, building a road maintenance station. Plans call for the erection of a modern six-room bungalow, for the use of the road foreman, Hugh Henry; several other smaller dwellings for road workers; several garages; an oil storage tank and outbuildings to house road machinery and equipment.

All buildings will be of stucco, with tile roofs, and in Spanish style architecture. A high fence will inclose the property. As this road district is very large much time and money will be saved by the state in building a division maintenance station. The district extends from Tustin to the Orange county line, and from three-Arches to the location of the maintenance station.

Miss Helen Buck, H. B. Resident, Dies

Miss Helen Buck, 36, prominent Huntington Beach woman, died on the Santa Ana Valley hospital at 7 a. m. Saturday after an illness which had kept her in the hospital for the past several weeks.

Miss Buck was assistant secretary of the Huntington Beach Building and Loan association and was well known in business and social circles in the beach city. Her father is vice president and general manager of the First State bank in Huntington Beach.

'MARKS OF TRUE CHRISTIAN' IS PASTOR'S TOPIC

Pointing out that an upright life, humility and brotherly love are important characteristics of the true Christian, the Rev. Moffett Rhodes, pastor of the Spurgeon Memorial Southern Methodist church, preached yesterday morning on the subject, "Marks of a True Christian," from the text, "Ye shall know them by their fruits," Matthew, 7:16.

"The Christian religion is not a profession, it is a life," the pastor told his congregation. "It is a life to be lived upon the highest plane of individual conduct. The best evidences, therefore, of a Christian life cannot be said to be in the realm of doctrine or dogma, nor in the profession of the creed or the faith, but just where Jesus himself put it, namely in the conduct of the life. By their fruits we shall know them. It is in this that we shall find those marks which characterize the highest type of Christian living.

"First, let us place as the supreme mark of a true Christian, an upright life. A religion that is not ethical and that is not on a higher ethical plane than the world, is an impotent and unattractive religion. Many wise men of today are thinking that the chief trouble with the church is 'the ethical obtuseness of religious people.' Too often we profess holiness and speak wickedly; we claim righteousness and deal selfishly with our neighbor; we cry, 'Lord, Lord,' and do not the things which He commands us. Truly there is needed a revival of ethical religion in church life today; a revival that will lift us above the ways and words of the world and actually make a difference in the manner of life between the professing Christian and the unprofessing world. The church can never attract except as it lifts, and it can never lift save as its life and character are pure and above the ways of the world. The real purpose of holiness is to make men holy.

"The next mark of a true Christian is humility. How difficult it is for us to profess the religion of Jesus and practice the virtue of humility. Our very profession has the tone and color of intolerance and bigotry. How foreign from the spirit of Jesus. This grace of humility grows naturally in the soil of consciousness of sin. Our own imperfections as seen in the light of the life of Jesus bring the sense of humility to the heart. Here there is no boastfulness of goodness, no claim to superior righteousness; only devoted service, generous thinking, kindly speaking, quiet, joyful living which the world comes to recognize as true righteousness. There is scarce any virtue which is more difficult of attainment for us today than this same virtue of humility.

"But the life which embodies the true faith will be more than upright and more than humble. These two will be shot through with a third—that of brotherly kindness. A pure heart might be a cold heart, and humility might become an end in itself. The world needs and true religion supplies, the social passion. This was the burden of the Advent song, 'Peace on earth, good will to men,' and it is the need of the world today. Good will cannot be supplied except as it comes warm from the hearts of men. It will go far toward healing the wounds of hate and banishing forever the crime of war.

"The last mark and the crowning glory of the true faith is that it supplies the power and the incentive for its own fulfillment. These things are impossible of attainment with man. But God does supply the power by which men in all ages have attained to these virtues. This makes the true faith practical. It supplies the standard of life, the incentive of good living, and the power of attainment. By this test the true faith is to be identified. These marks are not bewond the reach of any who desire them. They are not theories finely spun, but practical living. Faith and living ever go together. Faith without works is dead, is a self evident truth. By their fruits ye shall know them."

NECESSITY FOR ENTHUSIASM IS TOLD BY PASTOR

The importance of enthusiasm was stressed in the sermon preached by the Rev. H. McElroy Stovall at the Second Baptist church yesterday morning. He pointed out that the need of many circles of modern Christianity was to relearn the fact that enthusiasm and praise is the normal thing in Christian service. He said in part:

"The Christian religion is a religion of enthusiasm. It is not a mere cold logic of righteousness and justice, it is righteousness glorified; it is justice aglow with mercy. To be a Christian is to be like Christ.

"There was enthusiasm over the birth of Jesus. The angels who came to sing the anthem about Jesus to the shepherds were happy angels, filled to overflowing with enthusiastic delight. They could not contain their joy, but shouted aloud their 'Glory to God in the highest!' John the Baptist, the forerunner of Jesus, was a man of great enthusiasm whose magnetic earnestness was so contagious that it drew multitudes out from the city into the wilderness to hear his flaming words.

"Christ himself throughout all His ministry gave to every one who came in contact with Him the impression that He was an earnest, enthusiastic soul. He had the quality, also, of arousing enthusiasm in others, and on the day when he came into Jerusalem to eat the Passover, feast with his disciples his friends gave vent to their loyalty and devotion in shouts of praise, crying out 'Hosannas' and casting their garments and palm branches in the way over which he was to travel.

"I am very sure that many circles of modern Christianity need to relearn this great truth that enthusiasm in Christian service and praise is the normal and not the extraordinary thing. Christianity is robbed of its power to bless and comfort and save in many churches, because it is shorn of the fervor and pathos which rightfully belong to it. A man is ever at his best in hours of enthusiasm and devotion. If we choose a time when we would like to have our personality remembered by those who are dear to us, and whose good opinion we most fondly crave, it would be the time when we are mentally and morally aroused to some high and holy passion for a noble cause. We all have a desire to be remembered at our best, and we are never at our best except when we are enthusiastic.

"Our Christianity is a religion not only of truth and righteousness, but it is full of singing and praise. David's expression of salvation from sin was: "He hath put a new song in my mouth, even praise unto our God." The great oratorios and the famous choruses have all been inspired by the enthusiasm of the Christian faith."

JUST HOW FAST, AL?

WASHINGTON July 28.—Commercial planes of the future will have to be considerably faster to suit Lieut. Alfred J. Williams, speed ace. "If 130 or 150 miles an hour were to be the top speed we could hope for in commercial air transporation, I would suggest that the public cease to waste its time on aviation and that they hereafter look upon it as a hobby," he says.

UNION CHURCH SERVICES OPEN IN SANTA ANA

Union church services in Santa Ana during the summer were inaugurated last night with a vesper service at Birch park at 5 o'clock and an evening worship hour at the First Presbyterian church. The series of union services will continue through August under the auspices of the Santa Ana Ministerial association.

At the vesper service in the park, which attracted a large attendance, the Rev. W. G. Nicholson, of Cambridge, Mass., who is filling the pulpit of the Congregational church during the absence of Rev. Perry F. Schrock, preached on the subject, "The Satisfactions of a Good Life." Congregational singing, under the direction of R. C. Smedley, secretary of the Y.M. C.A., opened the meeting.. Scripture lesson was read by the Rev. Moffett Rhodes, pastor of the Spurgeon Memorial Southern Methodist church, and prayer was offered by the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Phillips Sings

Special music was presented by Maurice Phillips, baritone soloist of the Congregational church choir, who was accompanied by Harry Garstang. He sang "Consider and Hear Me," by Wooler.

"It is one of the sad truths that most good things yield their treasures to only a fraction of the people. This would not be a sad truth if one could feel that the possession of the treasures was possible for all and some just failed to put forth the effort to attain them. But the fact is the treasures of many of the good things in life are as a closed door to much of the population. But this is not so with the treasures and satisfactions of the good life. Here the good is opened to all. It behooves the churches to clearly point out the satisfactions of the good life.

"There is first of all a selfish satisfaction. What a man does, largely comes back to him like a boomerang. 'Judge not that ye be not judged.' What does it mean? Simply, that if you give over your time to the petty criticism of others you will soon find people hurling the same criticisms at you. What is the community's opinion of a gossip? Exactly the gossip's opinion of the community. On the other hand the way the good comes back to a man can well be illustrated by friendship. The old proverbial writer had it right when he said: 'He who would have friends, must show himself friendly.'

Have Satisfaction

"But besides this selfish reason for living the good life, there are other reasons suggested by the text. He shall have the inward satisfaction of knowing that he has done his best in the struggle for goodness. For the good life is not a static life. It is progressive. And one is the recipient of inward satisfaction in proportion to the energy that he puts forth toward the ideal which he holds. Whether he reach his goal or not, the satisfaction is his. It is akin to the satisfaction that the runner has after having taken part in the race, even though he did not win the prize.

"There is also a satisfaction that is akin to that of the teacher. The teacher looks out upon the busy growing lives of those about him, and knows that some are finding the road to truth a little surer and a trifle easier because of him. He often knows when he has been the means of opening up a whole new area of truth to a few minds. No one else may know, but he fully understands, and that is enough. So with the good man. He silently knows that others are being cheered because of his striving. He sees lives open up about him into purer realms of living. No one else may know that he has been the source of strength, but it is enough that he is silently compensated.

Life Precious

"There is a still greater satisfaction. Life in whole aspects presents itself to a man in much the same colors as he presents himself to life. If a man be evil, life appears to him as evil, meaningless, stupid and idiotic. But if a man live the good life, life to him is precious as a great treasure. Listen to Jesus, the prince of all good men when he says, 'The kingdom of heaven, the good life, is like unto treasure hid in a field, the which when a man hath found he hideth, and for joy goes and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.'

At the evening service in the First Presbyterian church, the sermon was presented by the Rev. W. H. McPeak, pastor of the United Presbyterian church. Clifford Johnson was the soloist for this service. A large crowd was in attendance.

'JESUS' TOPIC OF EVANGELIST HERE ON SUNDAY

"Thoughts about Jesus" was the subject of the morning sermon at the Southside Church of Christ yesterday. Evangelist J. W. Saunders, pastor, stressed the importance in this sermon of living for Christ as He lived and died to establish the cause for which He came.

"When we think of Jesus we think of one who was both human and divine," said the evangelist as he began his sermon. "As a man, Jesus was humble. Paul describes Him as one who made Himself of no reputation and taking upon Him the form of a servant was obedient in all things to His Father's will, even unto death. In this particular He is our example. 'God resisteth the proud but giveth grace to the humble.'

"Jesus was a poor man. It is no disgrace to be poor, but it is a disgrace to be poor through our own laziness. Jesus was not poor in this way. We are taught that God chooses the poor of this world, but they are chosen when they are rich in faith. Their acceptance is dependent on their faithfulness, not on their poverty.

"Jesus was a praying man. If He found it necessary to spend so much of His time in prayer, surely we need to pray. Jesus died for the cause He came to establish. Not only did He die for it He lived for it. That is what we must do. Live for Christ, and if necessary die for Him.

"The divinity of Jesus involves His lordship. He is a risen Lord; He is an exalted and glorified Lord; He is a coming Lord. When He comes, He will come for us. Are we ready? 'Blessed is that servant whom his Lord when He cometh shall find watching.'"

RADIO AIR RACES

CHICAGO, July 28.—Radio will again cover the National Aid races when they get started on August 23 here. As in Cleveland last year, both chains will cover the races, and the various events will be fully covered and sent to network links all over the country. Practically every local station is making arrangements to broadcast part of the races, also.

CLASH OF TWO FORCES CITED IN SUNDAY TALK

The clash between two forces which were the greatest in the world at that time—the Roman empire and the kingdom of God, was an illustration used in the sermon, "The Eternal Conflict," which was presented to the congregation at the First Baptist church yesterday morning by the acting pastor, the Rev. R. Fred Chambers.

"A great world crisis occurred when Jesus stood before Pilate," the pastor told those attending the service. "The world's two greatest forces clashed. The Roman empire and the kingdom of God. The one represented war, physical and spiritual human slavery, lust, greed, selfish ambition, material wealth, power, law without mercy; and in this crisis stood mastered by the situation when mastery was assumed. The other represented the hopes of millions who longed for freedom from Roman oppression and freedom from bonds that held men's souls in slavery. It represented all that was righteous, beautiful, uplifting, material poverty for the sake of spiritual enrichment, love's conquest of all men for the sake of freeing them in mind, body and soul; all that offered life at its best. And in this hour of crisis when it was meant to be victim, the kingdom of God, personified in Jesus Christ, proved to be the victor.

"This clash of worlds resounds in the eternal conflict in the soul of man today. The clash of war and turmoil with peace and serenity of soul. Peace can only come through the hearts of men. It is the clash of material wealth with spiritual enrichment. Men may strive to find life in amassing wealth, fame, power, etc., but they can never realize true happiness and life except through spiritual values.

"It is the clash of materialism (seen) and the spiritual (unseen) worlds. Here the scientist, psychologist, business and professional persons in their highest thinking clash. But more and more it resolves itself upon the truth that the spiritual is the only real and eternal. It is the clash between being satisfied with today or aspiration for a greater tomorrow; conservatism or a liberal and progressive attitude based on faith.

"The conflict touches all life and victory, can only come as the spiritual is recognized as real and eternal."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Truth" was the subject of the lesson-sermon Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

One of the Scripture citations included Paul's exhortations to the Romans: "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. And be not conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, presented the following statements: "One's aim, a point beyond faith, should be to find the footsteps of Truth, the way to health and holiness. We should strive to reach the Horeb height where God is revealed; and the corner-stone of all spiritual building is purity."

LEADERSHIP IS DECLARED VITAL IN CLASS TALK

As a preface to the lesson at the Men's Community Bible class service at the Fox West Coast theater yesterday morning, the Rev. Walter S. Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church and class teacher, read from the sermon on the mount which he characterized as being words of guidance through life worthy of being memorized by every man.

The lesson, one of a series of studies of the Old Testament characters, had for its central character, Deborah, the prophetess, who acted as a messenger for God at a time when there were no men who could serve in this capacity.

"The man who lets God work through him moves on to a fuller life of service and satisfaction," the teacher declared. "After the Israelites took over the land of Canaan they had judges to help in their government. These judges got so they did not let God work through them. Conditions became bad and God spoke to Deborah and told her to arouse certain leaders and tribes to combat the foes of the nation.

"The world needs leaders—it must have leaders to go on. You cannot get results without capable leaders. Jesus is the leader of the church, but man came in and tried to usurp and now we have 275 different denominations. They are again beginning to look to Jesus for leadership.

"We need to be very careful in selecting our leadership in America today. In the approaching primaries you should put your hand on the man who will keep his oath of office and who will remember that he is a servant of God as well as a servant of the people. The reason this nation stands where it is today is because of the leadership in the past of Christian men and women.

"If America falls, it will be because her womanhood leads out in impurity instead of purity. The fall of Rome and Greece is due to woman's impurity, and we must guard against such a thing in America and pray for the purity of our women.

"Let us be leaders in righteousness that we may give God the glory."

During the course of the lesson Rev. Buchanan commented on the stand President Hoover has taken on the prohibition problems and declared that some of the senators were acting like eight-year-old boys and needed to be spanked and sent home. He also declared that although he did not agree with many things Bog Shuler does, if there was ever a man whose heart is true, it is Shuler.

Special music arranged for the class yesterday by E. H. Elsener, program director, was furnished by Mrs. Taylor Johnston, of the Santa Ana Conservatory of Music, who sang "The Lord Is My Light" and "Hear Us, O Father." Her numbers were enjoyed by the audience of 134 men.

At the close of the hour, W. B. Martin, class president, recently re-elected for his 14th consecutive term, made a statement in which he said that the class was not in politics, but that it stood for the great principles of life and was interested in choosing men for public office who believed in these things and who would stand squarely on the support of the 18th amendment and moral law.

'LIBERALITY' DISCUSSED BY PASTOR SUNDAY

James H. Sewell, at the Broadway and Walnut street Church of Christ, spoke on "Liberality," yesterday morning, reading as a foundation for his remarks, II Corinthians, 8:1-15. He said in part:

"In this chapter the apostle, Paul, is holding up to the Corinthian Christians, and calling to their attention, the liberality of the poverty-stricken Macedonian brethren: the obsolete expression in the first verse 'we do you to wit,' meaning simply 'we desire you to know' or 'we make known to you,' and the fact he made known to them was that in a great trial of affliction the Grecian brethren had abounded in joy and in liberality.

"To abound in joy in the midst of great afflictions, we must have our minds firmly fixed, not on the things of this life, but on the things of the life to come, in the land where the Lord has prepared joys for those that love and serve Him. If our minds are fixed on heavenly things, rather than on the things of this life, we shall have cause for joy, even in the midst of affliction. It is also easy to abound in liberality, even in the midst of poverty, if we are giving attention to the things of the spirit rather than to things that pertain to the body.

"Paul tells the Corinthian Christians why the Macedonian brethren could abound in joy and in liberality in the midst of great affliction—because they first gave themselves first to God by obeying His will. Unless we first give ourselves to God, we may shower our means with great liberality, but it will not amount to anything in the sight of Heaven. But, having yielded ourselves in obedience to the gospel of God, we must abound also in liberality. Having taken faith and hope and love and the other Christian graces into our lives, we must abound in this other grace—the grace of giving."

REVERENCE FOR WORD OF GOD IS DECLARED NEED

Asserting that the greatest need of America today is reverence for the word of God, the Rev. R. W. Harlow, pastor of the First United Brethren church, preached yesterday on the topic, "Hearing and Doing." The sermon was based on the story of the rebuilding of the walls of Jerusalem and the subsequent rebuilding of the spiritual life of the people.

"About 50,000 of the Israelites had returned from captivity under Zerubbabel, and 7000 under Ezra, and had succeeded in building the temple," he began. "Ezra had tried to establish some reforms, but for some reason he had failed to accomplish very much. The work had been at a stand-still for about a dozen years. Some think he spent that time preparing the book of the law, while others think he made a trip back to Babylon.

"Things at Jerusalem had gotten in a bad condition, the surrounding nations had plundered the city and ill-treated the Jews. Nehemiah learned of the distress of the remnant of his people in Jerusalem and spent four months in prayer for them and the Lord sent him over to Jerusalem to look after their welfare.

"Amidst great opposition he succeeded in rebuilding the walls of Jerusalem in 52 days, for the people had a mind to work. God's work always prospers when His people have a mind to work.

"The walls built, Nehemiah turned his attention to the building of the spiritual life of the people. He issued a call for them to come together. All the people gathered themselves together as one man in the street, for worship. What an army! They were anxious to hear the word read and stood up for six hours, with great reverence, listening to the word of God as Ezra read it to them, from early morn until midday. A great revival was on. The people wept aloud and confessed their sins. One fourth of the day they stood up and read the law, and one-fourth of the day they confessed their sins.

"What this nation needs more than anything else today, is the reverence for the word of God that Israel had. We as a nation must heed its teachings, repent of our national and individual sins as they did and get right with God, or suffer the consequences of a broken law, at the hands of Him who said, 'For it is written, as I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God. So then every one of us shall give an account of himself to God.'"

Friendly Bridge Group Enjoys Mid-Summer Dinner Party

As the summer season draws to a climax for that delightful little group known as the "Fulla Fun" club, members are adding to their list of memorable occasions, with Saturday evening's session at Ketner's cafe when Mr. and Mrs. Philip LaLonde were hosts standing out as one of their most charmingly informal get-togethers.

Dinner was served amidst colorful appointments featuring an abundance of asters in soft tones of lavender and pink. Members were more than ready for the lively games of bridge which followed as the natural course of the evening's diversion. The reward for scoring high in the women's group, a desirable hand-made card table cover, went to Mrs. Ben Bankers, while Mrs. Noble Watson was consoled with an adorable handkerchief. Frank Dane, in upholding honors for the men, was given linen handkerchiefs, while Harry Drown was consoled with a bridge set.

Those present to share the evening's pleasures with the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. LaLonde, were Messrs. and Mesdames Frank Dane, Noble Watson, Thomas Tournat, Homer Neer, Earl Neer, Harry Drown, Jesse Wright, N. A. Walker, William Stanford of Fullerton, Ben Bankers of Orange, and Worth Alexander of Tustin.

Novel Theme Offered By Bridge Party Hostess

The pretty home at 502 East Pine street, abloom with quantities of montbresia in yellow and orange tones, was the scene of a merry and unusual bridge party Saturday afternoon, when Miss Lois Winslow entertained with earthquake bridge. Card tables bore clever tallies, fashioned by the hostess, and portraying famous characters of the comic sheet. At the end of each round of bridge, novelty prizes were presented, such as having to play with gloves on, or wearing amusing dunce caps. Miss Elaine Smith received an attractive prize for holding high score, while Miss Virginia Powell received consolation.

Following cards, refreshments were served at the tables which were spread with comic sheet table linens with napkins to correspond.

Plans Announced for County Executive Board Meet

With the Santa Ana Woman's club as hostess organization, the executive board of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs will hold its quarterly session in this city on Tuesday, August 5, with the Y. W. C. A. rooms on East Sixth street as setting.

Since Mrs. Joseph Thurston of Laguna Beach, president of the county federation, is abroad for the summer, the meeting and its activities will be directed by the vice president, Mrs. E. E. Smith of Anaheim. The session will open at 10:30 a. m. with introduction of new county officers and chairman and various business matters to be brought to the attention of members. Among these will be the discussion of programs for the new club year. The speaker and special music features of the afternoon session will be announced later.

The sessions as well as the midday luncheon, will be open to clubwomen generally, and a large crowd is expected despite the fact that the vacation season has led many clubwomen far afield. Those who wish to make reservations for the luncheon, have been instructed to call Mrs. W. H. Kuhn, president of the hostess club, who may be reached in her home at 602 Stafford street, Santa Ana, or by telephoning to 3384W.

Varied Pleasures Are Shared By Garfield Street Club

Yesterday's meeting of the Garfield Street club, in the home of Mrs. J. J. Thompson was a most delightful one, as several of the members had been away on vacation trips and had interesting bits of news to exchange. Whether the members stitched on dainty pieces of needlework, or darned thread-worn stockings, the hours were quickly whiled away as they discussed timely topics.

An interesting feature was the reading of clippings, some poems, others, news items, contributed by each of those present.

With 4 o'clock came the delicious refreshment course, served on trays. Mrs. Thompson was assisted in her hostess duties by Mrs. R. A. Schostag, of Tustin.

Guests present were Mrs. E. Carson of San Luis Obispo, Mrs. I .W. Bouldin jr., of Riverside, and Mrs. R. A. Shostag, of Tustin. Members present, other than the hostess, Mrs. J. J. Thompson, were Mrs. W. Dietrich, Mrs. David Caldwell, Mrs. G. D. Campbell, Mrs. Frank Calking, Mrs. Fletcher Zornes, Mrs. I. W. Bouldin, Mrs. Harvey Grover, and Mrs. Ida Deck.

Bridal Anniversaries Are Celebrated in Forest Home

Events leading to the permanent resting places of Dan Cupid's arrows were called to mind Saturday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Smith gathered in the hospitable cottage at Forest Home for a week-end observance of various and sundry anniversaries. For within close range of each other were the wedding dates of the three couples and thus provided half of the theme for the delightful dinner party which Mr. and Mrs. Smith presided over Saturday evening, while Mr. Brown's natal day furnished the remainder of the interesting motif.

Two delectable cake confections were features of the menu and were especially dedicated to the celebrations of the week-end.

YOU and your friends

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Hall of this city, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Woodington of Huntington beach have returned from Corvallis, Mont., where they visited with Mr. Hall's father, E. Hall. They stopped at Crater Lake. Points along the Redwood highway were especially interesting to them, as was the Columbia highway on their homeward route.

Mr. and Mrs. G. V .Linsenbard, and daughter, Jean, 415 West First street, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eggert and little daughter, Bonnie Mae, of Los Angeles, have returned from a week's vacation at Arrowhead. During Mrs. Linsenbard's absence, her daughter, Mrs. Howard Cox of Los Angeles, was in charge of the Dolly Dot frock shop.

Mrs. T. W. Oglesby of 2510 Valencia street, together with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Philips of Los Angeles, have just returned from a six weeks' automobile trip to Kentucky. In Shelbyville they visited with Mrs. Oglesby's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Grider Barnett.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stewart and sons, Jimmie and Mark, of 701 Kilson drive, spent the week end in San Bernardino.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Smith of La Hacienda apartments on North Broadway has as week end guests their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. H. Ray Smith of Pasadena. Dr. Smith's friends here will be interested in learning that he has established his offices at 1435 East Colorado street in Pasadena, where he is a chiropractic.

Miss Lois Winslow, 502 East Pine street, is spending a few days in Ontario with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Matthews and son, John Richard, of 2409 North Main street, and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Caldwell of 1315 Louise street, returned yesterday from a ten day trip to Sequoia National park.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mosher of Dodge City, Kan., left Saturday evening for their home, after visiting for seven weeks with Mr. Mosher's brother, Dr. and Mrs. C. N. Mosher, of 833 North Broadway. The guests were very much pleased with California, as this was their third trip to the Sunny Southland.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Garner and small daughter, Dorothy, of 1507 East Fourth street, returned last evening from a ten days' motor trip to Sequoia National park, where they enjoyed a splendid vacation.

George E. Peters, former assistant cashier of the Bank of Italy, and now retired, and Mrs. Peters, of 110 West First street, have returned from an extended motor trip through California, Oregon and Washington, and a boat trip to Alaska.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Martin, and C. Y. Martin, of 810 Minter street, returned last evening from a week's outing at Big Bear Lake, where much enjoyment was derived from trout fishing, with several large catches reported.

Wallace Miller, 118 South Ross street, will leave tomorrow afternoon by way of the Southern Pacific, for Hartshorne, Okla., where he will visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laurel Miller. He plans to be gone about a year, returning to the home of his brother, C. L. Miller, next summer.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Grover on Garfield street, are Mrs. E. Carson, and daughters, Mary and Margaret, of San Luis Obispo.

Karl Richardson and Edward Parker, of 912 Garfield street, have left via Santa Fe for eastern Kansas. They will go by way of Salt Lake City and Denver, Colo.

Mrs. Joe Haupert, 821 Garfield street, is vacationing in Groom City, Texas. She was accompanied on her trip by Miss Louise Britten, of Los Angeles, who is planning to make her home in the southern state.

Miss Laurie Jones, of North Yorba street, Tustin, is reported as improving from a foot injury she received a few days ago.

The Misses Ruth and Ora Cartmell, of 415 West First street, entertained Mrs. J. F. Richards and Mrs. W. A. Swain at bridge last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. DeWolfe, 2014 North Broadway, are vacationing on the Mojave desert.

Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Kingrey, 316 Beverly Place, have as a house guest, their niece, Miss Madeline Sturgeon, of Dodge City, Kansas. She has been in California for about a month, having arrived in this city last evening from San Diego.

Dr. and Mrs. I. W. Bouldin, 802 Garfield street, have as house guests, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Bouldin jr., of Riverside.

Mrs. Ida Deck of Garfield street, has returned to her home following a month spent at Buttonwillow, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mooney, 1521 West Fourth street, have been spending the past three weeks in Ontario, Canada. They plan to remain in Canada three more weeks, before returning home.

M. B. Hendricks, prominent business man, of West Second street, Tustin, will leave tomorrow afternoon on the "Harvard," for a business and pleasure trip to San Francisco. He plans to visit his sister Mrs. George Lester, and family, in Oakland, and will return by boat on Thursday.

Mrs. Walter Wright, and daughters Thelma and Anetta, of 1022 West Sixth street, accompanied by Mrs. James T. Carter, returned Thursday evening from a two days' visit with friends in Santa Monica and Los Angeles.

William Motley, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Motley, left last night for Washington, D. C., to visit with relatives. Before returning, at the end of six weeks, young Motley will visit in North Carolina, Illinois, Missouri and Michigan.

Mrs. Cyrus Herb of Cleveland, O., sister of J. Frank Burke and W. Maxwell Burke, arrived yesterday to visit several weeks with her two brothers and their families.

Miss Cleora Fine returned at the end of the week, from a short visit in Hollywood with her aunt and cousin, Mrs. Olive Lopez and Miss Isabel Lopez. While there she was guest at an enjoyable evening bridge party complimenting Miss Isabel Lopez on her birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Matilda Moesser of 1101 West Fourth street, who has been visiting friends in San Bernardino for several weeks, is now the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dixon in their mountain home at Cedar Pines park.

Mrs. Ella Parker of 715 Bush street is visiting in Los Angeles, the guest of Mrs. Grace Frees and Mrs. Elva Snow.

Friends of Miss Marian Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Young, 422 West Sixth street, are anticipating her return in another two weeks, from the extended southern and eastern trip which she is now enjoying. Miss Young has been in Washington, D. C., for several days, a guest at the Dodge hotel, and from the national capital, was to leave today for Niagara Falls and then Detroit. She left Santa Ana two months ago for Nashville, Tenn., where she visited relatives and friends, going from there to Norfolk, Va., and other points.

Mrs. Mary Galloway of North Broadway, has returned from a delightful trip to Alaska, and is relating many interesting details of her journey which she feels was fully as educational as it was enjoyable.

Mrs. Mary Rowley, 202 East Tenth street, is home from a two months' visit with friends in Chicago, Indiana, Wisconsin and Minnesota. Her return was by way of the Canadian Rockies with a stop in Seattle where she visited the Rev. McLain Davis and family, renewing associations of the days when the Rev. Mr. Davis was pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Santa Ana.

Because of the excessive heat in Pomona where Dr. Mary Wright was planning Saturday to take up her residence with her son, she has decided to remain in Santa Ana for some time. After the first of the month she will be located at 108 Church street where she will be glad to see her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Moore, and daughters, Ruby and Opal, 1205 North Broadway, have returned from a pleasant vacation spent at various delightful places in the Yosemite valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lyon, 2025 North Broadway, were among those spending the week-end at Forest Home.

Guests From Milwaukee Conclude Visit in Douglas Home

The past three weeks have been very delightful ones for Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Douglas and Miss Effie Douglas, 626 North Broadway, who gave their attention to providing varied entertainment for their houses guests, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Moore, and daughter, Jane, and son, Harrison, of La Grange, Ill., and C. Reeder of Milwaukee, Wis.

Numerous intimate little dinners were planned, one of the most charming of which was held in the Laguna Beach home of Miss Alice Parker. The easterners were charmed with "Our Village" and its quaint and artistic offerings. Mrs. E. A. Douglas also entertained in their honor at the famous colony. Picnic luncheons at other beaches delighted the guests, who had the opportunity of meeting friends of their hosts who live in Pasadena and Beverly Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore and their family, and Mr Reeder, made the trip by auto, and started on their return journey, Friday. They were to go by way of Yosemite and Yellowstone parks.

Laguna Art Gallery Is Open to Public On Saturday Nights

Santa Anans who turned their attention backwards for Saturday and Sunday pleasures, were especially interested in the opportunities offered Saturday night at the Laguna Beach Art gallery, whose doors were thrown open to all visitors attracted by the opening of the exhibit of small paintings to be auctioned off to the highest bidders.

Bidding on each individual canvas opened at ten dollars, and this bid may be increased by anyone interested in securing a particular picture, the whole thing to end on Saturday night, August 23. In the meantime the gallery will be open to the public with no admission on each Saturday night of the month with various members of the art colony acting as hosts.

Last Saturday evening, the visitors were greeted by F. W. Cuprien, veteran artist of Our Village, especially noted for his marines, and Miss Julie Raymond, well-known woman member of the association.

Next Saturday night, according to John Hinchman, director of the art gallery, and member of the talented colony of artists, Rose Shattuck and Mrs. A. B. Marshall will greet the visitors. Mr. Shattuck is a well-known artist and Mrs. Marshall is state chairman of art for the P.-T. A. It has been largely through her efforts that the invaluable traveling loan exhibit of Laguna artists' work has been made available to the schools of the county.

Enjoyable Bridge Tea Compliments Summer Visitor

Complimenting Miss Frances Reynolds, charming house guest of Mrs. R. E. McBurney, 825 Garfield street, was one of the end-of-the-week's pleasantest parties, a bridge tea given by Miss Ida Nay in her home on West Sixth street.

Miss Reynolds has just returned from an extended visit in the Hawaiian Islands, and her spirited account of the beauties of the islands, and her varied experiences there, was no small part of the afternoon's enjoyment.

Miss Nay used zinnias from her own garden to add to the attractiveness of the home, their soft yet vivid colorings providing an effective background for the card table arrangement. In the bridge contest, Mrs. Hugh Neighbour scored high and Mrs. Fred Cole, second, each receiving a pretty gift in reward.

Dainty linens, pink roses and slender pink tapers were charming accompaniments to the enjoyable two-course tea menu with which Miss Nay climaxed her afternoon's hospitality.

Merry Group Enjoys Beach Party

Motoring to Laguna Beach, members of the Adult Acting class of the Visel studios, shared a memorable day as one of the events of the past week. The lively young girls reached "Our Village" in time for an exhilarating swim as a prelude to the mid-day luncheon which, needless to say, was all the more enjoyable because of the exercise-sharpened appetites.

The usual beach games and an interval of hiking provided additional entertainment for the group which consisted of Miss Vivian Rogers, Miss Neva Fay Gerdes, Miss Ramona Williams, Miss Emma Williams, Miss Marian Leihy and Holly Lash Visel (Mrs. Nelson Visel).

Camp Life Enjoyed Over Week-end

Seeking a cool retreat where they might enjoy a restful and interesting week-end, a small group of Wrycende Maegdenu club members drove to the Y. W. C. A. Camp Emma Otis Saturday, returning here last evening. Situated in a charming spot near Modjeska's home, the camp formed a most enjoyable setting for the week-end event. Plans for the success of the venture were successfully carried out, and were in charge of Miss Dorothy Dresser.

Farewell Event Given For Departing Pastor

The Rev. Mr. Miller has been here for the past six months, and during that time has formed innumerable friendships, and has been invaluable to the local church. In voicing his farewell to those who were present, he told of many most interesting events which he experienced in China during the six years he was stationed there as a missionary.

Especially lovely was the refreshment course, which featured a large white frosted cake bearing an inscription from the 121st Psalm in pink letters.

Those present to bid their pastor goodbye, were the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lindsey and family of Orange, Mrs. James H. Sims, Mrs. W. Flockton, Mrs. Guy H. Bolyard and daughter, of Tustin, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. George A. LaRue, Mr. and Mrs. Gobergh, and Miss Nellie Thacker and Ray Fellows.

Park Breakfast Given Before Departure of Miss Woodward

Anticipations of a delightful trip to points of interest in New York, followed by a year of study in Columbia university, have made a pleasurable summer for Miss Helen Woodward of 213 Orange avenue, who left yesterday afternoon to begin her eastern journey. As a final farewell party, Mrs. Otis Waldo entertained yesterday morning with an early breakfast in Irvine park.

The attractive setting of the popular picnicking grounds, seemed lovelier than ever, combined with the freshness of the morning air. A bouquet of quaint lavender blossoms centered the prettily appointed table.

Bidden to share in the delightful occasion, with the hosts, Mr. and Miss Goodward, were Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Waldo, and the honor guest, Glenn Twining of Norwalk, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Waldo of Huntington Park, Miss Clara Carmichial of Garden Grove, Miss Maurine Coon, Edward Crothier, and Mrs. Wilbud Woodward.

Miss Woodward has been Orange county nurse for the past few years.

W. C. T. U. Picnic Comes Tomorrow

Plans today were all in readiness for the annual Orange county W. C. T. U. picnic which is to be an all-day affair tomorrow in Irvine park, with picnic dinner at noon and an interesting program arranged for afternoon hours.

All W. C. T. U. workers in the county are asked to make it a point to be present with their families and with well-filled picnic baskets, to enjoy the occasion, which is always one of the outstanding social affairs of the Union years. At 11 a. m. will be an additional feature of the program, a matrons' contest, the winner to receive a silver medal. This will be in charge of Mrs. C. D. Hicks, director of medal contests.

Dinner at 12 o'clock promises to be especially enjoyable, as everyone knows and loves the famous county park and its charms. For the afternoon program, an interesting speaker has been provided in the person of the Rev. J. G. ("Dynamite") Adams who has devoted over a quarter of a century to lecturing for prohibition. Dr. M. Len Hutchins, woman candidate of the Republican and Prohibition parties for the office of secretary of state, will also be on the program. All county candidates for office have been invited to be present, and will be given opportunity to speak.

Anyone wishing transportation to the park should be at the Congregational church bungalow at 10 o'clock, and members with extra seats in their automobiles will call for them.

Playground ....News

Roosevelt Playground

There were nine people at Roosevelt playground that received silvercertificates last week. They were Lenore Costella, Mac Beal, Louise Crawford, Jimmie Waters, Paul Gonzales, William Semnechec, Harris Warren and Kenneth Warren. Each had 250 points.

The elementary team played the elementary team from Lowell. Because so few of their players could come Roosevelt furnished four players. The score was 23 to 9 for Roosevelt.

Lathrop Playground

All the children have acquired the golf bug and learned to play golf on the miniature course built by the boys. In handcraft the girls have been making raffia mats and baskets and they have learned numerous things from soap. On Monday the elementary boys played Franklin in indoor and lost. Two silver certificates were awarded last week, one to Jessie Julean and one to Gerald Stauffer. The greater part of the time has been spent in preparing for the pageant.

Fremont Playground

Fremont won first prize for the best playground golf course. The prize was a picnic. The Excelsior creamery took 45 boys to Irvine park, where they hada wonderful time and lots of ice cream.

Franklin Playground

The playground has had over 50 new members with a big attendance each day.

The boys were successful in winning over Lathrop, 33 to 5, on Monday and the championship still looks good to Franklin.

Chariot racing, Japanese dancing, tumbling and stunts for the pageant have been the work of the week besides keeping up tournament practice in checkers, dominoes, baseball, shuffleboard and croquet.

Mr. Mustol has a fine attendanceat orchestra practice and is getting results.

Mr. Archer and Miss Pithie entertained the playground directors Monday evening after the business meeting.

Franklin has three who will be presented silver certificates Monday at assembly.

Peaches, With or Without the Cream

Early peaches are in the market so, today, I want to suggest ways of using them other than the standard peaches-and-cream style.

First comes a salad, a very superior kind of salad, which serves as salad-dessert, adding zest to jaded hot weather appetites.

Have some ripe peaches and cantaloupe well chilled, but unpeeled. Arrange choice lettuce heart leaves on plates and slice peaches and cantaloupe onto the lettuce. Dress with a thin tart mayonnaise mixed with a little whipped cream, or make a boiled dressing with a pineapple-lemon base mixed with whipped cream.

A quickly made peach dumpling can be had by buttering individual baking cups, slicing peaches into the cups with sugar and butter. Cover with a rich muffin batter slightly sweetened. Bake, turn onto serving plates and serve with plain cream.

A modern version of Floating Island is made this: On thin thin slices of sponge cake arrange sliced ripe peaches. Have ready a boiled custard, quite sweet and very cold. Pour a generous quantity over the cake and peaches and serve at once.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Frozen Plum Pudding

1 small can plumb pudding
1-4 cup cream
1 rounded teaspoon gelatin
1-4 cup cold water or
1-4 cup cooking sherry
1 cup cream whipped stiff
Tiny pinch of salt

This is a marvelous recipe for use in a mechanical refrigerator. It can be frozen in a covered mould (can) buried in ice and rock salt. This way of freezing permits slicing for serving.

• • •

Any good canned plum pudding can be used. Turn it out of the can, break in small pieces and let it soak in the quarter-cup of cream for 15 minutes. Soften the gelatine, using water or cooking sherry, and melt over hot water. Add to the softened plum pudding and let stand till it begins to jelly. Fold into the stiffly whipped cream, add a few grains of salt and put it away to freeze. If the mechanical refrigerator is used, just let it stand in the ice cube pan at this temperature for 10 hours. Do not stir.

This is such a rich dessert, only small portions should be served. The recipe will take care of six, and the calory total per person will be 325. The ingredients in this pudding are the intensive energy making kind.

This week, the leaflet is written for the special benefit of the men who read the Mixing Bowl, some of whom have written me asking me to tell them of things they can cook, and in quantities for one person.

I will admit at the start that I had to have help in getting up this leaflet from a man who does a lot of his own cooking, and if I can interpret recipes, they are good enough for all the women to send in a stamped, self-addressed envelope this week for a free copy.

Just mark it A BACHELOR'S OWN RECIPES.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, July 28. — A surprise shower was given for Mrs. Walter Hudson by two friends, Mrs. Charles LeGrande and Mrs. Manuel Adamson, recently, the guests gathering in the Hudson home for the afternoon. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostesses to the group of friends. Those present were Mrs. Walter Lessig and Mrs. J. Sauers of Garden Grove; Mrs. Ray Burk, Mrs. L. Morshing, Mrs. E. C. Hylton, Mrs. Beatrice Knapp, Mrs. F. Eastwood, Mrs. J. W. Montgomery, Mrs. W. Y. Gabriell, Mrs. J. A. Montgomery, Mrs. Hazle Hurd, Mrs. Richard Arnett, Mrs. James Morgan, Mrs. John Haxton, Mrs. P. A. Lawrence, Mrs. Adamson and Mrs. LeGrande.

Torosa Bridge Players Are Entertained In Chandler Home

Members of a certain little bridge club, all of whom belong to Torosa Rebekah lodge, held an enjoyable session late last week, when they were entertained by Mrs. A. B. Crandler in her home at 406 East Walnut street.

Dahlias in tones of brilliant orange formed an attractive setting for the bridge tables. The hostess herself held high score, while Mrs. John Mitchell held low. Prizes are not awarded at each meeting, instead, scores are kept, and at the conclusion of the season the grand prize awards are made.

Those present, other than the hostess, Mrs. A. B. Chandler, and three guests, Mrs. John Turner, Mrs. Claude Brown and Mrs. Olen Turner, were Mesdames Herbert Allen, Charles Bowers, Allie Cain, William Kesemann, Henry Pankey, Frank Pickel, John Mitchell, Maude Swarthout, and Nellie Young.

Bridge Group Enjoys Hospitality of Mrs. Steele

The past week was a popular one for club luncheons, and one of the pleasantest of these was given by Mrs. Joe Steele in her home at 933 South Main street, Thursday afternoon. The inviting menu was served on the linen covered card tables, centered with yellowpom-pom dahlias which harmonized prettily with the nut cups of yellow and blue. This color scheme was carried out in theafternoon's bridge appointments.

A lovely set of ice tea glasses was awarded Mrs. Paul Carnahan, who held high score, while Mrs. Roy Irvine was consoled with a practical cookie jar. Mrs. John Gould received a box of candy as a special prize.

Those present, other than the hostess, Mrs. Steele, were Mesdames Paul Carnahan, John Gould, Roy Ivins, Fred Cole, Helen Hughett, O. K. Carr, and Cornelius Neuschwanger.

SURPRISED ON BIRTHDAY

CYPRESS, July 28. — A very pleasant surprise was staged on Thursday when relatives called on Mrs. A. Hartman of Hansen road and reminded her of her birthday.

Watermelon, ice cream and cake were served after an evening spent listening to music.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. Remland sr., Mr. and Mrs. C. Remland and son Paul of Lincoln avenue, Harding; Mr. and Mrs. C. Hartman and sons of Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. A. Stach and children Gustav and Selma, Mr. and Mrs. L. Retlich and children Louisa and Henry of Hansen road and Mr. and Mrs. A. Hartman and son Alfred.

Lido Yacht Clubhouse Provides Setting For Gay Party

As romantically lovely as the Mediterranean resort which gave it its name, Lida Isle provided a charming setting Friday night for a happy birthday celebration staged in the yacht clubhouse as a compliment to Miss Patricia Lynch.

The young honoree is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Lynch of 158 South Main street, who took special delight in arranging for the celebration of her eighteenth birthday anniversary. The plans included a delectable supper served in the patio to the accompaniment of yellow and white flowers and table appointments.

Supper was followed by dancing, although there were various other diversions enjoyed by the light-hearted young people, who divided their 'tention between the entertainment offered within the clubhouse, and that provided by the swimming beach of Stillwater bay and the speed boats placed at their disposal.

Those who aided in making the day a memorable one for Miss Patricia, included the Misses Claudine Brayton, Eileen Carroll, Blanche Illingsworth, Lois Anderson, Dorothy Lynch, dele Lynch; Messrs Reynold Benson, Floyd Hubbard, Victor Chatten, Ewing Bellows, Ralph Morris, Wallace Smith, Roy Griggs, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll J. Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Fred McCandless, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCandless jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Claude D. Anderson.

Contract Bridge Group Is Entertained In White Home

Slowly but surely the game of contract bridge is gaining popularity in this city, and Santa Anans who formerly were ardent auction bridge fans, now divert their energies to the pastime they find the more thrilling. Among these converts are members of a little card club which was entertained Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Emrys White at 2115 North Broadway.

Following the prettily appointed luncheon, served at 1 o'clock, came the card session in which Mrs. Mark B. Lacy was successful in holding high score, Mrs. Dexter Ball, second, and Mrs. W. H. DeWolfe, third. Each was awarded an attractive price.

Those present to share the afternoon with their hostess, Mrs. White, were Mesdames B. J. Macmullen, Horace B. Van Dien, H. T. Dunning, F. C. Rowland, W. E. Winslow, Leonard G. Swales, M. D. Borgmeyer, Wade W. Warner, Mark B. Lacy, Dexter Ball, and William H. DeWolfe.

Family Group Returns From Extended Trip

Returning late last week from a most interesting and historial trip throughout the eastern states, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hardy, of 518 East Second street, and their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hardy and children, Richard and Anita Mae, of 1007 West Camille street, report a wonderful time, and an eventful journey. Mrs. E. E. Hardy remained for a more extended visit in MacPherson, Kans.

The first stop was made in Quincy, Ill., where they visited a week with E. E. Hardy's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Harshman; and from there continued on to Perry, Ill., home town and birthplace of E. E. Hardy, where the time was pleasantly spent with old friends, relatives and schoolmates.

In Washinton, D. C., over a week was profitably spent in seeing the various historic places. The Santa Anans met Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the house, and attended several sessions of congress. Robert Lee's home, the United States mint, and the incomparable Smithsonian Institution, were all duly visited, and perhaps the most famous of all, beautiful Mount Vernon, the former home of Washington, which overlooks the placid flowing waters of the Potomac. One of the more new places of interest taken in by the travelers was the St. Paul's and St. Peter's cathedral, which is being erected in the city, and is the third largest of its kind in the world. Eleven years have already been spent in work upon this beautiful edifice, with 15 more years to elapse before its completion is anticipated. Arlington cemetery was also viewed before they left for other points.

In Baltimore, Md., they were guests of friends. The battlefield of Valley Forge, where Washington's headquarters were located, was visited. In Philadelphia, Mrs. Lula Backtel, formerly of Santa Ana, was their hostess. The battlefield of Gettysburg, and Lee's headquarters, which have been converted into a private museum, and are located just outside of the battlefield, were points of interest.

With these historic impressions in mind, the travelers journeyed to Quincy, Ill., through Ohio, and after stopping in Kansas for a short time, returned to their homes, rich in the knowledge of their country.

TWO BLACK CROWS HERE IN WAR FILM

Moran and Mack, "The Two Black Crows," return to Santa Ana today in their second all-talking comedy success, "Anybody's War," which is said to be just twice as good as their initial success on the screen, "Why Bring That Up," which was seen here several months ago. The picture will be seen at the Fox Broadway theater Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The new picture is a comedy on the late war, in which the two crows go to France, unconsciously become heros and return home proud possessors of medals but still wondering what it was all about.

The story starts in Buford, Tenn., where the dusky comedians live at the time the war breaks out. Mack is the town's dog catcher, where he is so kind hearted that rather than have the dogs killed that he takes into the pound, he takes them home and boards them himself.

Moran joins the ranks of the colored boys going to war, and Mack is chided because he is to stay at home. He attempts to join but is turned down on account of his flat feet. He later walks off with the contingent of soldiers that leaves Buford and no one ever knows he is in the ranks. With him goes "Deep Stuff," his favorite pup.

BRIDE OF REGIMENT AT STATE THEATER

One of the most thrilling and at the same time pictorially beautiful pictures that has reached the screen for a long time is "Bride of the Regiment," which opened last night at the State theater.

It is not, however, one of those last-minute-dash-to-the-rescue melos. The bride, threatened by an Italian officer, saves herself in a remarkable and unexpected manner, thanks to the aid of several quaint and amusing circumstances. Moreover she saves her husband at the same time. The characters are delightfully human.

The picture is exceptionally beautiful because it is filmed in Technicolor throughout. The color is clear, brilliant, and remarkable for its depth, giving an illusion of third dimension or stereoscopic effect. The backgrounds represent a picturesque section of Italy.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 28. —The Shaffer Tool Works of Brea will hold a picnic for employes at the beach at Huntington Beach August 9. About 150 employes will attend and they have reserved the beach picnic pavilion for the day.

MYSTERY DRAMA AT FOX WEST COAST

"Midnight Mystery," Radio Pictures' newest all-talking thrill drama, comes to the Fox West Coast theater for three days, starting today.

Set against the background of an isolated island off the surf-beaten Maine coast, in the black of night, with a terrific storm raging outside, "Midnight Mystery" creates an atmosphere of nerve-tingling mystery that is guaranteed to thrill the most jaded theater-goer. It describes the tragic consequences of a "dummy" murder that takes on gruesome realism, and the solving of the mystery by the quick-wit of a girl who is a member of the oddly-assorted house-party on this forsaken island.

The fine cast of "Midnight Mystery," and the thrilling nature of the story makes the film one of the most exciting to appear on the Fox West Coast theater screen.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

The Tinymites had had their fill of Bagdad. It was quite a thrill to travel round the city 'cause the scenes were very queer. The narrow streets that wound around in all parts of the town were found. And far, far down the Tigris they could gaze, when it was clear.

They'd had a boat ride all along the river front mid current strong, but everyone enjoyed it. They decided to repeat this wondrous trip, so off they went and 'bout a half an hour was spent in drifting 'round and singing songs that sounded very sweet.

The folks on shore gave them a hand because they thought the music grand. One fellow shouted, "Sing again." And so they sang one line. "Wee, happy Tinymites are we who travel round, the sights to see. We're glad we came to Bagdad 'cause we think your city's fine."

Once more the clapping filled the air. "I guess our singing's rather rare," said little Clowny Tinymite. The others all agreed. The Travel Man said, "Yes, you're grand, but come, we must go back to land." The Tinymites obeyed him and returned to shore with speed.

"Where are we going now?" asked one. "What can we do to have more fun? We've seen enough of Bagdad. Let's be on our merry way." "All right," replied the Travel Man. "Another town we'll shortly scan. It's far across the desert and we'll start this very day."

"How well we travel?" Clowny cried. "We'll have to have some way to ride." The Travel Man just grinned and said, "By caravan we'll go." A camel train soon was brought out and mid a very merry shout, the Tinies climbed aboard. My, but the camels traveled slow.

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.
2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.
3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

FORE to CAST—FORECAST a low score for yourself and then go out and shoot it. It's a simple par three hole.

HOMECOMING OF OLD RESIDENTS HELD ALL DAY

COSTA MESA, July 28—The second anniversary of the building of the new Costa Mesa Community church was celebrated at all services Sunday.

At 1 o'clock a reunion was held in the social hall, the former church building, where 50 people ate dinner together. Reminiscences were given by members of the board of trustees, members of the building and also the organ committee, which included Donald J. Dodge, J. B. Cleghorn, F. A. Daley, Mrs. Harry Clark and Mrs. M. V. Reid.

The young people of the Epworth league were in charge of the evening services, with Robert Fuller in charge. Special vocal solos were sung by Mrs. Hempshall of Garden Grove accompanied at the organ by Mrs. E. L. Bennett, and Miss Martha Hassel accompanied by Mrs. A. F. Hassel at the piano. "March On," a special number, was sung by the choir.

Robert Coyner gave the scripture reading. Frank Fairley of Santa Ana spoke on "Youth" and Harry Meyers of Costa Mesa chose as his sermon topic, "Saving Grace."

WOMEN'S GUILD PREPARING FOR FASHION SHOW

LAGUNA BEACH, July 28.—Extensive preparations are being made by the Women's Guild of St. Mary's Episcopal church for the August 9 fashion show. Latest fashions will be displayed in a parade by 25 girls, showing past, present and future. Cards and dancing will follow the program.

Miss Lucinda Griffith is chairman of the committee and is assisted in various ways by Mrs. Elinor Hutchings, Lorraine Pardee, Priscilla Batty and Mrs. Joseph Jahraus.

Those who will act as models are the Misses Bobbie Isch, Doris and Virginia Thurston, Katherine Pence, Ruth Woodward, Betty Perrin, Ida Griffith, Barbara Donnell, Lucinda Griffith, Eleanor Knecht, Anne Young, Elaine Smith, Louella Marshall, Mrs. Betty Arden, Mrs. Dorothy Pierce, Mrs. Hollister Laude-Knaggs, Mrs. G. Hartwell Smith, Mrs. Bettie Ritchey, Mrs. J. Walter Rankin, Mrs. Frank B. Champion, Mrs. Herman Eberle and Mrs. Charles J. Coll.

The fashion parade is given for the benefit of St. Mary's church to help toward payments on two lots recently purchased.

JAPANESE PLAN VACATION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 28.—Student of the Japanese Mission school of Orange county will enjoy a week's vacation at Huntington Beach beginning August 11. Rooms and sleeping quarters have been engaged at various beach cottages and apartments about the city for the 150 students who will be here for the week.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 28.—Fish lice are worrying the fish this year more than usual, it is claimed. Little is heard about fish lice, as a rule. In fact, few people ever heard of fish lice. But they do exist and Noah Webster defines them in his famous book, the dictionary, of the English language.

D. E. Burry, superintendent of the American States Water Service company at Huntington Beach, put a fish louse under a microscope this week. The creature has a shell over its back, its feet end in vacuum cups, and it has a forked tail and fearful head, resembling a miniature shovel-nosed shark The lice get under a fish's scale and after once getting a safe hold, they perform like any ordinary land louse. A fish louse is larger than a land louse, resembling in size a tick and growing like a tick to the size of a cowtick, or small pea.

Hide On Gold Fish

Mr. Burry took the fish louse he examined from one of the gold fish in his fish pond. But the same sort of lice infest sea fish. This proves that a fish louse like a fish can live in salt water or fresh water. A fish that is carrying a louse has plenty of worry on his hands. He jumps, flits through the water and when he is not trying to swim or leap away from the louse, he is to be found rubbing his back or sides against the sea weeds or water plants, or even the side of a rock. It is apparent from the action of the fish, that there is no fun in being a fish and having a louse.

Fish lice bite people, but are easily removed from the skin and as a rule they are rarely seen. But this year they are more numerous than usual and ocean swimmers have been troubled with them. Fish have been unusually plentiful this year, crowding the sea and the lice increase may possibly be due to the overpopulated condition of the fish communities. At least lice get thick on pet gold fish when the gold fish ponds become overcrowded with fish.

REALTY BOARD WANTS COLLEGE IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, July 26.—The Fullerton district junior college is one of the biggest assets to this community and one on which property values as well as rentals are maintained at their present excellent standing, according to the members of the Fullerton Realty board which unanimously went on record as endorsing the stand of J. A. Prizer, president of the Fullerton school board of trustees, in favoring a college for this vicinity, at their weekly meeting yesterday at McFarland's cafe.

"Members of the realty board were unanimous in their belief that the Fullerton district junior college should be continued in this section as a result of the big assets which it creates," Verne A. Baker, president of the Fullerton Realty Board, declared following the meeting.

Baker offered information on building activities provided by the Southern California Edison company and showing that during the month of June just past, Fullerton led all Southern California cities in the consistency of gain in building activities.

A table computed for a five-year average of building in leading cities of Southern California shows that this city had a building total for June, 1930, that amounted to 146 per cent more than the average for the five-year period. Pasadena with 136 per cent was second, San Gabriel with 110 per cent was third and Anaheim with 107 per cent was fourth.

BOOK TO HAVE SAN CLEMENTE HISTORY

SAN CLEMENTE, July 28.—Brea Post 181, American Legion, will stage a Labor day celebration, rodeo and free barbecue on August 31 and September 1. In the program of the event will appear a story of San Clemente. The story, sent by the Spanish Village Chamber of Commerce will tell of the progress of the city from the time it was founded until today, giving the reasons of San Clemente's popularity as a place to live.

The story will appear in competition with stories from other chamber of commerces of cities of Orange county.

REPAIR SCHOOL

BREA, July 28.—Work of redecorating the Brea grammar school cafeteria has been completed by the contractors, Massey & Thaxton. The manual arts room and the garage of this school have also undergone some repairs and redecorating.

Build Store For Beach Dairy Firm

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 28.—The Golden State Dairy Products company has entered into an agreement and lease whereby C. C. Carswell of Chicago, purchaser of the lot adjoining the Ocean Wave hotel on ocean boulevard near Main street, will erect a new building to be used by the Golden States company as a retail store for dairy products and also as a lunch room and restaurant for the sale of dairy lunches. Work on the new building is to start this week and will be rushed to completion.

It is to be a stucco building with ornamental front and the store room will be decorated after the artistic fashion of all the Golden State Dairy products company chain stores and restaurants. The company selected Huntington Beach for its location on account of the heavy traffic on the coast highway.

TUSTIN JOINS COUNTY PICNIC

TUSTIN, July 28.—All members of the Tustin W. C. T. U. are urged to attend the all day meeting to be held Tuesday, July 29, in Irvine park. The group will meet at the corner of Main and D streets, at 10 o'clock, with basket lunches and will continue in a group to the park. Dinner will be served at the tables at noon.

CANDIDATES IN ELECTION MEET IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, July 28—Politicans ruded the Fullerton Round Table club, with virtually the entire group of candidates in the county election present at McFarland's cafe Friday noon. More than 65 persons were in attendance.

While the club endeavored to settle the political fortunes of the county, the candidates after the meeting were endeavoring to settle the bill for a round of cigars apiece for the 65 persons present.

With Harry Suters presiding, initiation ceremonies were conducted for the following: B. K. Maxwell initiated twice, once to become a member of the club and once for his hole-in-one; Henry Warren, president of the Hacienda club; W. Kee Maxwell, father of B. K. Maxwell; Clarence Trickey of Santa Ana, recently married; R. P. Mitchell and Ray Adkinson, joint endorsement for county superintendent of schools; George D. Montgomery, candidate for county assessor; Sam Jernigan, incumbent, and William Sylvester, candidate for sheriff; Harry Westover, candidate for district attorney; W. K. Hilliard, county surveyor; J. C. Lamb, county tax collector; E. P. and Joe Backs, of whom only E. P. Backs was present; W. C. Jerome, county auditor, and C. D. Brown, county coroner.

It was announced that all other candidates had already received the club's endorsement. Ralph McFadden, candidate for sheriff; D. G. Wettlin, candidate for district attorney, and Earl Abbey, candidate for county treasurer, also were present.

BENEFIT DANCE FOR BAND ON AUGUST 2

SAN CELMENTE, July 28.—The stage is set to make the benefit dance for the San Clemente band the social affair of the season. The dance, to be held Saturday, August 2, will be a civic affair under the sponsorship of the Men's club and will be in charge of Sammy Henon, dance chairman of the men's organization. Money from the dance will go to the band.

On Friday, August 1, a concert by the band will be held at the Social club. J. C. Thompson, director, promises an hour of good music.

FLOWER TREES BRING PRAISE TO FULLERTON

FULLERTON, July 28.—The beauty of the Jacaranda trees lining Jacaranda place is attracting attention from other cities from all over the Southland.

The latest city to comment on the unusual trees is Santa Barbara. A copy of an editorial urging more trees and published in the Santa Barbara Press follows:

"The city of Fullerton, east of Los Angeles, has done a thing that Santa Barbara could well emulate. It has planted an avenue of jacaranda trees, and when they are in full bloom, as they are at the present time and have been for some weeks, they draw as much attention as Altadena's famous 'mile of Christmas trees' during the holidays. These jacarandas are planted on both sides of Jacaranda place, and their purple blossoms sweeten the air with a perfume as delightful as their color is attractive to the eye. As the city has grown, the rows of trees on each side of the street have been extended. We have few of these trees in Santa Barbara and might try an avenue of them next year—starting on Arbor day."

START DRILLING ON OIL WELL IN CAPISTRANO

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 28.—The oil well located on the John Forsteh ranch, two miles south of this place is again the scene of keen activity. For the past week preliminary work, such as grading the road from the highway to the well, steaming up the boilers, and cleaning off the property has been under way.

Drilling started Saturday and a crew of seven men is now engaged on the well, under the direction of O. K. Carr, who with E. C. Johnson, successful oil operator of Wyoming, is putting down the well. Much interest is felt in the progress of the Carr well. The bringing in of an oil field in this part of Orange county would open up a new era of development.

The history of the Carr well is interesting, and points promising to the gringing in of an oil well. Drilling on the lease started several years ago, proceeding to a depth of 4180 feet. At 3939 feet strata of varcaous sand was struck, which was 85 feet in depth. This is the same sand found in the famous Kettlemen Hills oil fields. When tested water above this was found to hold 18,000 grains of salt. Ocean test is but 14,000 grains, the test proving that in remote time the present site of the Carr well was ocean bottom.

The log of the well shows that three oil sands have been found, one at less than 2000 feet. At 1400 feet a gas pressure was struck, with 5,000,000 cubic feet of gas. It is expected that oil will be found in the next fifty to one hundred feet; if not, the drilling will proceed to 6000 feet.

More than $120,000 have been spent on the Carr well, and not a bit of stock has been sold or is for sale. The well is geologically located, and is supposed to be in a structure which extends northeast-southwest. Several geologists from major oil companies have visited the Carr well this week, and if oil is truck within the next month, as is expected, this locality will be the center of the new field.

Friends Surprise William Mitchell

BUENA PARK, July 28.—Mrs. William Mitchell planned a delightful surprise party for her husband, at the home on South Grand avenue, Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell were dinner guests at the home of the former's brother, John Mitchell and wife, and when they returned to their home later in the evening, presumably on an errand, the honoree was much surprised to find a group of friends who had gathered to assist him in celebrating his birthday.

Rook and other games furnished the entertainment and refreshments of home made cake, birthday cake and punch were served.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bastady, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Neal, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Haggarty, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Warlaumont, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hillman, Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. George Cole, Mrs. Rose Hartman, Mrs. David Lemke, Mrs. E. S. NOTED NEW YORK ARTISTS IN SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO PAINTING HISTORIC SCENES

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 28—Interesting people from other parts of the world find their way to this quaint old town, drawn by its historic charm and romance. Most of them continue on their way, a few remain to make their homes in the locality.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Payson Ames, artists from New York City, have established their studio recently in the old adobe building which was once, so tradition tells, the home of Governor Pico. Here in this historic environment they will continue their work, each painting in his own medium.

As Frances Ames, Mrs. Ames was one of the best known artists of New York City, her particular fore being portraits, both in oil and on ivory. In the reception room of the Old Adobe studio is a large case, covered with glass. Here are found a number of priceless miniatures, on ivory painted by her clever brush. Here are portraits of noted people, including Victor Herbert, the composer; tiny Gloria Caruso, daughter of the renowned singer; Mrs. Potter Palmer, society leader; and Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, who figured in the most sensational murder cases of the country.

In the adjoining room are a number of fine studies in oil, including one of a woman, "Etude," which won Frances Ames recognition in the Paris Salon, while she was abroad studying art. A recently painted study of Father St. John O'Sullivan, of the San Juan Capistrano mission, stands on an easel nearby.

Mrs. Ames came with her husband to California several years ago, direct from her studio on Madison avenue. She has been seeking a spot where she would find old world charm, quaint types and historical background, since coming to the state. Now she feels that San Juan Capistrano offers all she has demanded.

In addition to being an artist of the finest talent, Mrs. Ames is a remarkable woman. During the war, Mr. Ames, who was a noted art photographer of the east, was officer of camouflage in the 27th New York division, with a large number of artists under his direction. Later he was sent overseas with his division. Mrs. Ames made many attempts to follow her husband to the war front, but was not permitted. She then went to the little town of Fort Plane, New York, where a woolen mill made shirts for sailors, and worked all summer in the mill, "doing her bit," and raising potatoes, on the side, to help along the food supply.

Among the people she remembers who have sat for her, for portraits, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw is outstanding. Mrs. Ames knew her when she was a girl of 15; knew her during the White-Thaw murder trial, and recently heard from her in a dive, in Panama, where she is now singing.

INDIA LILIES BLOSSOMING IN HILLCREST PARK

FULLERTON, July 28. — Great East Indio pond lilies are now in full bloom in the park at Hillcrest, according to Henry Byerrum, superintendent, who declared that it is "blossom time" for water flowers.

These huge, delicately tinted blossom have been one of the atttractions at Hillcrest park during the summer for years, visitors coming from many part of Southern California to see them.

Although no additional funds for development of the parks have been available this year, much improvement work has been done, Byerrum said. The city's park system this year has been on a "maintenance basis," it was declared.

At Hillcrest park, cages for squirrels and birds have been installed. New picnic tables have been added and new barebcue stoves have been placed in the camp grounds.

At Commonwealth park, a plan is under way to replace with grass the heavy growth of brush and shrubbery surrounding the lily pond. This will permit a view from the street back to the large lawn and band platform in the rear.

Picnic tables for more than 300 persons are available in this park, Byerrum pointed out, with wood stoves arranged to provide the best method of broiling steaks or such other picnic foods desired.

FULLERTON POLICE GET STRANGE MOTH

FULLERTON, July 28.—Held in prison by the Fullerton police, Celerio Lineata passed away Thursday night, and the body was turned over for the dissemination of scientific information.

By the way, Celerio, in case it is not generally known, is the first name of the white lined sphynx moth, otherwise known as the "hummingbird" moth.

This busy creature, a night flyer, with wings constantly in motion like a hummingbird, dips its beak-like proboscis into flowers while poised in the air above. It is similar in appearance to the miniature hummingbird.

Reports from Santa Barbara countyhave indicated an exceptional number of the insects there this season. The larvae feed on apples, grapes, turnips, sugar beets and a few other forms of vegetation. It was not believed by scientists, however, that even in Santa Barbara county any damage would be done.

POSTPONE CHURCH SERVICES

TALBERT, July 28.—There will be no church services at the Talbert Methodist church, south, until the last Sunday in August, at which time there will be a Rally day service held. The pastor, the Rev. T. P. Turner was given this vacation by his congregation that he might regain his health which is not good owing to several operations and a recent illness from which he is convalescing.

REV. DR. PECK SPEAKS SUNDAY TO METHODISTS

ANAHEIM, July 28.—In the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Ralph W. Lee, who with his family is vacationing in British Columbia, the pulpit at the White Temple Methodist church was filled Sunday morning by the Rev. Dr. Harcourt Peck, D. D., Methodist Episcopal clergyman and author. Dr. Peck has held a number of important pastorates, including Santa Ana, Redlands and Phoenix, Ariz. He also served as superintendent of the Los Angeles district and at one time was professor of Greek at Columbia college, British Columbia, Canada.

Rev. Peck took his text from Hebrews, the ninth chapter, verses 27 and 28 and Relevation, chapter 20, verses 11 to 12. He reminded his hearers that the scripture says "It is appointed unto us once to die and after that the judgment." He referred especially to the judgment day. "We are not asked whether we die nor are we asked whether we be born or whether we be white or black or red or yellow," the speaker said. He pointed out that we are all writing a book and that from this book, or the life we live, the Christian is judged. The book of the parent's life, he said, is the book the children read, and stressed the point that if the parents make a chum of the child he will instinctively love our God.

In the course of Rev. Peck's sermon, he said no one lives in the body today as we will tomorrow, since it is constantly changing. He said we are to live on—but where? In discussing the point of some people not believing in life hereafter, the speaker said "your belief or mine does not settle it." He further said that the best minds of today believe in Christ and the hereafter.

A statement that gave food for thought was that "the more education you give a young man, if his heart is not in the right place, the worse man you will make of him." In stressing the importance of Christian parents and a godlike home, he brought out the need that the children in that home know God and that they are given the right channels. If not, he said, they will not be true to ideals and not true to God.

In conclusion, the speaker referred his congregation to the Bible reference stating that what we sow that shall we also reap, leaving the encouraging words that God will abundantly pardon, and that He appointed us not to destruction but unto salvation.

Musical Program Given At Church

VILLA PARK, July 28.—The musical program at the Villa Park Community church Sunday morning was quite varied and was reported the best for many weeks.

The program was as follows: Prelude—Nocturne in F (Schumann); anthem — Ashamed of Jesus, (Allene K. Bixby); vocal solo—The Plains of Peace, (D'Auvergne Barnard) by Miss Elizabeth Skiles, and offertory, Reviere (Carl Wilhelm Kern).

The sermon was "Alone," and was presented by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Walter M. Tippie.

Beach organization. The Acorns intend to rely on Deene Downer, a City league fast ball pitcher, who has done well everytime he has started for the Long Beach club.

The race is strictly between Santa Ana, La Habra, Anaheim and Long Beach. Whittier, defeated by La Habra last week, has no chance now but as the Quakers still play Santa Ana and Anaheim they will have a lot to say in determining the eventual winner of this torrid streamer hunt.

SUNSET BEACH

NEW YORK BONDS

NEW YORK, July 28.—(UP)—Demand for railroad securities featured an htoerwise dull and irregular bond market which assumed a rather ragged apeparance around noon today as price fluctuations spread to a wider range.

Seaboard 4s spurted nearly 5 points to lead a genreally upward movement among the carriers, while lesser gains were retarded in such issues as New York, Chicago & St. Louis 6s, Seaboard 6s, New York Central 5s and Colorado and Southern 4½s.

Support was withdraw from utility isues and members of this division moved downward in the wake of American Telephone & Telegraph off 4¼ points. The exception to this tendeney was International Telephone and Telegraph 4½s, up ½ point.

Foreign ombligations backed and filled in a narrow range, with Latin American issues noticeably steady. Slight declines were registered in Lyons 5s and Rome 6½s. After a quiet opening, United States government securties were in fair demand in prices near previous closing levels.

Industrial and Amusement bonds moved iregularly, as trading continued to center in other sections. Oils were fairly active, and principal bonds in this division firmed up slightly.

L. A. PRODUCE

LO SANGELES, July 28.—(UP)—Fruit and produc moved fairly well on today's market, with prices generally unchanged fro miast week.

Apricots were in limited supply with most stock coming from cold storage. ..orthern Royals ranged from 3-5c per lb. Local fancy packed avocados of various varieties jobbed at $6.50-$11.50 on 1st grade 24-42s.

Local cantaloupes were in heavy supply with prices weaker. Hale's Best in standard crates, 2s-27s, jobbed at 75-90c.

Local and San Diego county cucumbers were practically unchanged from last week at 40-60c per lug. Coachella figgs fuond slow demand, with prices weaker. Black Missions in 6-lb. flats jobbed at 50-60c on small to medium size stock. Bakersfield seedless grapes jobbed at mostly 2-2½c per lb.

Dry pack lettuce was in liberal supply, with fairly good demand. Guadalupe and Santa Maria 4s jobbed at $1.25-$1.50, with best stock $1.75.

San Joaquin Elberta peaches were in liberal supply with most stock jobbing at 2-2½c per lbm., few 3c, and poorer 1½c.

Local tomatoes were mostly of fair to ordinary quality and Earlianas, 5x6 and larger, jobbed at 75c-$1.00. Local white rose potatoes were firm with best stock at $2.40-$2.50, and fair quality $2.00-$.225.

NEW YORK CURB

Buying operations went ahead in representative public utility stocks such as Electric Bond & Share, American & Foreign Power warrants, American Light and Traction, Cities Service, American Superpower, Insull Utilities, United Light A., and American Gas, in which advances ranged from fractions to 5 points took place.

Trading in other sections of the list was lethargic and prices seesawed in a generally narrow range. Oils steadied when early offerings dried up and held around the previous closing levels in light dealings.

Holding company issues were subject to a better demand and fractional gains were made by Goldman Sachs. United Founders, Public Utility Holding and Electring Power associates. In the general list there was some quiet buying of aviation stcoks like Fokker and Transcontinental Air Transport, which made fractional gains. American Cyanamid B and Ford Lt., were in supply at fractional concessions.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE

CHICAGO, July 28—(UP)—With the visible supply increasing 14,503,000 bushels, even larger than the trade had expected, and continued heavy hedging pressure, wheat closed sharply lower on the Board of Trade today after having a weak undertone most of the session. Rains in Nebraska and Canada were depressing. Corn felt the effect of the showers more than wheat, and the market weakened by the 16c advance recently, broke sharply. Oats were easy with the other grains.

At the close wheat was 1¾ to 1⅞c lower, corn was 1¾ to 2⅝c lower and oats were ½ to 1c lower. Provisions were firm.

L. A. STOCKS

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—(UP)—Opening lower and with very little support, Transamerica Coporation today experienced another bearish market which pushed the stock down to within two points of its all time low on the Los Angeles stock exchange.

Transamerica opened at 23½ and immediately fell off a point with sales mounting into the thousands. Indications were that unless new support was felt the stock would near its all time low established a few weeks ago.

EXAMINE THE CANDIDATES

Four weeks from tomorrow is primary day, at which time the citizens will vote for those whom they desire to have serve them during the coming four years.

For nearly every office there is more than one candidate who presents his claims to the people. In the midst of discussion and advertising and personal visitation and speeches, it is well to examine as to where the allegiance of the candidate is, and where it will be after election, so as to determine whether the one asking for suffrage is certain to serve all the people and be responsible to all the people, or whether in his own mind he will owe his election to a group of politicians, which allegiance will govern his attitude after election.

There are those running for public office who are recognized by everybody who knows anything about the situation as being simply the candidates of the "machine." These men, it is recognized, would have no chance except for the "machine." Thrown on their own, they would be defeated before they started.

There are other candidates who are appealing to the people on principles, and are standing for that which they believe to be better government for the county. These men owe their allegiance to all of the voters, and propose to be governed in their political action after election by the principles for which they stand.

There are other candidates whose position is perfectly colorless. They hope that either the people or the "machine" will pick them up and nominate them or elect them.

It is a period when it behooves the voter to examine pretty carefully the claims of the candidates, and to note whether the candidate is a real candidate, to whom all people will have access, or whether he will be an official in name only, simply an automaton with the hidden wires that move his hands and mouth, connected with those who would run the particular office in their own interests.

Let us elect men as supervisors who will not take orders from the man who has been running the board of supervisors.

Let us elect officials for other offices who, whatever their friendships may be, will not ask someone else what to do when a case affecting their offices is presented to them, but will decide the case on its merits.

It is the year of years to establish in Orange county men in public office who recognize it is a public trust. If a man is elected who feels that he owes his election to the people as a whole, his allegiance will be there. A man who feels that it is a small group that "puts him over," will feel an allegiance to that small group.

Examine the records and the connections of the candidates.

THE NEW MODELS

The automobile market begins to move again with the coming of new models. One of the largest manufacturers announces that never in the history of his company have they had so many advance orders for the new model as they have had for the one soon to appear. With the hoped-for pick up in business in the fall, most of the motor companies are looking for a larger business than that of the past year.

There was a time when there was a tendency to standardization in the automobile industry, when change in models was looked upon with distrust by the manufacturers. We recall that Mr. Ford held on to his Model T all too long for his own good. For years he was averse to any change whatever. It was only after the severest pressure that he made any change in the shape and size of the hood of his car. He was the last to put in a self-starter as standard equipment. His passion always was, and to some extent is yet, to put out the most inexpensive car that will run and give service. We remember when the Dodge company, discountenancing the methods of its competitors, advertised very vigorously that it was not in business to make changes every year. The man who bought a car from that company, it was stated, was certain that his car would not be out of style the next year. And we recall, when the four-brake system was introduced, one company widely advertised the defects of four-wheel brakes, and announced that it would never introduce them. They had to come to it, however. All these three companies suffered from their efforts to standardize motor cars.

It is a rare company now that does not make some change, or some improvement, in its cars each year. Some of them even make changes during the year, so that the early model of a given year is quite different from the later model of the same year. Sometimes the changes are slight; more frequently they are very radical. The changes for the coming year are destined to be much more radical than for some years in the past. The tendency is toward larger cylinder capacity. The four-cylinder car has all but disappeared. The eight-cylinder car in the middle-priced car is becoming general. In the larger cars, and of the more expensive make, the sixteen cylinder type is coming in.

It is a far cry from the horseless carriage of the '90's to the most approved of modern cars. We often wonder how much farther the improvement can go. We said that five years ago. But the improvements go on; and probably will continue to go on. In the meantime the number of companies producing motor cars are growing less. The present year is an exceptionally hard one for the smaller companies. There are quite a number of "orphan" cars on the road today, and there is quite likely to be more of them in the next few years. Like all other industries, the fittest will survive, and the few remaining companies will do practically the whole of the business.

DREISER SEES IT ALL BLACK

Theodore Dreiser, the writer, has returned from swinging around the circle over the United States, and he finds everything all wrong. When interviewed he said, "All newspaper interviews are stupid. For years I have not seen one that is worth anything. I bet you $10 that you cannot get into your paper the things I am going to say."

From that point on Mr. Dreiser began to attack all the ills of the United States in general and the universe in particular. Constitutional government in the United States has been abdicated, he says. There is no such thing as constitutional government. America is controlled by trusts that function as government. American citizens have become nothing but "trudging asses." The mental capacity of our school teachers is nullified by the dictates of business men who forbid them to say anything about Darwinism or bolshevism. There is no place for a great writer, writers have concerned themselves with love affairs, and the hero of literature today is some dub from the detective world. America is verging on social tragedy, and American life lends itself only to satire and irony. No one dares to survey the world as it is. Things will grow worse until 60 per cent of the people begin to feel the pinch. Then the pinch of misery will stir the people to do something.

So much, and very much more, did Mr. Dreiser say. In closing he said to the reporter, "Be sure and mail me that $10." Well, we know Mr. Dreiser. He belongs to the school of critics who are out of step with the processes of the world and social life. He is one of our literary shockers, without much of a program of his own, but with a keen vision of the things that are wrong. It might be said of him, as it was once said of H. L. Mencken, that he looks into the world as if it were a crooked mirror, and then spits into it. Such people perform a very useful function in society. They are the implacable foes of smugness and complacency. They sting us into bestirring ourselves and looking around to see what our own eyes can see. And we shall find enough to see.

In an age when most of us conform and the interdependence of life is great, it is not a public calamity to have a voice, crying as it were in the wilderness, like that of Mr. Dreiser. We can listen without being too much disturbed and without the feeling that everything is going straight to the dogs. Things usually do not go straight. Individual and social life have their tangents. Just when things are going to the dogs, the course of events takes a sudden twist. The curve goes up, and we find a better road. One need not have lived more than a generation to have seen wrongs righted, reforms effected, and the rights of humanity revindicated. Perhaps a Dreiser may, with his extreme despair, be one of the agencies to preserve the social balance, and to keep the race going right.

Imperial Valley Press

People who travel about this county a good deal often complain that American cooking is getting standardized. It makes little difference, they say, whether you eat in San Francisco or New York, Galveston or Bangor; the food you get will be just about the same, cooked in much the same way.

Undeniably the eating habits of all Americans are quite similar. Nevertheless, there are sectional differences, and the traveler who takes the trouble to inquire about them and to ask for the local specialties can still enjoy a good deal of variety in his meals.

The United Press recently sent a story from New York, analyzing the various sectional preferences in the matter of food. Some of its conclusions are interesting.

New York, for instance, holds up corned beef hash as its favorite restaurant dish. Philadelphia clings to its traditional scrapple. Dwellers in the middle west do not like things highly seasoned. New Orleans, on the other hand, does. Minnesota people eat a great many steaks. California goes for salads.

So it goes. One could add other things. Boston will give you pie for breakfast, and will implore you to have codfish cakes on Sunday morning. San Diego will introduce you to hot tamales. Michigan and Wisconsin will press Lake Superior whitefish on you. Maryland can show you a thing or two about fried chicken. Baltimore will give you oysters. Any New England state can prove the excellency of blueberry pie for the traveler.

There's a fair bit of variety there. It is possible that the uniformity of menus is more due to the traveler than to the native sons. The man who goes about the country ordering ham and eggs, or hamburger and onions, at every place he comes to has no one but himself to blame. If he'll take the trouble to find out what the local favorites are he can vary his diet considerably—and, incidentally, do some mighty pleasant dining as well.

This Is Fame

San Diego Union

Ambassador Dawes is entitled to be greatly flattered by the senate's final action of the London treaty. The senate adopted one reservation only, and that reservation directed entirely to what is supposed to be the Hon. Charlie's handiwork—the so-called secret documents which the senate was not allowed to discuss. These documents are said to have been cablegrams authored by the Hon. Charlie, and liberally stuffed with verbal indiscretions. The senate's reservation is to the effect that this sovereign republic declines to be bound by the ambassador's wise-cracks. This confers a unique and signal honor upon this eminent quipster.

When Mr. Dawes gets ready to resign, he is assured a magazine word-rate equal to Calvin Coolidge's or Al Smith's.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

THE HAPPY DAYS

Chill penury's remorseless hand
Or need's cold clammy touch
Did not, of old, I understand
Distress our grandsires much.
They made but very few complaints
Amidst their toil and strife,
But bore like patient, placid saints
A dull and dreary life.

So, if the market goes to pot,
We never should deplore
The loss of everything we've got
And often rather more,
But calmly grasp the hand of fate
Be bold and self controlled
And show that we can emulate
The pioneers of old.

But those old lads had lucky stars,
To mitigate their woes;
They did not have to hock their cars
Or mortgage bungalows
Or sell their brand new radio sets
And Junior's motor boat,
To pay installments on their debts
And keep themselves afloat.

But—granting them their dues—
We think our griefs are worse than theirs,
For we have more to lose.
For when their opulence took wings—
Though it was tough, no doubt—
They didn't have so many things
To get along without.

PENALIZING ECONOMY

It seems a shame to keep arresting a musical comedy producer who was merely trying to save money on costumes.

"Advice to Uplifters"

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

Under this caption a Southern newspaper, in its editorial column, says:

"If all humanitarians were put on a six weeks' diet of their own creed, the world would be vastly better off. First, it would free us of a woeful amount of meddling; and, second, it would convince the uplifters themselves that their panaceas—education, higher wages, equality of wealth, the five-day week or whatever they advocate—will not cure our social ills and turn us into an Arcadian dream."

This reminds us of the tramp who beat a rug for his breakfast. When he brought in the rug, the owner pointed out several holes in it. "These holes weren't there when I gave you this rug," she said, accusingly.

The tramp eyed her reproachfully. "Lady," he said, "if they weren't there, where were they?"

Perhaps the cures for our social ills do not lie in education, higher wages, and a more equitable distribution of wealth. But if they aren't there, where are they?

Or should we assume that there are NO cures for social ills? That we must go on to the end, patiently enduring poverty and all its heart-aches?

The other day, in Boston, a young man of 24 offered himself for sale for $2,500. A boyish gesture, of course. But, after all, he was a boy out of work—a boy confronted with starvation or the humility of being fed by charity. Wouldn't the wages urged by meddling "uplfiters"—not HIGHER wages, but ANY wages—mean something to him?

Uplifters are a meddlesome lot, no doubt. They are often tiresome. Worse still, they are often stupidiy ineffectual.

But they have one grace which covers a multitude of stupidities. They are never light-hearted about OTHER people's troubles!

They may not succeed in transforming life, for all of us, into an Arcadian dream. But to their everlasting credit, they are not reconciled to its remaining, for any of us, a Stygian Nightmare.

That reminds me, the baby is axually getting a tooth at last, ma sed. Meening my sister Gladdises baby, and pop sed, A very intristing bit of news, but how the dooce does Mussoleeny remind you of it?

Well, Mussoleeny is famous for his will power, izzent he? ma sed, and pop sed, Why yes, he's a man of grate resolution, to say the least, and ma sed, Well so is that child. He has an almost uncanny amount of will power for his age, she sed.

Am I wrong, or were you tawking about a tooth? pop sed, and ma sed, Yes, its almost out, you can see the little place where its going to brake through like a little white flower, and Ill be a very disappointed grandmother if it duzzent happen before Mrs. Shoosters little grand dawter's tooth brakes through. Their both at about the same stage, and thats where Im counting so strongly on the force of his little will power. This afternoon I leened over his little crib and I sed, Now Willy, the time has come for the ferst decisive action of your life. I wunt you to pull your little concentration together and give grandmother a little tooth while that pokey little Shooster grandchild is still making up her slow mind, I sed to him, and do you know, Willyum, I could see him axually straining in his efforts to bring that tooth out.

Mussoleeny? pop sed, and ma sed , What? and he sed, Arent you trying to tell me that Mussoleeny is about to have a tooth?

O reed the silly news in your silly paper, ma sed. You dont deserve to be told anything reely important, she sed.

And thats all she told him.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

ECONOMIC SHELL SHOCK

Cases that do not root in any organic maladjustment need diagnosis more than they need dosing. cured.

I do not mean to suggest that the market slump was due solely to a brain-storm arising without rhyme or reason in an economic Utopia.

There are factors in the current economic situation that call for concentrated and creative thinking by America's financial and industrial leaders.

But I do suggest that just as, in the orgy of speculation, we exaggerated the bright side of economic America, so, in the present orgy of fear, we are exaggerating the dark side of the economic America.

It behooves us to look calmly at the facts and realize that, while America is mentally scared, she is materially sound.

The capital resources of the nation were never larger than they are now, and were never more fluid and free for constructive use than now.

The private holders of capital can retard the nation's return to economic normalcy by undue caution in putting their capital into active employment, but the unusual size of the cash holdings of the banks is, I think, a hopeful thing, for with the banks bulking with funds thay will be under powerful incentives to put the money to work in order to show profits for the shareholders of the banks.

It is from this quarter that we shall probably see the first thrust toward business renewal.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

SPOILING THE BABY

It is so very very easy to spoil a baby. It is no fault of the child, of course. He is helpless in our hands and we work our will with him—for the time being. Later, if we persist in the spoiling, he works his will with us, to his own sorrow and ours as well.

"When he is two years old I'm going to train him. He is too little now."

Dear me, he began interpreting you the day he was born. He feels you before he can see you. He has a keen sense of his own comfort and soon learns how to win the little attentions he loves. He would rather be cradled in your arms than lie in his crib. You love to pick him up and cuddle him, snuggle him to you, hear him crooning in delight.

How about the time when it isn't convenient to hold him? He will not understand that and he will protest loudly. Then you have a cross baby on your hands. Better let him alone. Accustom him to being lifted on schedule. He is far happier that way than the other haphazard fashion.

Then you just known he would love a little sugar. A little can't do any harm. Can't it? Ask your doctor. Feed the baby nothing but his own diet and that is to be supervised by the understanding physician who brought him safely to his crib. He knows the baby and you and should be an authority on diet and health habits.

When he fusses you are tempted to give him a little medicine. Somebody who knew told you that this and that was good for babies. Don't do it. No medicine for a baby unless a competent physician, a very competent one indeed orders it.

Avoid asking the baby to entertain. His coming out season should be postponed for several years. Grown-ups poking him, tickling him, breathing in his face, hefting him, lifting him up by his hands to see how strong he is, kissing him,—are a dangerous nuisance. Keep them out. Only very close friends and relatives ought to see a baby and they ought to know enough to keep their hands off.

I do not believe in secluding a child so that he makes no associations with people but there is a happy medium to be observed between spoiling him and isolating him. Either process is bad. A healthy amount of social experience is what we need.

All danger of infection, contagion, is to be guarded against. Flee from him who would tell you that a child has to have so many of the childhood diseases before he is six. The fewer he has the better.

Bringing up a baby is an art. I am not master of that art so I would refer you to the great doctor who did so much for babies and their mothers, Dr. Emmert Holt. His work lives after him in the little book, "The Care and Feeding of Children." If you read that book and follow its principles you will be happier in your children and they in you.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY of—

THE WORLD WAR

On July 28, 1914, Austria-Hungary declared war on Serbia five days after delivering an ultimatum containing demands with which the Serbian government would only partially comply.

Austria-Hungary had accused Serbia of complicity in the assassination of the Austrian heir-apparent, Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife, at Sarajevo on June 28, 1914, and alleged that the anti-Austrian machinations of Serbian patriots menaced the integrity of the Hapsburg empire.

Serbia was anxious to avert the hostilities that threatened. Diplomats of other European powers sought to iron out the difficulty, but Austria-Hungary refused to submit the matter to peaceful arbitration. The Russian government, sympathetic to Serbia, ordered the mobilization of its army. This caused Germany to declare what it considered to be a defensive war against Russia. Two days later Germany declared war against Russia's ally, France. When Germany violated Belgium's neutrality, England considered this sufficient cause to declare war against the invaders. The United States entered the conflict on April 6, 1917, by declaring war on Germany.

SCORE DIE IN MIDWEST HEAT WAVE

BULLETIN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—(UP)—The California supreme court today rejected the request of Thomas J. Mooney that he be summoned as a material witness at a hearing to open tomorrow on an application of Warren K. Billings for a pardon.

The vote was an informal one and the decision was announced verbally by Chief Justice William H. Waste.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—(UP)—Last minute preparations were made today for a session of the California supreme court in which the case of Warren K. Billings, convicted of complicity in the San Francisco Preparedness day bombing will be "re-tried."

Indications are that the hearing, to start at 10 a. m. tomorrow, will be devoted largely to the testimony of John MacDonald, recanting witness, who returned here from Baltimore to tell the seven supreme court justices that he lied at the trials of Billings and Thomas J. Mooney.

Questioning of MacDonald will be carried on by the justices but it is likely that some cross examining by Charles M. Fickert, the prosecutor who convicted Mooney and Billings, will be permitted.

Both Mooney and Billings desire to appear personally at the hearing but it is unlikely that either will be permitted to do so. A petition by Mooney, asking that he be summoned as a material witness, is before the court now and probably will be denied before the opening of Tuesday's hearing.

The court has indicated it intends to limit the hearing to Billings' case only as the justices are without authority to act in behalf of or against Mooney.

In California a pardon for a twice convicted man, such as Billings, may be issued by the governor provided the supreme court recommends it and this week's hearing is being held under the authority of that provision.

Action on a Mooney pardon petition must come direct from the governor and for that reason the court is not interested in the Mooney phase of the bombing case, even though both men were convicted on the same evidence.

The hearing is the second one the court has held on the Billings case, having rejected his petition early this month. The return of Mac Donald, who wants to deny his testimony that he saw Billings plant the dynamite bomb which killed 10 persons, resulted in decision for the re-hearing.

While Mooney will have no part in the hearing, it is of importance to his case. Governor C. C. Young denied Mooney's pardon application recently, after the supreme court declined to recommend a pardon for Billings. He explained that he considered the cases as parallels and that if one deserved a pardon then both did.

ONE KILLED AND 15 INJURED IN ACCIDENTS OVER WEEK END

JUDGE MAY BE ASKED TO END BABY TANGLE

Habeas Corpus Petition to Be Sought to Determine Parentage

CHICAGO, July 28.—(INS)—That a judge will in the end be forced to determine the parentage of the infants Watkins and Bamberger became apparent today when Mr. and Mrs. William Watkins announced they would seek a habeas corpus petition to compel a trade with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bamberger.

The celebrated baby tangle, which began after the two infants were born on the same afternoon in Englewood hospital, was forced to a sudden climax yesterday by a hasty baptismal ceremony.

The infant baptized was the one carried home from the hospital by the Bambergers, and the name given him was George Edward Bamberger.

Mr. and Mrs. Watkins, still in accord with the verdict of a jury of eminent scientists who said the babies had been mixed, objected to the baptismal, maintaining that the wrong baby had been baptized with the wrong name.

As a result, attorneys for Watkins expect to obtain a writ of habeas corpus today to compel the Bamberger's to produce the baby they possess in court and show cause why a trade should not be made compulsory. Under this plan a judge would finally be called upon to determine which baby should go to each family.

Born on June 30, the infants were taken home from the hospital a few days later. It was found that the baby supposed to belong to the Bambergers bore a label "Watkins" and the Watkin's child was marked "Bamberger."

Question Right of Retail Oil Prices

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—(UP)—The right of an oil company to set an arbitrary price on gasoline sold to dealers was questioned today in an answer to Charles T. Haas, Van Nuys, to a suit brought in superior court by the Richfield Oil company.

The company sued Haas for $637 on his gasoline account but Haas claimed their contract was void because of a clause in which the company restrains him from selling fuel at prices other than those set by the company.

Calvin Coolidge Says

By CALVIN COOLIDGE
Former President of the United States

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 28.—When the country needs a little encouragement it can look at the condition of the federal treasury.

Since August, 1919, the national debt has been reduced over ten billion dollars and now stands at a little over sixteen billions. The interest charge has been practically cut in two but is still over six hundred millions. In the meantime we have had five reductions of taxes which give the people direct relief of about two billion dollars yearly and an indirect relief to an amount that it is impossible to estimate. Nevertheless expanding business brought sufficient revenue to meet increased expenditures and show a large yearly surplus.

The credit for the original draft of tax bills and issuing new securities so as to cut the average interest rate well below four per cent belongs to the secretary of the treasury. The credit for a policy of economy that produced a surplus, reduced taxes and increased prosperity belongs to the president. He has been aided by the budget bureau, the department, and the congress. It is a wonderful record. But because of decreased business there must now be some rigid economy to prevent a deficit.

FISHING BOAT AND 25 ABOARD SAVED AT SEA

VENTURA, Calif., July 28.—(UP)—The fishing smack Mary Ann was credited today with saving the fishing boat Starlight and the latter's 25 passengers and crew of three.

The Mary Ann returned here this morning to report that it towed the Starlight to the Anacapa islands after it found the craft floundering in rough water in the channel near the islands.

The motors of the Starlight had failed and it was half-filled with water when the Mary Ann arrived. All the passengers and members of the crew on the Starlight had donned life preservers in the belief that the craft was doomed.

The Mary Ann passed a line to the Starlight and then towed the craft to the Anacapas. Both ships remained there over night and the Mary Ann came here this morn-

DRY CHIEFS OF NATION LAUNCH NEW CAMPAIGN

Sign New Declaration That Will Safeguard Personal Rights

NEW YORK, July 28.—(UP)—The country's chief prohibition leaders have signed a new declaration of policy repudiating all enforcement practices that do not safeguard every personal right guaranteed by the constitution.

The dry group, in issuing the new declaration yesterday, said it was preparing a campaign to offset the influence of outstanding figures such as Dwight W. Morrow who takes a definite position against prohibition.

One of the signers, the Rev. James K. Shields, New Jersey Anti-Saloon league superintendent, characterized Morrow as the type who is likely to cause prohibitionists the most unrest.

In the part which referred to constitutional rights, the dry declaration said:

"Enemies of prohibition endeavor to make this (the 18th amendment) appear as offensive sumptuary legislation. This is not true, and we specifically repudiate all enforcement policies that do not regard and safeguard every personal right guaranteed by the constitution.

GIRL MAKES FOUR PARACHUTE JUMPS

Miss Cox made four jumps from airplanes within three hours breaking the record of two successive leaps which Miss Bobbie Brocks established in Los Angeles in 1922. She collapsed from nervousness while preparing to make a fifth jump.

The girl narrowly escaped injury when she was forced to "slip" her parachute to avoid landing on an automobile on the second of her four descents.

JOHN STRANG ENDS LIFE FROM BRIDGE

PASADENA, Calif., July 28.—(UP)—John Strang, 76, retired, became the 31st victim of the so-called "suicide span" when he leaped from the Colorado boulevard bridge to the rocks 130 feet below.

Strang's nurse, having heard him threaten to commit suicide from the bridge, raced there in a taxi-cab when he disappeared from home. Strang jumped just as she came upon the bridge. Thirty other persons have leaped to death from the same bridge.

Beach Youth Found Beside Wrecked Car

Seven Persons Are Hurt in One Mishap Near San Clemente Saturday

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS in Orange county over the week end took a toll of one life and showed 15 other persons injured in a series of seven crashes reported to police authorities and at hospitals.

Mystery surrounds the cause of the accident which yesterday morning cost the life of Domingo Acosta, of 6500 Regent street, Huntington Beach, on the Coast highway three miles north of Laguna Beach.

Acosta was found lying beside his overturned and burning automobile. His skull was fractured and his chest crushed. He was rushed to the Laguna Beach Emergency hospital, and then taken to the Orange county hospital, where he died at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, without regaining consciousness.

Police who made an investigation were of the opinion that the man was alone in his car at the time of the accident. They also advanced the theory that he may have fallen asleep and allowed the car to run off the road. So far as is known, no other car was involved.

Acosta is said to have a father residing at Stanton and a brother at Huntington Beach. The body was taken to the Winbigler Mission Funeral home, where Coroner Charles D. Brown will hold an inquest at a time to be designated later, he said.

Seven Are Hurt

Seven persons were cut, bruised and suffered from shock as the result of an automobile collision on the Coast highway five miles south of San Clemente Saturday night. All received medical treatment at the San Clemente hospital and then were allowed to go to their homes.

Vernon Spencer, of Vista, and Mr. and Mrs. Michael T. Irving and small daughter were driving south in their car when it collided headon with a machine driven by Mrs. Mary Adams, of 12604 Cometa street, San Fernando. Mrs. Adams, Isobel Clarke and her brother were injured in this car.

CACTUS-SITTER ON DESERT DEFIES SUN

YUMA, Ariz., July 28.—(UP)—On an old immigrant trail crossed by the gold seekers in 1849, Lawrence Peters, 13-year-old newsboy, perched atop a giant Sagharo cactus today and defied the desert sun.

Lawrence, who spends his time playing solitaire, told his ground crew he intended to stay up 100 hours. He passed his 56th hour at midnight undaunted by weather ranging from 108 degrees of heat to a drenching rain and electrical storm.

"MA" FERGUSON RUNS AHEAD IN RACE FOR DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR

DALLAS, Tex., July 28.—(UP)—A matronly woman who turns to the housewifely talks of canning preserves during political doldrums, and a multi-millionaire newspaper publisher, and oil man, will lay their policies of government before Texas Democrats in the run-off primary race for the gubernatorial nomination.

The outcome of the contest, which promises to run the whole scale in contrasts, is regarded as virtual determination of the state's next chief executive.

Miriam A. "Ma" Ferguson, whose political fortunes have soared and fell during her public life as official companion of her husband, former Gov. James A. Ferguson, and Ross Sterling, emerged successful from Saturday's primary in which 11 candidates were entered.

If Mrs. Ferguson, referred to by thousands of Texas plainsmen as "Ma," defeats Sterling it will send her to the state's executive mansion for a fourth time. Twice she has gone there as the wife of "Farmer Jim," as her husband who served a term and a half and was impeached, and once as governor in her own right.

Returns from 243 out of 253 counties in the state give Mrs. Ferguson a lead over Sterling of more than 55,000 votes. Sixty-nine of the counties were complete.

RESCUE WORK IN 34 TOWNS AND CITIES IN SOUTHERN ITALY BEING RUSHED TODAY

NAPLES, July 28.—(UP)—Plans for a new Southern Italy were were being completed today as the Italian government ordered the greatest possible speed in caring for its homeless citizens.

The rescue work in the 34 towns and cities destroyed or seriously damaged by last Wednesday's earthquake was not even contemplated when the reconstruction plan neared the final stage. Soldiers wearing gas masks still sought among the ruins for bodies and trapped living victims.

Several hospital trains arrived here today with the quake's victims, who were placed in local hospitals for more up to date treatment.

The reconstruction of the devastated region will begin as soon as engineers making their final surveys of the territory's needs, and the Italian cabinet appropriates the necessary funds to carry on the work. That will be some time this week, it was believed.

Plan Model Town

Avezzano will be used as a model town in the reconstruction. This town was rebuilt in 1915 after it was destroyed by an earthquake, and contains chiefly one and two story buildings of reinforced concrete. Earthquakes since then have done no damage there, and the new southern Italy will be built along these lines.

Many of the towns will be moved from their old locations on hilltops to the valleys, where they will be safer from the earthquake's trembling. Most of the damage in the last earthquake was done in towns located at high altitudes. The government long had sought unsuccessfully to persuade townsmen to move into the valley.

SEEK WHITE GIRL IN KOREAN MURDER

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28—(UP)—Police here today sought "a beautiful young white girl" in connection with the slaying of H. K. Shinn, a Korean, whose knife-slashed body was found early yesterday.

The girl, authorities state, is a habitue of Chinatown resorts and incited jealousy between Shinn and an unknown rival.

Shinn, a barber, was discovered dead with a crushed skull and more than 16 cuts on his face and body. A large amount of jewels and money was left untouched in his possession, indicating that robbery was not the motive.

HEAVY TRAFFIC REPORTED OVER S. A. BOULEVARD

More Than 1000 Cars Use New Highway In One Hour On Sunday

FOLLOWING THE opening Saturday of Santa Ana boulevard, scores of Santa Ana persons have driven over the beautiful new entrance to the city from the north and commented on the beauty of the avenue, particularly at night, when the lamps in the ornamental lighting system shed their rays over the wide avenue.

Interest also centered today in whether or not the highway would be utilized by motorists driving in and out of Santa Ana. The fact that it is being used was evidenced today when B. A. Hershey, sergeant of the city motorcycle police, reported that 1037 cars were checked in an hour period between 10 and 11 a. m., yesterday.

The officer observed that many outside motorists not familiar with the new road hesitated yesterday as they approached the north end of the boulevard and continued on into town over the old route, Chapman avenue and Main street. It was pointed out that as yet no signs have been posted directing traffic to Santa Ana and southern points over the new route.

Hershey made several checks yesterday that are of interest. His check between 10 and 11 a. m., revealed that one out of every seven cars passing south on the boulevard turned on North Broadway to come into the city.

Between 9 and 10 a. m., 482 cars travelling south took Santa Ana boulevard and 253 followed Chapman avenue.

From 3 to 4 p. m., 987 cars passed over the boulevard, traveling in both directions. Between 4 and 5 p. m. 523 cars used Main street as

ATTEMPT BAN ON SOVIET EXPORTS

NEW YORK, July 28.—(UP)—The wage earners protective conference, an organization of 500,000 workers affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, has started a movement to bar all Soviet exports from the United States.

Matthew Woll, head of the organization and vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, announced the ban would be sought on the ground that Soviet materials and goods are the product of convict or forced labor. The provision of the new tariff law barring convict labor goes into effect Jan. 1, 1932.

RAIN EARLY TODAY MAY GIVE RELIEF

BEACHES CROWDED

Crops in Middlewest Reported Badly Damaged By Extreme Hot Winds

CHICAGO, July 28.—(UP)—More than a score of deaths were recorded in the mid-west over the week end as a result of the heat wave in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys.

Four persons died in Minnesota, four in Chicago, three in Illinois exclusive of the Chicago area, five in the St. Louis area, and six in Indiana. Temperatures over the mid-west were well over the 100-degree mark.

A trace of rain in Chicago early today, coupled with the weather forecast, promised relief before nightfall. A northwest wind was predicted for the upper Mississippi valley and extending south as far as northern Kansas, rain was predicted for parts of Illinois, Missouri, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska.

The heat record thus far is held by Conway, Ark., where the mercury touched 113 degrees yesterday. Temperatures ranging from 100 to 110 degrees were recorded in Illinois, Nebraska, Kentucky, Iowa, Indiana, Missouri, Texas, Louisiana and Washington, D. C.

Beaches in Chicago Sunday were crowded with thousands seeking relief. Condition were similar in other parts of the country.

Crops in the middlewest already have been heavily damaged.

AIR DERBY PILOTS TO RESUME FLIGHT

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—(UP)—Disrupting their plans to remain here until Wednesday, the twelve pilots remaining in the all-American air derby, were ordered today to resume the flight tomorrow.

The fliers had asked for an extra day in which to make repairs to their planes but officials of the flight refused this delay and told the contestants they must follow the original schedule and leave tomorrow for Ogden, Utah, the next stopover.

Lt. Lee C. Gehlbach, Little Rock, Ark., leading the derby so far, will be the first off tomorrow at 9 a. m.

Remove Americans From China Today

PEIPING, China, July 28.—(UP)—American residents of Kiukiang and Changsha were evacuated by American gunboats today before the unimpeded advance of Chinese Communist troops into Hunan and Kiangsi provinces.

The gunboats Monocacy and Palos were dispatched to the two cities to take out Americans, who were said to number 100. They were also attempting to remove summer vacationists at Kuling before the Communists reached there.

The Communists already have seized Nanchang, in Kiangsi province, looting and burning the city, and slaughtering hundreds of Chinese residents. Many other sections of Kiangsi province and of Hunan where Changsha is located, also were occupied, and the advance continued steadily northward.

German Aviators Refuel for Trip

Hirth and Weller arrived here at 6:55 p. m. yesterday from Hamworth airdrome, London, to start their flight. They will fly first to Iceland, where they will refuel before continuing their flight.

RINGSIDE, WIMBLEDON, London, July 28.—(UP)—Young Stribling of Georgia defeated Phil Scott of England before a crowd of 45,000 here tonight in a match billed for the "world's heavyweight championship." Stribling knocked out the Englishman in the second round of a scheduled 10-round bout.

Scenes of wildest disorder preceded the bout when a wild unruly crowd of 45,000 continuously broke the barriers formed by police and stormed into the higher priced seats which already were filled.

The police were swept off their feet and were powerless to calm the great throng which filled the arena to capacity. It is believed to be the biggest crowd ever to see a glove fight in England, home of boxing.

The boxers in the preliminaries fought under extreme difficulties, as the crowd stood up in its chairs and cheered the battle between the police and the mob invading the ringside sections.

Stribling was the first to enter the ring, coming in at 9:25, followed two minutes later by Scott.

The Santa Ana city council is now having plans and specifications drawn for a sign to be erected at the north end of the boulevard, directing traffic into Santa Ana over the new route. Discussions by council members have indicated that a majority of them favor a suspended sign rather than an arch, and it is believed that final selection will be of this type.

Just what the wording on the sign will be has not been determined, but indications point to use of the words, "Santa Ana and Coast Cities."

RANCHER OF VILLA PARK FALLS DEAD

Walter Scott Elmer, 47, prominent rancher of Villa Park, died suddenly from heart failure Saturday night at the Los Serranos Country club near Chino. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at the Rosedale chapel in Los Angeles.

Elmer has lived near Villa Park for five years and had just completed an expensive new home equipped with a large swimming pool and other luxuries. He was attending a dinner dance at the country club and stepped out on the porch, where he fell dead.

The rancher is survived by his wife, Mrs. Anna Elmer and his mother, Mrs. Nancy Elmer of Los Angeles. Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Gillogly Funeral parlors of Orange. The Hollywood Lodge of Masons, of which he was a member, will be in charge of the services.

Until the Mary Ann reported this morning fears were held for both it and the Starlight. Both were due back here with fishing parties last night but failed to return.

Captain Miller said that the Japanese told him that two other boats had failed to stop to aid the Starlight.

THAT'S TRAVELING

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Airplanes carrying U. S mail have flown a distance equal to nearly 1000 times around the world during the period from February, 1926, the Post Office department reports. In 1926 only 9 routes were involved in carrying mail. Chicago-Frisco is the longest, covering 1932 miles.

REAL FAIRY CASTLE

A real fairy-tale castle, only one of its kind in the world, here is shown after completion at Hamburg, N. J. Designed by Joseph Urban, celebrated architect and stage artist, the $50,000 structure of poured stone represents the gingerbread house in Hansel and Gretel, and is built on the grounds of Fred H. Bennett. The sparkling roof, white as cake icing, is decorated with pink and blue imitation candy hearts, and fantastic figures decorate stairways and reproductions of fairy-tale scenes—all for the entertainment of visiting children.

struction program, long freight trains moved out of Naples at frequent intervals today, bearing lumber, bricks and cement for the new buildings. Other building supplies were sent in military and private motor trucks.

Homeless Cared For

The homeless population, meanwhile, was cared for in tents and portable huts similar to those used behind the front during the war. The devastated area resembled a great encampment.

Telegraph and telephone service has been restored completely, and damaged bridges replaced, so that communication throughout the region was normal. Radio stations, established by the army engineers, were functioning as a complementary service.

While only two American citizens were killed by the earthquake, and they of Italian ancestry, southern Italy is the 'emigrant territory,' and there was scarcely a family in the earthquake zone but had connections in America.

Many inhabitants of Sossio, San Nicolo and the Trevico section have relatives in Boston and Newark, N. J., while New York, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Chicago often are mentioned.

Several Rescued

Hopes that more living persons might be rescued from the ruins were raised throughout the section when three girls, between the ages of eight and six, were extricated from a demolished house at Melfi, and when a four months old boy, Filippo Antinozzi, was found beneath an overturned cupboard at Lacedonia, where his entire family was killed.

A mother and two children also were found alive at Aquilonia, and while the mother was in a weakened condition, the children were playing as though nothing had happened.

The three day tour of King Victor Emanuel, who personally contributed 100,000 lire to the relief work, also served to bolster the inhabitants courage. The king went from town to town, talking with survivors and rescue workers, and inspecting the revastation at first hand.

In the light of his previous action, it is expected that Governor Young will follow the judgment of the court again.

As though anticipating that the governor will use the court's recommendation on Billings as a guide in his case, Mooney today sent a new petition for a pardon to the governor's office in Sacramento.

Frank P. Walsh, New York attorney, drew up the petition. It was said that Mooney was convicted on the testimony of MacDonald and Frank Oxman, Oregon cattleman. MacDonald has confessed that he was a perjurer, the petition said, while Oxman's testimony was discredited years ago, even by those opposed to a pardon for Billings and Mooney.

Meanwhile, the disappearance of two reports on the case from police files here was reported.

The reports are the basis for a denial by Police Captain Charles Goff, that he identified Mooney and Billings for MacDonald, as the latter charges in his repudiation affidavit.

"I expect the reports will turn up," Goff said. "The search isn't complete yet."

SEEK BODY OF MEXICAN YOUTH IN GROVE HERE

Search was being made in a 60-acre gum grove, located on Ocean avenue, west of the Santa Ana river, today by Sheriff Sam Jernigan and deputies for the body of a Mexican youth, reported to be lying there in a sack.

A telephone call received from Long Beach told the sheriff's office that a search of the gum grove would reveal the body. How the body got there, if it is there, or the nature of the boy's death was not revealed in the telephone call.

F. W. Howard, chief criminal deputy sheriff, said today that he was skeptical regarding the truth of the report, but that searchers were sent to the grove, nevertheless, on the theory that the annonymous report may have been true. No success in finding the corpse had been made at noon today.

The report from Long Beach was to the effect that the body had been there several days.

A giant 200-inch reflector telescope, now under construction in the United States, will weigh 1600 tons and cost more than $12,500,000 when completed.

Wreck at Olive

Two persons were reported injured at 8:30 o'clock last night, when the car in which they were riding, driven by D. E. Drake, 23, of 3517 South Flower street, Los Angeles, collided with a machine driven by John Valenzuella, near the Olive bridge.

Drake and Violet Knight, 19, of Inglewood, passengers in his machine, were treated at the Orange county hospital. No one in the Valenzuella machine was reported hurt.

Mexican Injured

Andrew Lopez, of Huntington Beach was seriously injured at 10 o'clock Sunday morning when the machine in which he was riding collided with a car driven by M. H. Smith, of Lindsey, Calif., near Midway City. He was taken to the Huntington Beach hospital.

Three Are Hurt

Three persons were reported injured at Seventeenth street and Grand avenue at 11 o'clock yesterday morning when an automobile driven by T. J. Rhone, of Brea, collided with a car reported driven by G. W. Rockefeller, of Santa Ana, Route No. 1.

Viola Rhone, Glenn Rhone and T. G. Rhone, all were reported badly cut and bruised. They were taken to the Orange county hospital for treatment. No one in the Rockefeller machine was hurt.

Louis Thompson, of 1418 South Fifth street, Alhambra, was given first aid treatment at the Santa Ana Valley hospital yesterday for cuts and bruises reported received in an automobile crash.

State Hospitals Prisons Gain In Population Daily

SACRAMENTO, July 28.—Population of California's state prisons and hospitals is increasing at the rate of six persons daily, even allowing for those released from these institutions.

Earl E. Jensen, state director of institutions, made this estimate after completing his quarterly census report. A total of 33,501 persons are now on the rolls, compared with 32,891 three months ago.

Men inmates number 17,293, having a two to one advantage over the women, of whom are but 8,011 confined in institutions.

Giant British Dirigible To Fly Soon

LONDON, July 28.—(UP)—The R-100, giant British dirigible, will start its trans-Atlantic flight to Canada as soon as weather permits, the British air ministry announced yesterday.

Weather charts at present do not indicate when flying conditions might be suitable for start of the flight, which will require between 60 and 70 hours to reach Montreal its destination.

The dirigible returned to its hangar at Cardington early Saturday night after a 24-hour test flight. It was announced that the ship was in excellent condition.

Leaders last week, in the big Fox Coast-Santa Ana Register Popularity contest now being conducted by the paper and the Fox West Coast and the Fox Broadway theaters, continued to hold their respective positions, following the counting of votes again Saturday night.

Norman Paul, who went into the lead in the boy's division last week, was 16,000 votes ahead of Mario Mecurio, who has been at the head of the list of candidates almost from the start.

In the girl's division, Corrine Pennington continued to lead Luvina Layton Schade, being 12,000 in front with the last count, while Sue Verburg, Legion Drum Corps candidate, was in third place more than 100,000 votes behind the second place.

Everett Conkright made a neat gain during the last count and now has more than 400,000 votes, while Dorothy Reynolds, Orange girl, continued to make progress in her race and is less than 50,000 votes behind third place.

The contest runs until August 4. Votes can be procured through the purchase of admission tickets to either of the Fox theaters in Santa Ana, through the sale of merchandise from any of the merchants who have offered prizes in the contest, through the sale of subscriptions to The Santa Ana Register and through the sale of scrip books to the theaters here.

First prize is the leading part in a big motion picture to be made in Santa Ana, the winner also getting his or her pick of the some dozen big prizes which have been offered by the merchants.

Ballot boxes have been placed at each theater so that persons can vote for their friends in the contest at the theaters.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

It is not to the weaklings of our race, who craved another existence to make up for what they had missed here, that we owe the stability of our well-nigh universal faith in immortality, but to the great thinkers.

The conviction is deep-seated in the minds and hearts of men like Plato, Zoroaster, the philosophers of India and the Taoist sages of China, along with all the Christian leaders.

Brave men, who were ready to face facts as they discovered them, regardless of the conclusion which might be reached, have found themselves convinced that immortality is sure.

Accept their verdict to strengthen your hopes and walk each day with the realization that you are to live forever.

FISHER—July 27, 1930, Mrs. Nellie G. Fisher, of 336 Pine avenue, age 44 years. She is survived by her husband, Milton J. Fisher. Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Harrell & Brown Funeral home, 116 West Seventeenth street, the Rev. W. S. Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church, officiating. Interment in Fairhaven cemetery.

HOPEWELL—In Santa Ana, July 27, 1930, Mary Agnes Hopewell, age 35 years. She is survived by her husband, Jimmie E. Hopewell, and five children, Otho George, Doris Agnes, Virginia Tennessee, Mabel Clair, and Violet Rae, all of Garden Grove. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m., at the Harrell and Brown funeral home, 116 W. Seventeenth St., the Rev. Geo. A. Warmer officiating. Interment Central Memorial park.

FLORES—In Santa Ana, July 27, 1930, Mary Flores, age six months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sisto Flores. Services and interment, under the direction of Harrell and Brown, will be held at 9 o'clock tomorrow at Santa Ana cemetery.

WILSON—At the home of his aunt, Mary D. McGuire, 383 South Orange stret, Orange, July 27, 1930, Frank H. Wilson, aged 60 years. Notice of funeral will be announced later by Smith and Tuthill.

ABOUT 48,000 VOTERS SIGNED, BACKS REPORTS

Registration for the primary election is approximately 300 greater than two years ago, County Clerk J. M. Backs estimated today as his force of registration deputies was hard at work checking records and totaling the figures. The estimated registration is between 47,000 and 48,000.

The registration books closed Saturday for the primary, which is to be held on August 26, and there was an unusually heavy last day rush, which the county clerk attributed as due in no small degree to the publicity given through the Register. The clerk kept his office open as late as voters continued to come in Saturday and did not close until after 10 o'clock.

In addition to the large number registered in the last few days, there have been more changes of party affiliations than ever recorded before in the history of the office, Backs asserted. The changes are expected to run close to a total of 200. These were persons who had registered as democrats or prohibitionists and who have changed party affiliation to Republican, evidently in order to express a preference for dry candidates who are running on this ticket.

The registration at this time two years ago was about 45,700, Backs stated, and the total registration at the fall election then was 51,097.

Bruce Harnois gained his mother's consent and resumed his interripted tree sitting operations at 8 o'clock Saturday night. The time elapsed at 1 o'clock was 41 hours.

The young Santa Ana tree sitting representative has a host of attendants during the day but the one who will see him through is Bill Semnacker. It must be said that Bruce is not literally sitting on a limb but has a platform built and has several blankets. In discussing his plans Bruce stated that he would stay in the tree until all existing records were broken. His family voiced regrets today that the tree was situated so near the residence as Bruce wakes them up each morning calling for food.

With this young man's ascent to the tree tops, Santa Ana is officially entered in the race for tree sitting supremacy that is sweeping the nation.

Farm Bureau Work Is Discusse dWhen Secretaries Meet

A discussion of various problems in connection with the work of the county farm bureau organizations under the direction of Harry Morrell, organization director of the California Farm Bureau federation, featured the meeting of the executive secretaries of county farm bureaus, which was held at the Ambassador hotel in Los Angeles Friday and Saturday.

R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm bureau, was one of the four secretaries from Southern California in attendance at the meeting. Flaherty was secretary of the meeting and Earl Maharg, Los Angeles county secretary, was chairman.

Membership campaigns, records, development of volunteer leadership and organization methods were discussed by the group of secretaries.

Fullerton Youth Paralysis Victim

The first case of infantile paralysis since July 15, was reported Saturday to the health department. The patient is 4-year-old William Winters, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Winters, of Fullerton. The boy was staying at Balboa when the first signs of the malady was noticed and he was quarantined to his home.

This makes the third case of this sickness in Orange county, the other two being quarantined at the Orange county hospital. These two cases will be dismissed Friday, it is reported.

Council Members To Attend Meet

The Santa Ana city council will miss a Monday night session tonight for the first time in "many moons."

The members will join with members of other city councils in the Southland and representatives of chambers of commerce in a jubilee meeting to be held at San Bernardino tonight in connection with the institution of work preliminary to the building of Boulder dam.

Congressman Phil Swing, who arrived in San Bernardino from Washington yesterday, will be the principal speaker, and it is expected he will present in detail the status of the project.

The mass meeting will be held at the public auditorium there and will be preceded by a street parade.

Court Notes

LeRoy Allen Parks, charged with non support of an infant child, was given probation in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning, when his case was heard on condition that he pay $25 per month for the child's keep, the first payment to be made August 1.

ADVERTISE FOR BIDS ON SCHOOL IN SANTA ANA

Bids for the new Willard Junior high school plant to be erected on the site recently purchased at Ross street and West Washington avenue are being advertised today and will be opened by the Santa Aan board of education at its meeting August 12. Estimates of cost prepared by the architect run at approximately $330,000.

The general contract for new construction and alternates at the Lathrop junior high school has been awarded to Wilson-Bever, Santa Ana contractors, whose bid for the general contract was $53,-122. Total costs of the work at Lathrop are expected to run close to $68,800. The work here is to provide a new cafeteria building, a new eight-room class unit and changes in the interior arrangement of the main building. A Los Angeles firm was low on the bidding but was not given the contract after an investigation was made by the board.

Heating and plumbing contracts at Lathrop have been awarded by the board of education to Hickman brothers. The contract for electrical work has not yet been awarded.

The new Willard plant, which it is anticipated will be completed in eight months, is to include a main class room and office building, auditorium of 600 seating capacity, cafeteria and shops. The total costs at Willard, including architect's fees, site, landscaping and tennis courts, is estimated at $411,875.

YOUNG WINS IN STRAW VOTE OF REALTY GROUP

Realtors of the state will vote overwhelmingly for nomination of C. C. Young for re-election as governor of the state, if a straw vote taken here Saturday at meeting of the board of directors of the California Real Estate association may be taken as an advance indication as to how real estate brokers will cast ballots in the primary election.

The group of men and women present at the meeting were truly representative of the most important sections of the state. The straw vote on the gubernatorial nomination fight was taken at the tables just after the group had finished luncheon a St. Ann's inn, and the count revealed that 67 were for Young, 5 for James Rolph and 6 for Buron R. Fitts.

The directors devoted their discussions to various items concerning the association, possible legislation that will be of benefit to property owners, and the program for the convention to be held at Santa Cruz October 21-24.

Interest in the discussions centered chiefly around proposed legislation creating a system of taxation that will transfer from real estate some of the burden real estate is carrying in the development of revenues for state, city and county governments.

Resolutions were adopted by the board complimenting Herbert N. Alleman, president of the Santa Ana Realty board; W. F. Croddy, secretary; F. C. Pope, regional vice president; Leon Lauderbach, chairman of committee on arrangements; the board of directors and entertainment committee, the chamber of commerce and St. Ann's inn, for the success and pleasure of the quarterly meeting. The resolutions also carried regrets of the board at confinement of Carl Mock to the hospital as a result of an operation fr appendicitis. Mock has been a very active member of the state board for a number of years.

Is $1000 Worth Saving on Your Loan?

IF refinancing your present real estate loan will give you a more convenient and economical type of financing, you want to know it.

Because: (1) they are fully paid by monthly instalments of as little as $10.24, and in some cases $8.99, per $1000; (2) may run for 12 or even 15 years without renewal, and (3) cannot be called providing the terms of the loan are complied with.

And perhaps you can save as much by refinancing as the property owner we tell you of here:

He was paying off his original loan of $7000 over 145 months by monthly payments of $11 per $1000, or a total of $77 per month. Analysis showed that his interest rate was 8.4%.

By refinancing on our 7% basis he secured the same size loan, running for the same term, yet his monthly payments was only $10.24 per $1000, or a total of $71.68. Thus he is saving $5.32 interest each month, or $771.40 over the life of his loan.

By placing this $5.32 each month with us, in accordance with our usual 6% provisions, he will accumulate his saving to approximately $1000 by the time his loan is paid.

Call or send for our new booklet, "Charting Your Course to Lower Cost Loans." It will quickly show you your possible saving by refinancing your residential or income property loan on our 7% basis.

We are making long term loans of from 65% to 75% of the sound market value of residential and income property meeting our qualifications in or near to cities served by our offices. Borrowers need not carry savings balances with us.

SOVIET CURBS SALE OF JAZZ IN ITS STORES

MOSCOW, July 28.—(UP)—Soviet opposition to jazz music apparently has been greatly intensified in the last few months. The Communist regime is in no mood to trifle with such abominations as syncopated rhythms.

The publication of sheet music of jazz dances has been entirely discontinued by the music departments of the state publishing houses.

At the same time the manufacture of jazz dance records has been stopped by the state phonograph establishments.

Although always under a cloud of official disfavor, these items nevertheless previously were provided in small quantities. As there are no copyright safeguards for American music, a good deal of the sheet music and the phonograph records was a frank reproduction of American songs.

The import duties on notes or records of foreign manufacture are literally prohibitive. With local production cut off, jazz may indeed become extinct here after a while. Certainly the latest songs will be unable to crash the Soviet gates and whatever jazz survives the official campaign of extermination will be of an early vintage. "Hallelujah" is still being played here as a late American innovation.

With the greater influx of tourists, however, a concession has been made in this direction in the hotels. A jazz band functions in a new over-decorated restaurant in the Savoy hotel here. The government is said to have spent 75,000 rubles for beautification of this restaurant. Its appointments include a small fountain where large fish cavort despite the fish shortage. Each of its four rooms is gotten up in a different style—gold room, silver room, etc.—but all are equally garish, especially when contrasted with the poor mission-style furniture.

For some reason the majority of the foreigners have failed to respond to the thick grandeur of the Savoy establishment, which is filled instead with real Muscovites. They sit for hours staring at the gold and silver and purple embellishments and are properly shocked by the size of the bill when they are ready to settle accounts.

There is no lack of summer amusements for the populace. In addition to the huge Park and Rest and Culture, there are several smaller parks in the heart of the city, each equipped with theatres, cinema shows, vaudeville houses and refreshment places. The Moscow River is crowded with rowboats which can be rented for a moderate sum. The workers' clubs and a number of special sport clubs provide tennis fields, swimming and other facilities for exercise.

PIONEER TELLS OF EARLY DAYS IN CALIFORNIA

The local parlors of the Native Sons of the Golden West and Native Daughters of the Golden West were hosts to 100 persons at a barbecue dinner served at Hewes park yesterday at 1 p. m.

Following a sumptuous feast of barbecued beef and pork, Spanish beans, corn, coffee and watermelon, prepared and served by committees representing the two organizations, an impromptu program was arranged that developed into one of the most entertaining the parlors ever had at an out door meeting.

State Head Present

The occasion was graced by the presence of John Newell, of Los Angeles, state president of the Native Sons and by the "grand old man of Santiago canyon," Judge J. E. Plasants.

Requested by the state president to recite to the assembly some of his early day experiences in California, Judge Pleasants sat upon the platform at the park and recounted happenings of 80 years ago, demonstrating the remarkable memory he has. He told how he came across the plains in May, 1849, in a train comprising 32 wagons drawn by oxen and with 120 persons in the train group, five of them women.

Judge Pleasants, who is 91, was but 10 years old when he came to California. His father and older brother were with him. Their first mining operations were on Feather river at Bidwell Bar, where the three panned for gold a short time, meeting with success in gathering flakes of gold from the gravel and sand of the stream. None of the members of the family ever had had experience in mining and they did the work in a crude way as compared with methods that were later developed for recovery of the rich mineral.

Land at $1.25 An Acre

The pioneer related how later his father started out to investigate lands in the vicinity of Sacramento, and how his father purchaed from the government for $1.25 an acre 1500 acres of rich land in what is the valley being named after his father.

It was in 1856 that Judge Pleasants came south to Los Angeles—and he was sent south to attend a school conducted in Los Angeles by Judge Wolfskill. Wolfskill at the time was the owner of 11 leagues of land in what is now Orange county, the holdings embracing what is now the Irvine ranch.

In 1861 the owner arranged with Judge Pleasants to come down here and look after his big holdings, and the pioneer established his first home at what is now Irivne park. Later in 1866, Wolfskill sold his land to James Irvine, father of the present owner, and Pleasants acquired property further up the canyon, the Madame Modjeska place being a portion of his first holdings. Judge Pleasants bought and sold various pieces of land in the canyon in the meantime, and for 69 years has lived continuously in the vicinity of Irvine park.

Tells of Purposes

Newell made a short talk on the aims and purposes of the order he heads, and recited some of the accomplishments of the lodge in preserving historic land marks, in the erection of monuments and in maintenance of a home for homeless children. He said that since institution of the latter some 10 years ago, 4015 children had been placed in good homes.

Asserting that the 6,000,000 laborers reported to be unemployed in the United States were largely Americans, with foreigners occupying positions that the Americans should have, Newell said that the Native Sons of the Golden West would continue to work for exclusion of other foreigners as it had for the exclusion of Japanese.

Among others introduced from the platform were Willard Smith, Z. B. West, J. M. Backs, W. C. Jerome, Ray Adkinson, J. C. Lamb and Earl Abbey.

Signs With Name Of City Suggested By Chief Rogers

"What town is this?"

That is the question being asked Santa Ana police officers at Fourth and Main streets, at Seventeenth and Main streets and other places in the city almost every day, according to L. C. Rogers, chief of police.

Rogers thinks it would be a good idea if the city could find some way to finance the erection of a number of signboards or other manner of advertising the city's name on the streets leading into town.

Rogers said that several of his officers had reported to him that they were asked the question almost every day by tourists.

Police Stop Fight, Jail 3 Motorists

Three men, who stopped their automobile on the new Santa Ana boulevard last night to stage a battle among themselves, were arrested by Santa Ana police officers and are being held in the county jail.

A. H. Quesnel, 32, Los Angeles salesman; George Maloney and Thomas Maloney, also of Los Angeles, were the three arrested.

Officers Perry, Wolford, Flower and Murrilla soon put an end to the skirmish. They reported they did not find out what the trouble was about.

YACHTING NEWS

BY STUART H. LUCAS

The third race in the July series for Stars was sailed in a good sailing breeze Saturday afternoon over the Balboa outside course, and Tempe IV added another victory to her already impressive string of firsts.

The wind was from the northwest and steadily freshened until on the second lap the spray was flying and the canvas showed wet on the lower quarter.

The Plumbs and the Merrills got into this race and while their lack of tuning up was apparent, their continued presence will make the going more difficult for the leaders as they round their craft into racing form.

No. 474 got the break of a wonderfully close start, but lost out on the first windward leg and never regained their position.

The course was dead to windward and return, twice around and the ability to beat was of more importance than in races where the slides predominate.

Bartholmae took a long leg out to sea on the first leg and found enough extra wind to overcome the additional drift, and made the first mark two seconds ahead of Hubbard, who gave a great exhibition of pinching on the last leg of the beat, and saved making stays twice, thus gaining about four boat lengths, but Barthomae headed him and tacked around the mark, taking the weather position for the run home. It required quick work and both boats were handled perfectly at this point. Bartholmae increased his lead on the run slightly, but lost the additional gain on his jibe before the home mark was reached, and completed the first round two seconds ahead of Hubbard, and then sailed on to the bay, leaving the race, having carried away a spreader. Had he continued on he would probably have lost his mast in the increasing breeze. Webster, who at one time was leading on the first boat, lost out on a long shore tack and was 38 seconds behind Hubbard at the first mark. On the second round he closed the gap to 18 seconds, but could not quite catch the flying Hubbard. On the second windward leg, Keith on coming about to get from under the lee of Merriman, did not take into consideration the additional length of the boom on the old rig, and tipped the end with his headstay, carrying away his headstays. These were soon repaired but having fouled the Tempe I, Keith also headed home. At the first mark the picture presented as the boats approcahed and rounded was one that will never be forgotten by those who saw it. Boats approaching from both directions, it was necessary for some to tack to round, and with the numerous overlaps that existed, the necessary maneuvering was an exhibition of seamanship that is seldom seen in such large doses. Five boats rounded inside of 10 seconds, and another group of five in 17 seconds. Four boats also finished inside of 18 seconds. Start 2:40 p. m.

The bay sloop handicap was sailed last Thursday and Walton Hubbard, the winning star boat skipper of the local fleet, found himself all wet in the handling of the smaller craft. He was so wet in fact that he took the better part of an hour on a sand bank in the middle of the channel drying his sails and baling out his boat after taking a graceful flop into the drink when his craft upset during the race. Walt was well up in the lead when he took his customary look over the side, searching for seaweed. He must have forgotten that the usual 900 pounds of iron was not on the bottom of the boat.

When next seen, our popular skipper and his crew were swimming lustily, with the boat's painter in their teeth, towing the immersed craft to shallow water. Walt's well known gameness was evidenced, however, by the fact that he finished the race and placed for the future events. First place was won by Miss Gene Sherman in the "Blunt Arrow," second, by Miss June White ni the "Winged Arrow" and third by Andy Wilson in the "A.B.C." The next race will be sailed next Thursday. All of Hubbards friends are pulling for him to do better then.

Starboat Race Sunday

The wind was northwest and about the same velocity as on Saturday. The course was the little triangle, twice around, with the first leg out to sea. The start was at 1:35, and the time of sailing the race was two hours, three minutes and 34 seconds. The six meter boats which started at 2 p. m. required two hours, one minute and 39 seconds over the same course. This comparison shows the stars with the new rig to be very fast in this weather.

Hubbard broke over the line a second before Webster, but the Tom Robin had the better position as she was to windward, but Tommy got bothered on the first beat and finished the first round in fifth place, which he held to the finish. Bartholmae reversed his campaign of Saturday, and came off on the port tack, as soon as he could clear the ruck, and finished the first round in fourth place, which he improved on the second lap to second after a jockeying finish with Dan Murphy, whom he beat by one second. Keith gained a position on the second round and is in third place for the series, having been headed by Bartholmae by two points for the show position up to date.

The final elimination race will be sailed next Sunday, and unless Hubbard gets dismasted or stubs his toe some other way, he is looked upon as a sure possessor of another gold star, and will represent Newport harbor at Chesapeake bay next fall. Bartholmae, Webster, Keith and Lyons all have a good chance for second money and the battle will be hard and furious there next Sunday. Had it not been for an unintentional and unfortunate foul, Dan Murphy would have been roosting on second right now waiting for the gun for one of the hottest place battles we are likely to see.

JAMES TREW DIES IN SAN DIEGO HOME

James Trew, former resident of Santa Ana, passed away Saturday at his home, 2169 Brandt street, San Diego, at the age of 71 years. He had been sick since February. Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m., tomorrow, at Bonham brothers' undertaking parlors in San Diego.

Mr. Trew is survived by his widow and three daughters, two of them being Mrs. May Canfield, of Bakersfield, and Mrs. Jess Warburton, of San Diego. James Trew and his family were identified with Santa Ana for many years, coming here some 40 years ago, originally. Mr. Trew engaged in a number of business enterprises during the period of his residence here, and following his return to Santa Ana from Seattle some years ago became a real estate broker and negotiated many important deals here during the recent "boom." He was at one time part owner of the building on the northwest corner of Sixth and Main streets.

He moved to San Diego three years ago, following an exchange of his residence property at 843 Birch stret to J. G. Welch for residence property at San Diego.

Police News

Three Mexicans were arrested last night by Santa Ana police officers on drunk charges. They later made bail of $25 each for their appearance in police court today. The men were M. Flores, 25, of 915 East Walnut street; Antonio Baldorino, 30, of 1214 1-2 East Third street, and O. V. Cervantez, 44, of 714 Walnut street. Officers Perry and Lentz arrested the trio.

CYPRESS

CYPRESS, July 28.—C. E. Greenleaf of De Vose, Calif., has moved into the F. L. Harbin property on Harding street. The Harbin family moved into Anaheim. Harbin exchanged his property with Greenleaf for 80 acres of land at the foothills of San Bernardino mountains.

Mrs. Dan Green and daughters, Wilda and Donaldo, Babe Pierson and Mrs. Arlene Foster spent Tuesday at Anaheim Landing.

Mrs. R. B. Anderson and five daughters spent Thursday at Newport Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Shaw of Harding street are rejoicing over the birth of their first baby, a nine-pound boy, born Monday morning. He will be named William D.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Middleton and son, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Walls and son, Glen, and A. Moon spent Friday at Anaheim Landing.

The Better Loaf of Bread for YOU
Safely Wrapped in

GINGHAM BLUE [WAXED WRAPPER]

SURELY it deserves a test—the statement we have so frequently made—that WEBER'S BREAD is worthy of its new BLUE GINGHAM dress. The freshness, the goodness and the purity are typified by this dear old gingham pattern. All of these sterling qualities are there in abundance—in the loaf. And in addition, fragrance and flavor as distinctive as the wrapper itself.

WEBER'S BREAD "AS YOU LIKE IT"

You can buy Weber's Bread in the White or the Whole Wheat loaves, either sliced or unsliced. Weber's White Bread is wrapped in the attractive gingham blue, and Weber's Whole Wheat in appetizing gingham brown. The word "sliced" appears prominently on the wrappers of the sliced loaves.

Inspiring Addresses Heard In Orange Churches

COMMITTEES IN CITY CHURCHES GIVE REPORTS

ORANGE, July 28.—Reports of the committee appointed to plan the fall leadership campaign training school which will be held by Orange churches the next fall are being received daily at the church. The school will be held the last three weeks in October and the first three weeks in November. A vote is being taken as to whether the school will be held on Mondays, Tuesdays or Thursdays.

The committees were appointed by R. C. Patton and the committee in charge of the campaign includes the Rev. Franklin Minck of the First Christian church, Charles A. Robinson of the First Methodist church and Mrs. F. M. Gullick of the First Presbyterian church.

Select Subjects

A number of subjects are being selected from the course and those not chosen this year will be studied at the spring leadership school which helps to prepare church and Sunday school leaders for their duties.

Courses will be made up from the following list of subjects which are required: "A Study of the Pupil," "The Old Testament," "The New Testatment," "The Message and Program of the Christian Religion," "The Teaching Work of the Church," "A Study of Cradle Roll Children," "Cradle Roll Materials and Methods," "Cradle Roll Administration," "A Study of the Beginner Child," "Beginners Materials and Methods," "Beginners Administration," "A Study of the Primary Child," "Primary Administration," "Junior Administration," "Intermediate Administration," "High School Department Administration," "Young People's Department Administration."

Elective subjects include: "Life of Christ," "Studies in the Prophets," "Missionary Materials and Methods," "Training in Worship," "Christian Education in the Family," "How the New Testament Grew," "Beginners Worship," "Primary Worship," "Junior Worship," "Church School Administration."

Install Heads Of Young People Groups

ORANGE, July 28.—The newly elected officers of the high school and young people's departments were installed at the morning church service of the Christian church yesterday. The Rev. Franklin H. Minck, the pastor, was in charge of the service.

Those installed as officers of the Young People's department were: Randall Bivens, president; Loraine Ingle, first vice president; Jack Rossier, second vice president; Leota Ingle, secretary, and Charles Spotts, secretary. Those installed as officers of the high school department were: Dorene Simpson, president; Donald Todd, first vice president and chairman of the Boost and Bring committee; Louise Hilyard, second vice president and chairman of the Good Times committee; Erene White, third vice president and chairman of the Christian Helpers' committee; Dorothy Finley, fourth vice president and chairman of the Sunday Surprise committee; Mary Lou Alloway, secretary, and James Simpson, treasurer.

The officers will hold their positions for one year. There was a very good attendance at the morning service.

SELECT WOMAN FOR METHODIST RELIGION POST

ORANGE, July 28.—Miss Esther Terry of Concord, N. H., was chosen as director of religious education and assistant to the pastor at the meeting of the official board of the First Methodist church yesterday morning. Miss Terry's election was recommended by both the financial and the religious education committee of the church.

Miss Terry is a graduate of the Boston University and School of Religion and is at the present time the director of religious education in the First Congregational church of Concord, N. H. She will have the supervision of the religious educational program of the church and will outline the aims and objectives of religious education and will plan courses of study to further the work.

The new chosen worker will help secure and instruct teachers and it is expected that she will give a great deal of her time in directing religious pageantry.

The securing of a religious educational director has been under consideration by members of the official board for some time and it is said the action taken yesterday is felt to be an advanced step in religious education. Miss Terry is interested in athletics and is an enthusiastic horsewoman and swimmer and is especially fond of hiking.

It is expected that under her direction a number of outstanding pageants will be given during the present year. Miss Terry's people are living in Pasadena.

RECEPTION FOR MRS. GATES OF ORANGE HELD

ORANGE, July 28.—Celebrating the eightieth birthday of Mrs. Genelia Angeline Gates, a reception was held at her home on North Center street Sunday from 2 to 5 o'clock. Five daughters of the honored guest received visitors. They were Mrs. Gena Morgan, Mrs. Lucy Richards, Mrs. Linda McDaniel, Mrs. Esther Bivens and Mrs. Mary Parviance. Telegrams began to arrive early in the morning from children and grandchildren unable to attend. Eleven beautiful bouquets of flowers and many gifts and birthday cards were presented to Mrs. Gates.

Mr. and Mrs. Gates came to Orange 20 years ago, locating on a ranch on North Tustin street. Mr. Gates passed away three years ago and one son, Louis Gates, is the only one of the 11 children who is not living. No More Piles

HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, is guaranteed to banish any form of Pile misery. It gives quick action even in old, stubborn cases. HEM-ROID succeeds because it heals and strengthens the affected parts and removes blood congestion in the lower bowel—the cause of piles. Only an internal medicine can do this, that's why salves and cutting fail. Schramm-Johnson and druggists everywhere sell HEM-ROID with guarantee that it cost you nothing if it doesn't end all Pile agony.—Adv.

Mid-week Union Service Planned In Anaheim Park

ORANGE, July 28.—Members of the First Presbyterian church of this city are planning to attend the union mid-week service of Presbyterian churches of the county which will be held at the Anaheim city park near the Palm street entrance Wednesday evening.

A pot-luck dinner is to be held at 6:15 p. m. and the services are to follow. Each family will bring a covered dish, sandwiches and table service.

Two outstanding speakers will appear on the program, Dr. Hilldrith Caldwell, a missionary from India, and Dr. Murdock McLeod of San Francisco, secretary of men's work in the Presbyterian churches on the Pacific coast.

The Rev. O. Scott McFarland of the First Presbyterian church of Santa Ana is the general chairman of the event.

REV. L. McAFEE GIVES TALK TO PRESBYTERIANS

ORANGE, July 28.—"The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me," words spoken by the prophet, Isaiah in the 61st chapter of Isaiah, was the theme of the sermon delivered by the Rev. Lapsley McAfee, D. D., of Berkeley, at the morning service at the Presbyterian church. It has been the custom, on synod Sunday, when the synod assembles in Southern California for the ministers from northern California fill the pulpits in the south. The Rev. Mr. McAfee is not only the pastor of the church at Berkeley with a congregation of 2000, but is also an outstanding leader of the young people of the Christian Endeavor, and has spoken on the program of nearly every Christian Endeavor convention.

"Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty," found in Second Corinthians 3:17 was the text for the sermon Sunday morning.

The speaker said in part:

"Every one needs lordship in life; every one is following a master purpose or a master person. There are people who want liberty and liberty is the master of their lives. The proper lord is the Holy Spirit. 'Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.' Where you are well mastered you are free, freedom is liberty. You are free from bondage that binds you down. What is your besetting sin? I don't know your besetting sin—but you are held in bondage by it.

"Where God's Holy Spirit is dominate He guarantees freedom from bondage. That is liberty in the fullest and truest sense. Some people believe there is freedom for other people but not for them but 'Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom.'

"In your inner life, the life not expressed in conduct, the thoughts and passions, the thing that is entirely secret to you, the subconscious life is expressed in the things you instinctively do. You can be dominated by God's Holy Spirit therein.

"The fruit of the Spirit is just one piece of fruit with nine characteristics. Do our faces express love, joy and peace? Are we long-suffering, kind and good? Have we faith, meekness and temperance? Our facial expressions come from the domination of God's Spirit, if we allow His Spirit to be our master. God's Spirit can change the expression of our faces. If we live by the Spirit let us walk by the Spirit. It is the privilege of every Christian to be filled with the Holy Spirit. We may be dominated by the Holy Spirit, and the experience may be yours for 'Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty'."

MIDWAY CITY

MIDWAY CITY, July 28.—The public card party given by the Midway City Woman's club Friday evening entertained at eight tables of cards, both "500" and bridge being played. Mrs. A. A. Snow, Mrs. V. Everett Hall, Mrs. Chester Campbell, Mrs. J. L. Beaver and Mrs. W. H. Taylor, the last substituting for Mrs. S. A. Miller, were hostesses of the evening and served a light luncheon of macaroni salad, wafers and coffee at the close of the evening. The next public card party will be held the evening of August 8, this to be under the supervision of the Chamber of commerce. All proceeds from card parties go toward liquidating the debt on the community building.

Mrs. S. E. Miller has been ill at her home as a result of a painful operation necessary for the extraction of a wisdom tooth. Mrs. J. L. Esser has also been ill as the result of a like operation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Beaver entertained as overnight guests, Mrs. Beaver's parents of Imperial Valley, who remained two days before leaving for a motor trip to Redding.

Mrs. J. P. Peterson, daughter, Miss Adeline Peterson, and son, Grant Peterson, and Walter Zerrol motored to Long Beach Friday where they spent a pleasant day on the beach. Miss Adeline Peterson had just returned from Barber City where she spent two days as the house guest of a friend, Miss Ruth Goble.

DR. W. TIPPLE GIVES SERMON AT VILLA PARK

VILLA PARK, July 28.—At the Villa Park Community Church, on Sunday morning, the pastor, Dr. Walter M. Tipple, preached, his theme being, "Alone." The text—"He was there alone," Matt. 14:23.

His sermon was in part as follows:

Jesus lived a lonely life. There were depths to His being, which no man could fathom. In every crucial experience He went down into the valley of decision alone. After the feeding of the five thousands, He went into the mountain to pray—"there alone." In the trying hours of temptation, there was no friend by His side. In the garden when He agonized before God, His trusted friends were faithful, "not one hour." When the way of the cross loomed up, His disciples left Him. On the cross—"My God, my God. Why hast Thou forsaken me?

To Live Is to Be Alone

The experience of Jesus accentutes the common lot of us all. Who has not felt himself alone? Just to live is to be alone. In varying degrees each person, just because he is the person he is, is doomed to live and die alone.

Men have become competitors striving to dominate each other by making the most of themselves. Gone their individual way achieving here and there character of great strength. The individual has been left with his destiny solely in his own hands and for multitudes life is a lonely affair.

Intimate Friendship Difficult

How difficult, to achieve intimate friendship. How hard to have oneself understood. To get across to others just what we think and feel. The thought expressed by Bradford in his Life and I, "The desire for spiritual contact and the affection founded on that desire is one of the great charms of life." Emerson says, "We descend to meet." We may go further and say, We descend but we do not meet. There is the perpetual striving with the perpetual lack of achievement. We have so vastly much to say, and cannot say it. To achieve vital touch with our fellows is indeed difficult. There are crowds about us but we have no significant contacts. We are driven to the very outposts of loneliness, where it seems that God Himself has forgotten us. The song of the Ancient Mariner wakes an echo in many a heart:

O wedding guest! This soul has been
So lonely 'twas that God Himself
Scarce seemed there to be.

"This community of need and interdependence is not a dream" says Dr. Wieman, "it is not a hope; it is an actual fact, however undiscerned by the institutionalized mind. In the hour of his forsakenness the prophet can sink into the folds of this great fellowship and be comforted."

Unfailing Escape

The unfailing escape—COMPANIONSHIP WITH GOD?—lies the way to the ultimate and unfailing escape from Life's loneliness. When in the actualities of daily living; when the possibilities of human fellowship have been exhausted; when we find ourselves driven into the very extremities of loneliness; when we hold to life by the thinniest thread of hope there is a Presence near, if we yield ourselves to it, which proves to be, "Love that will not let me go." That which cannot be shared with an individual, can be shared with God.

Alone With God

Even Christ Jesus' terrible moment on the cross—"Why hast Thou forsaken me," could not really dispel His deep and abiding sense of the presence of God. "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit." It is this experience of being alone with God, that proves life's supreme source of strength. Some one has said, "A man is strongest when he stands most alone." Invariably the apostles of human good and the heralds of human freedom have traveled a rough and lonely road.

If we, too, find ourselves upon some lonely cross—if wielding the sword of truth, we are left to battle single-handed. If standing for conviction, we get no support. If breasting life's circumstances, there is no one by our side. If we are driven back upon ourselves, we are driven back upon God. We will find when we are most alone, we are strongest.

Unexplained

Something we cannot explain: Something that convinces a man when he is alone that he is not alone. Something that in the dark and tragic hour when utter loneliness settles like night: Something that in such an hour enables him in spite of it all to say as Jesus said, "Father." This is a something which is absolutely indispensable to man.

Shaw's "Joan of Arc"—facing the stake, "Yes, I am alone on earth. I have always been alone. Do not think that you can frighten me by telling me that I am aolne. France is alone, and God is alone; and what is my loneliness before the loneliness of my country and my God? I see now that the loneliness of God is His strength; what would He be if He listened to your jealous little counsels? Well, my loneliness shall be my strength, too; it is better to be alone with God. His friendship will not fail me, nor His counsel, nor His love. In His strength I will dare, and dare and dare until I die."

Turned History

"The story of Jesus of Nazareth," says Jean Paul Richter, "concerns one who being the mightiest among the lowly and the lowliest among the mighty, has, with His pierced hands turned the stream of history out of its course and lifted the gates of empire off their hinges."

"Though we crucified Him upon a stick," says Bernard Shaw, "yet He managed to get hold of the right end of it, and today we cannot escape the feeling that the only hope of ever solving the problems of the world, is by applying to them the spirit in which He lived and the teachings He taught."

MISSIONARY IS CHURCH TALKER AT EL MODENA

EL MODENA, July 28.—An impressive service was held yesterday in the El Modena Friends church in charge of Mrs. Dorothy Cammack, who is on a furlough from missionary work in Honduras, Central America. After more than twenty years of active service in the Friends' mission field, Mrs. Cammack is able to relate many thrilling experiences, some of which have a pleasant angle and some which are sad.

El Modena was the home of Mrs. Cammack during her girlhood days, and in her address the missionary stated that she became a Christian in this little Friends church many years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Cammack, daughter, Miss Lenora Cammack, and son, William Cammack, pioneered in this mission field, Mr. Cammack having laid down his life there after twenty years of faithful service, it was said.

Lenora and William Cammack are attending the Missionary Training school at Huntington Park and will return to Central America with their mother when her furlough is ended.

Mrs. Cammack presented two graduates of the Huntington Park Training school for Christian workers, Miss Dorothea Juanita Taylor and Miss Dorothy Elizabeth Stone, both of whom will sail from Wilmington Thursday morning on the S. S. City of Panama, for Honduras where they will be engaged in mission work for at least five years before returning to their homes in this state.

A solo by Miss Stone was especially enjoyed and she was accompanied by Mrs. Douglas Marshburn at the piano. Miss Taylor, a very close friend of Miss Irma Moody, "El Modena's own missionary," will work from the same station with Miss Moody, in La Esperanza, while Miss Stone will be stationed in Tegucigalpa. Both these young women who are giving their life, home, relatives and friends to answer the call which they feel has been given them, but they are more than willing to go into a strange land among strange people with a strange language to do this wonderful work of the Lord, the speaker said.

REDUCE TAX LEVY ON SANITARY BONDS

Of this levy all except 10 cents goes to take care of the district's bonds and interest.

The Garden Grove sanitary district at the present time has a substantial balance on hand to take care of shrinkage due to delinquent taxes, etc., and for use in case of an emergency, according to Charles E. Stevens, secretary.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, July 28.—Mrs. Winifred Morris entertained as her guests for two days her sister, Mrs. Nellie Harrod and a friend, Mrs. H. L. Rivers of Long Beach. The visitors attended Rebekah installation with Mrs. Morris and the follwoing day a theater matinee was enjoyed by the three at Anaheim.

A. A. Baker has been quite ill at his home but is improving.

Harry Anderson celebrated a birthday anniversary Saturday, and in observance of the event, Mrs. Anderson served a dinner with ice cream and birthday cake in the evening.

ORANGE, July 28.—A building permit was issued to E. R. Baier to erect a six-room stucco house and garage at 612 Walnut street at a cost of $3500. N. U. Potter in the contractor.

MAKE REPAIRS ON EL MODENA SCHOOL

EL MODENA, July 28.—An attractive improvement in the El Modena school buildings and grounds are being made during the summer vacation. The increase in the enrollment of the Mexican school has necessitated another class room, for the Lincoln building which is nearly completed. The walls and woodwork have been brightened and renewed by the use of paint and varnish.

New shrubbery and lawns have been planted and the grounds are being kept in first class condition during the warm months. New sand piles and playground equipments will be put in before school opens in the fall.

RELIGION HEAD OF U. C. L. A. TALKS AT MEET

ORANGE, July 28.—The religious work carried on at the state university in Los Angeles was told by Thomas S. Clair Evans, executive secretary of the University of Religious conference, U. C. L. A. at the union service held in the Christian church Sunday evening. This is the fourth of the union services held by the members of the Christian, Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist churches during the summer months.

(I.N.S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 28.—Here it is, getting along toward August, and the amazing Brooklyn Robins haven't "cracked" yet. A club that finished a dismal sixth last season, they are still galloping out in front of the pack in the National league pennant race and breezing along like a team of destiny.

Brooklyn's ball club has the pennant complex and they will be hard to beat out of the flag. They have shown themselves able to lick every team in the league with the exception of the Chicago Cubs and they are not convinced yet that they can't "take" the boys from the pineapple belt. They go so far as saying they fear the New York Giants more than they do the Cubs in the race for the pennant, and they have been able to trim McGraw's nifty aggregation with heartening regularity.

The spectacular success of the Robins can be largely attributed to four factors:

1. Glenn Wright's return to the regular lineup.
2. The catching of Lopez, one of the "finds" of the year.
3. A combination of heavy hitting and good pitching.

Wright's return to the infield was the outstanding factor that started the Robins off on the right foot early in the season. Last year this famous shortstop couldn't throw a ball across the infield because of a lame arm and had to sit on the bench all season.

This spring at Bradenton, Fla., he told the writer he would be "in there" this year, and he was—or rather, is. Few believed that Wright could nurse his arm back in shape. But he did, and now he is throwing the ball around the diamond with the same rifle-like speed that made him famous.

Lopez's catching has been a revelation. It has been so good that a receiver as capable as Picinich has been crowded into the background and Hank Deberry, the third Brooklyn catcher, only works when Vance is pitching. Lopez and Wright are the "spark plugs" of the Robins, imparting the fire and dash that was entirely lacking last year.

The hitting and pitching of the Robins is all that could be desired and certainy good enough for any club with pennant aspirations. Frederick, Herman, Bissonette and Wright comprise a "murderer's row' 'powerful enough to make life miserable for the best flingers in the league. And with Lopez, Finn, Gilbert and Bressler in the lineup there isn't a soft spot from top to bottom.

July 30 Set For Opening Of Olympics

NEW YORK, July 28.—The 10th Olympic Games to be held at Los Angeles in the summer of 1932, will open Saturday, July 30, and continue until Sunday, August 14.

The third Olympic Winter Games will take place at Lake Placid, New York, between Thursday, February 4 and Saturday, February 13.

These date were set at the congress of the International Olympic committee held at Berlin, May 25 to 30, and attended by representatives of 45 nations, but just announced today.

The following is the program of events to be contested at the games of the 10th Olympaid: Track and field, gymnatics, boxing, wrestling, fencing, swimming, rowing, equestrian, road cycling weight-lifting, yachting, shooting, polo, water polo, and field hockey.

STRIBLING AND PHIL SCOTT IN BOUT TONIGHT

LONDON, July 28.—Another claimant to the world's heavyweight boxing championship will be developed tonight when Young Stribling of Georgia and Phil Scott of England meet in a 10-round heavyweight bout at Wimbledon stadium.

Jeff Dickson, promoter of the bout, was billing the attraction as "for the world's heavyweight championship," and the winner may get recognition from at least the British board of control, which has failed to recognize Max Schmeling's claims.

Stribling is a favorite, but there is little betting on the outcome although Lloyd's has offered odds of 2 and 2½ to 1 that the Georgian will win.

No provisions have been made to prevent the bout from ending in a foul. The last time Stribling appeared here he lost to Primo Carnera on a foul. Scott has either won on a foul or claimed foul in his last hilf dozen bouts.

Cal Gregg Winner At S. A. Skeet Club

Cal Gregg broke 24 targets to win the shoot at the Santa Ana Skeet club yesterday. Mel Morgan,), was second and Herb Garter, 22, third. Other scores follow: Walter Berry, 21; Vance Fixsen, 21; Allen Mandy, 20; Herb Heanes, 17; Theo. Reuter, 16; A. W. Smith, 16; Frank Bungay, 15, and Stuart Peek, 13.

TOUCHING THE HIGH SPOTS

Currys Play Kennedys In Golf Finals

Rex Kennedy and son, Donald, will play B. V. and Elmer Curry this week for the 1930 fathers-and-sons' golf championship of the Santa Ana Country play as a result of semi-final contests which put them in the last round.

Week-end sweepstakes results:

Medal plays: Class A—Dr. C. E. Saulsberry, 75-10-65; G. A. Parker, 82-14-68; William Rohrbacker, 83-14-69; J. L. Ainsworth, 81-12-69. Class B—Dr. W. A. Flood, 83-16-67; E. Robins, 87-18-69; J. W. Beach, C. B. McKinney, 90-90-20-70.

Match play: Class A—Van Pomeroy, one down; Van Pomeroy and Ed Holmes, two down; Z. B. West jr., R. A. Graves and M. B. Lacy, three down. Class B—M. G. Harvey, one down; W. E. Watkins, two down; Dr. John Ball and E. Robins, three down.

DALEY, HUNTER IN LINEUP FOR PEPPER TUSSLE

Returning to their orchard after a week of travel that saw their two-game lead in the National Night league sliced to one, Herb Salveson's Santa Ana Stars meet the Garden Grove Peppers for the last time this season in the Bowl tomorrow.

The homesters will be on the road again Friday, however, for they are scheduled to invade the seaside park at Huntington Beach and give the veteran owl southpaw, Howard Morning, one more crack at them.

Garden Grove's inability to muster a full team team for the Olive foray Friday night has not been fully explained but there must have been a good reason for its forfeit to the Packers. Never a team of "resigners," Garden Grove in the past always has played out its schedule whether a contender or a tailender, and Louie Aubuchon is expected to bring his outfit here 100 per cent. Next to Olive no second division outfit in night baseball has been so tough for Santa Ana as Garden Grove.

Morrill On Hospital List

Earl Morrill, pitching ace of the Peppers who has looked like the best young heaver in the league at times this summer, is on the hospital list and may not be able to pitch again this year, according to reports received here today. Morrill is said to have smashed several fingers when they were caught in a press, and while the digits are on his left hand the injuries may be severe enough to keep him out of a uniform.

Joe Cornelius is in line for both local pitching assignments this week and the two infielders who were out of the Anaheim debacle Friday will be ready to go, too. Cornelius undoubtedly works better when he gets a lot of work. He is a big-shouldered fellow of the type who can stand plenty of pitching. The week's layoff left him wild and erratic against Anaheim, in contrast to his usual sureness and fine control, although Cornelius, his catcher, "Eeny" Wilcox and most of the regulars claim it was the umpiring that kept Cornelius in so much hot water. Almost to a man, the Stars say that the guessing of "Shorty" Smith behind the bat and of Art Nunn on the bases was the worst they have seen this season.

Leavitt Daley, the Stars' great second baseman who was out of the game with an infected knee, is considerably improved and will be back in the lineup with his dangerous war club.

Hunter To Play Third

Bill Hunter, called away by the serious illness of his mother in Riverside, also will be on deck. Salveson plans to employ him at third base against Garden Grove.

Long Beach, one of the Stars' many pursuers, will shoulder the greatest attention from fans and players this week. The Acorns meet the hated Anaheim Valencias at Long Beach tomorrow, La Habra at La Habra Friday. If the Acorns win either or both these games they will do Santa Ana a valuable service indeed. Joe Ochoa will face the Long

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—The privilege of yelling one's self hoarse—and paying well for that privilege—is one that football fans indulge in yearly, about the time the last robin flits southward—and, business depression or not, the football stadiums expect another standing room only year on the Pacific Coast.

With that expectation in view, many of the coast colleges are making plans to have their stadiums enlarged, in order to accommodate the increasingly large crowds of rabid fans which now tax their present bowls to capacity.

Jack Mackenzie, graduate manager of the University of California, has announced that more than 5000 temporary seats are to be erected in the Berkeley bowl. They are to be installed shortly after the commencement of the fall terms. This will enable approximately 80,000 fans to witness California's big home games, namely, the St. Mary's-California and the Stanford-California games.

Plans are also under way at Stanford University to increase the seating capacity of its stadium. This will be accomplished by excavating the present stadium and lowering the level of the field to increase the number of rows. This move would eliminate the track, but the officials are contemplating building a new track and field stadium.

There is one disadvantage to this problem. The lowering of the field would tend to increase the heat that is generated within the enclosed bowl. Nothing is so discouraging to a northern team, coming from cooler localities, than to be confronted with a warm, sultry day in the Stanford stadium in which to battle for gridiron laurels. The heat saps their strength and does not enable them to play the game of which they are capable.

Attendance at the games in the north has never been as large as in California. But the attendance is bound to increase with the new brand of football these two teams are expected to display.

In Southern California, prospects for the coming season do not seem to indicate the stadiums will be exactly empty this fall. The Los Angeles Coliseum has been enlarged to handle 10,000 more fans.

UNDEFEATED TEAMS IN ACTION TONIGHT

Two undefeated Santa Ana City league baseball teams will go into action in the Bowl tonight—but not against each other.

Opening the third week of play in the new inter-mural loop, Peek's market meets the Dennis Printers at 6:45. The Richfield Oilers go against the Orange County Builders' exchange at 8:15. The Peeks and the Richfields have won two straight.

Other games this week follow:

Wednesday—Courthouse vs. Eastern Oil, 6:45 p. m.; American Legion vs. Excelsior Creamery, 8:15.

Thursday—Pacific Telephone company vs. Auto Club of Orange County, 6:45 p. m.; Dennis Printers. vs. Orange County Builders' exchange, 8:15 p. m. (playoff game).

Griffiths, Heeney Tangle Tomorrow

PASADENA BOY, 17, WINS FROM HUNTER

NEW YORK, July 28.—A new tennis star—Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena, Calif., has made his appearance in the east and today held the metropolitan grass courts singles championship and a brilliant victory over America's second ranking player.

Only 17 and competing on grass courts for the first time, Vines demonstrated clearly that he is a Davis cup timber by dropping two sets to Francis T. Hunter of New Rochelle, N. Y., No. 2 in the national rankings, and then winning the next three to take the final match, 1-6, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1.

HOOKS and SLIDES

WAY BACK WHEN

There was a time when hitters who could compile a batting average of .300 for the season were scarce. Pitchers were the heroes of the day. Usually they held the upper hand and seldom were they removed from the mound because of being unable to snuff out batting rallies.

Hitters in the .300 class were supermen, fellows with unusually keen eyes and supple wrists. They connected for home runs occasionally, but never more than 10 or a dozen times in one season.

But times have changed and, knowing that they have, I looked at recent batting averages compiled for the National and American leagues to note the difference. I am not surprised that an old-time pitcher recently advised young men who contemplated big league careers to discard the pitching idea and go in for jobs that entail little, if nothing more than batting the ball to far corners of the undersized major league parks.

National League averages at hand tell me that 70 athletes are rapping the ball at a .300 or better clip. American league statistics reveal that 41 players top the .300 mark. That makes a total of 111 ball players, doesn't it, who are .300 hitters. And there are only 400 players in the major leagues.

In 1908, the National league had four players whose batting averages were in the charmed circle. The 1930 averages recently showed eight men with batting averages of better than .400. The Pirates led the world in hitting in 1908, compiling a team average of .254. Nine of the 16 teams today have club batting averages of more than .300. The 2.54 record of Pittsburgh 22 years ago just about matches the mark of the St. Louis Browns today.

Heroes of the game back in 1908 were Donovan, Plank, Joss, Brown, Bender, Mathewson—all of them pitchers. Of course, a few cheers were distributed to the Wagners, the Cobbs, the Magees and one or two others. Donovan won 25 games, lost four and was not taken out of a game; Plank won 24, lost 16 and was not relieved; Joss won 27 and lost 11 and was taken out only once. Even the eccentric Rube Waddell, playboy of the big leagues at that time, pitched 32 games and was taken out only seven times. And his was the poorest example of the year.

Name our big shots today. They are Ruth, Gehrig, Simmons, Fox, Wilson, Stephenson, Klein, O'Doul, Ott, Berger and a long list of other men—all sluggers. We send up a cheer now and then for Lefty Grove, Earnshaw, Ferrell, Walberg, Root, Luque, Hubbell and a few more.

Rube Walberg pitched a three-hit game for the Mackmen the other day, blanking the hard-hitting Yankees. Previous to that game, though, Walberg had been shelled from the box in seven consecutive starts.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

'Tis a sad, sad story, but unless Len Shires, brother of Art (The Great) Shires, peps up in his play, he may not last in a semi-pro league. . . . The young man was ballyhooed to the skies last spring in San Antone, where he was given a trial by the Giants. . . . He went to Bridgeport in the Eastern league when the season opened. . . . Now he's back in Texas, playing with—guess who? . . . Goose Creek. . . . Yes, sir, Len's playing for Goose Creek in the South Coast league, a semi-pro loop of the bushiest type. . . . The October (1899) issue of the Weekly Carom, a billiard publication, said: "Little Willie Hoppe is booked for a series of exhibitions at Maurice Daly's billiard exhibition room. . . . According to Daly, the lad has made runs of 200 straight rail and upward of 80 balkline. . . . Orville Oddie, who saw the youngster disporting with the ivories, pronounces him a wonder for his years and a coming champion." . . . Seven years later, Little Willie won the world's balkline championship by defeating Maurice Vignaux in Paris. . . .And he held it oh so many times after that.

MORENO MEETS JESS GABUCCO HERE THURSDAY

Fighting for the third time, Tony Moreno of Placentia and Jess Gazucco of Los Angeles will headline Thursday night's boxing show at the Orange County Athletic club, Promotor-Matchmaker H. T. Foust announced here today.

The active little bantams will travel a distance of eight rounds this week. The poundage is 125.

Moreno and Gabucco collided a week ago last Thursday at Delhi, Moreno receiving from Referee Steve Nyland a decision which was questioned by most of the fans. Moreno set the pace but the Filipino's counterpunching entitled him to no worse than a draw in the opinion of my customers.

The same boys met the first time in a preliminary at Hollywood about a year ago. Gabucco knocked out the blond Placentia idol in one round.

Promoter Foust is using another Placentian, Urban Hernandez, in the semi-windup again and promises him an early main event if he gets over Battling Ortego impressively. Ortego comes with a good reputation. They will step six rounds.

Mickey Koshell and "Spike" Harvey, welterweights, head the preliminaries in another six-rounder. They have both fought at Delhi before, Harvey, a collegian, making his debut last week against Mickey Thomas Koshell stopped Reggie Placentia two weeks ago.

Andy de la Parra, Santa Ana, and Emil Jure, San Bernardino, bantams, will open the show in a four-rounder.

This will be "Ladies Night" again. Those of the fair sex who are accompanied by escorts with tickets for the reserved section will be admitted free.

La Barba In Chi For Mastro Bout

CHICAGO, July 28.—Fidel La Barba, California featherweight, arrived here today for his match against Earl Mastro, Chicago, August 7. Mastro was quoted an 8 to 5 favorite today, but the odds were expected to turn toward the Californian before the bout.

GEORGE TO MEET PLESTINA

FRENCH RETAIN HISTORIC CUP: LOTT IS SOLACE

By JOHN WHITE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, July 28.—For the third successive year, France has withstood successfully the challenge of the United States for the historic Davis cup.

Winning both singles matches Sunday, Jean Borothra and Henri Cochet made the final count 4 to 1 in favor of France, admist scenes of tremendous enthusiasm in Roland Garros stadium.

Borothra defeated George Lott of Chicago after one of the hardest fought battles in Davis cup history, 5-7, 6-3, 2-6, 6-2, 8-6. Cochet won easily over William T. Tilden, II, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1, 7-5.

The defeat was sound and convincing as any ever administered to the United States in a Davis cup challenge round since 1911, when the Austalians were invincible in the tennis world.

But while the Americans were beaten, they found some solace in the great fight put up by Lott in the deciding singles match yesterday, a match packed with as thrilling, desperately contested tennic as the big stadium at Auteuil ever has known.

The Chicago boy, facing a man whom he never had been able to defeat, with the knowledge that possession of the Davis cup depended on him, carried the battle to Borothra with dash and brilliance.

Lott took the first set, using a beautiful change of pace, passing Borotra when the latter tried to storm the net, and pitching short lobbs over the Basque's head. Lott led again, two sets to one, when they pased for a rest, but after a brief interval, Borotra opened up with an irresistible attack. The Basque ran out the fourth set and led in the fifth, 4-2, before the Chicagoan rallied.

Taking the seventh game on his own service, Lott broke Borotra's to square matters at four all. Then each broke service for the next five games. The American fought desperately in the final game, but Borotra had greater strength in reserve and won.

The ovation given the Basque was unparalleled. Cushions filled the air and the crowd cheered itself hoarse.

The concluding singles match between Tilden and Cochet was dull by comparison. With no incentive to win, since Borotra's victory over Lott had clinched the Davis cup for France, "Big Bill" played a good but unspirited tennis game, his erratic temperament entirely under control.

RANDOLPH BELL DEFEATS CRESS STRAIGHT SETS

Playing with the same sureness and acuracy that has long made him an outstanding figure on the city's courts, Randolph Bell won first place in the Class A division of the Santa Ana playground tennis tournament by swamping Johnny Cress, former city champion, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-3, on the high school cements yesterday.

Bell will meet Earl Waycott in the final 'A" match tomorrow night. Waycott made his way into the first three by defeating Eddie West 8-6, 5-7, 6-4.

The premier "B" entries are Gorham Smith, Dr. Kenneth Coulson and R. D. Crowl.

Bell will play Dr. Coulson Thursday and Cress faces Crowl Friday. Playoff finals are scheduled for next Sunday with Bell and Cress likely to face each other again.

Carnera Plea For Time Up to U. S.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The application of Primo Carnera, Italian heavyweight for a six months extension of stay in the United States, was scheduled to be taken up today by the immigration board of view of the labor department at a public hearing.

SHOOTING with SHUTE

by DENNY SHUTE

If every golfer would take the same care in making his tee shot that he does in making a short iron shot to the green, I believe he would find himself in a lot less trouble off the tee.

By this I mean that a great many players just stand up on the tee and slam into the ball, thinking only of distance and not much about direction.

From the tee, there is usually such a large space out on the fairway where there is no trouble that the ordinary player does not select carefully a certain position for his second shot.

Reward Is Twofold

I think it is vastly important for two reasons. In the first place, if you are aiming at a certain position, the shot is apt to be at least somewhere near that position. In that way you frequently can avoid bunkers and down hill lies.

Secondly, the second shot to the green can be made much easier if the first shot lands in a carefully selected spot. Most greens have approaches where there are no traps to lure a misplaced iron shot. Why not arrange the first shot so the second has an opportunity to make use of such things?

Psychological Aid

Second shots should be played, whenever possible, from places where the ball has a chance to get as close to the cup as possible without forcing one to shoot over a trap.

Think it over. Also think over the psychological part of it, the danger a trap suggests, which ruins so many shots before the swing has even been taken.

FIRE CHIEF IN CAMPAIGN FOR FEWER BLAZES

FULLERTON, July 28.—A warning against throwing of lighted cigarettes or other burning material from automobiles on the highways or roads was issued today by Fire Chief Roy Davis of Fullerton in response to an appeal from state officials to fire chiefs of California to join in a general campaign to enforce the measure. Davis issued the following statement:

"Our climatic conditions in California, together with the acts of careless motorists who scatter thoughtlessly fire brands along our highways and roads, into dry grass, or shrubbery, or into our ripened grain fields, cause immense fire losses annually, and it is imperative that steps be taken to prevent this needless waste.

"The motor vehicle act, if properly enforced, will afford ample protection, and it has been decided to set aside one day for a concentrated effort of bringing this matter to the public attention. It is the object of such a campaign to instill in the public mind a greater caution in regard to the disposal of burning cigarets and cigar butts in their homes, offices, workshops, as well as when riding in automobiles." Saturday, August 2, has been set for the drive. In addition to the calling of public attention with a plea for co-operation, state traffic officers and police generally will assist. Uniform firemen are to be placed along the road at many points wherever possible as an added reminder and to assist in the enforcement of the law.

SAN CLEMENTE WILL ENTERTAIN MASONS

SAN CLEMENTE, July 28.—Plans have been completed for the Monte Vista lodge No. 655, F. & A. M. picnic and outing at San Clemente on Sunday, August 3. E. W. Hecker, worshipful master of the Long Beach lodge in a communication to Hal Warner, secretary of the Spanish Village chamber of commerce says that 300 members of the lodge will be in the Spanish Village for the outing.

In the morning many will play golf. At 1 p. m. a ball game is scheduled on the grass diamond, which will be followed by field events on the same field. Swimming is scheduled from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. Food will be served on the barbecue tables located on the beach near the Beach club from 6 to 7 p. m. The rest of the evening is scheduled for entertainment around a beach fire.

BUENA PARK, July 28.—A talk on Americanization applied especially to the foreign born by Mrs. Georgina Boyd, teacher at the Lindbergh grammar school was the main feature of the program of the local W. C. T. U. at the meeting held Friday afternoon in the primary room of the Congregational church. She traced the development of Americanization work through the various grades of schools, stating that the desire for naturalization and worthwhile citizenship varies greatly with the races. "Americanization through health centers is another method of reaching the foreigner," the speaker said. She also stated that some work toward Americanization had been done through religious teachings.

Mrs. Estella Harper of Garden Grove, county president, was a visitor. She gave a short review of her impressions of the recent state W. C. T. U. conference held at the Pacific Palisades. She especially stressed the talks given by Dr. John Mitchell, noted health authority.

An all day picnic to be held by the Orange county W. C. T. U. next Tuesday at Irvine park was announced. The affair will be a pot-luck dinner with a review of candidates for Orange county offices as the special feature.

Mrs. H. H. Haegarty presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. C. H. Brown. It was announced that the official song books had been sent to Mrs. Mott Keisler for the national headquarters building fund in India. Mrs. C. E. Crumrine announced that a new member had been secured, making a total of 39.

Group repetition of the Mizpah prayer closed the meeting.

Judge Landell Has Gay Musical Party

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 28.—The beautiful new home of Judge and Mrs. John Landell was the scene of a gay party last week, the following guests being present: George Stinson, famous "singing cop," Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Adams, of Santa Ana; Mesdames H. C. and William Hargreaves, Miss Gretchen Rienke, Dr. Nichols and Mrs. Zealer, all of Oceanside, and Miss Margaret Errecarte, of Capistrano. The "singing cop" gave several numbers, and Mrs. Zealer, who is a composer and accompanist, played a number of selections.

START GLADIOLA FARM

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 28.—A new industry will be introduced in this locality in the near future. Carl Hankey, successful orange grower of the district, last week leased to Hosmer and Reid, nurserymen of Dana Point, four acres of land which will be planted to gladiolus. The introduction of the bulb industry in this section will mean another source of agricultural returns.

CITY LIBRARY SHOWS GROWTH IN CIRCULATION

ANAHEIM, July 28.—Showing the steady growth of the Anaheim city library, the annual report to the officials of the city council discloses a large increase in circulation over last year, it was learned from Miss E. Kate Rea, secretary-treasurer.

The figures are as follows, with the numbers in parenthesis denoting 1928-29: Adult fiction, 61,750 (58,405); adult non-fiction, 10,774 (10,405); adult magazines, 7,831 (8,177); adult reference, 886 (832); adult pictures, 204 (74), making a total of 77,585 for 1928-29 and 81,445 for 1929-30.

In the juvenile department, 37,799 books were circulated in 1928-29 and 39,576 in 1929-30, making a grand total of 115,384 for 1929-30 and 121,081 for the past year. New books added were 1499 and 1959 while books mended and repaired brings the total valumes up to 13,440 for last year as against 14,924 for 1929-30. New card holders show an increase of 39. A total increase of patrons numbers 867.

The report also showed total receipts for the year to be $28,057.06 with expenditures amounting to $19,350.52, leaving a balance on June 30 of $8,725.34.

HOLD FUNERAL FOR MRS. BUCK TUESDAY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 28.—Mrs. Helen L. Buck, one of the most prominent business and club women of the city, died at 6 o'clock Saturday morning at the Santa Ana Valley hospital from typhoid fever. She had been ill about two weeks and the case took a malignant form ten days ago when she was removed to the hospital.

Her position as secretary of the National Building and Loan company, which position she has held for two years, brought her in touch with the general public and she was widely known and universally esteemed. She was active in the P. E. O. and other organizations and was a member of the Chamber of Commerce and a constant attendant at the weekly meetings and luncheons.

Mrs. Buck was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey S. Young, her father being vice president and manager of the First State bank here. She leaves besids her parents, a daughter, Gretchen, nine years old, residing at the family home 717 Main street, where her sister, Mrs. Ruth Tucker, who is visiting here from Iowa, is also seriously ill with typhoid fever, but is improving.

Mrs. Buck was born in Iowa, April 25, 1894 and was 36 years old. The funeral will be held from the A. M. Dixon chapel at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Harvey Engham, pastor of the Meethodist church and a resident of Iowa and old family friend of the Young family, who is visiting in Glendale, will conduct the funeral and will be assisted by Rev. John M. Barnhart, pastor of the M. E. church here, of which Mrs. Buck was an active member and constant attendant.

Build Buena Park Midget Golf Links

BUENA PARK, July 28.—A miniature golf course is being constructed in Buena Park on Grand avenue, near Seventh street. John Siddell is in charge of the construction.

The course is to contain many new and novel features. For the present nine holes will be built to be followed immediately by the addition of the other nine holes. The greens will be heavy felt with jute base to provide a green similar to that used on standard golf courses.

The course, which will be known as the Teenie-Weenie Golf course, will open about August 1. The completed project will occupy a space 75 by 120 feet.

FILL IN TRACT

MIDWAY CITY, July 28.—The five acres which constitute the immediate corner of Boisa and Huntington Beach boulevards in Midway City and which belongs to Walter J. Hill, who is erecting the new hotel directly on the south border of this tract, is to be filled in to a depth of 18 inches to bring the lots up above a level with the adjoining boulevards. The dirt for the purpose is all on the ground and the fill will be made soon according to present plans. The frame work of the new stucco hotel building is going up rapidly.

Reach Settlement on Mexican Debt

NEW YORK, July 28.—(UP)—An agreement for settlement of the $500,000,000 Mexican national debt has been signed, according to an announcement by Thomas W. Lamont, chairman of the international committee of bankers on Mexico, and Mo Tes De Oca, Mexican finance minister.

The agreement provides for refunding of the principal with a reduction in the amounts due for accrued arrears of interest. It will go to the bondholders and the Mexican government for ratification.

Payment of approximately $368,000,000 is provided for as follows: Direct external debt, $267,000,000; unpaid interest $89,000,000; arrears of principal $112,000,000.

BOLSA

BOLSA, July 28.—Construction work on the mile of Wright road, between Bolsa boulevard and Seventeenth Street boulevard, is now under way in preparation for making of the road from Seventeenth to Talbert boulevards a macadam road.

Lafe Ross, who recently sold his home in Bolsa has rented a house at Sunnyside Gardens and the family will move to it within the week. It is understood that Ross contemplates building at Sunnyside Gardens later.

Mrs. Glade Fuller, who has been a patient at the Santa Ana Valley hospital since a recent major operation, returned to her home, Friday. Mrs. Fuller is now convalescing very satisfactorily.

PASTOR TO SPEAK ON "LIFTED EYES"

PLACENTIA, July 28.—Don Milligan, assistant pastor of Calvary church, Placentia, spoke at the morning service, hi subject being "Lifted Eyes."

Sunday evening the Rev. Charles M. Kilgore, a Los Angeles evangelist, preached on the subject "Saved or Lost," and also talked at the 6:30 meeting of the Christian Endeavor society.

All young people's meetings were held as usual Sunday morning, with Sunday school at 9:45 and teachers' meeting at 9:30.

It is announced by Don Milligan that the Junior Fishermen's club will open Friday, August 1, for the first meeting of the new club year. They are to meet at 7:30 as usual, in the club rooms at Calvary church.

Hold Funeral Of Miss Rose Smith

Especially affecting were the rites held in the Christian Missionary Alliance church last week for Miss Rose Smith, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith, formerly of Santa Ana but now of Banning.

Miss Smith suffered a break in health in 1928 during her senior year at Polytechnic high school and her parents immediately left with her for Banning, where the change in climate seemed to benefit her at once. She had seemingly recovered her health in the intervening two years and the family was anticipating an early return to this city. But in the recent hot weather, Miss Smith took a sudden relapse and although the family took her at once to Forest Home, her death followed within 24 hours.

Build Maintenance Station At Beach

CAPISTRANO BEACH, July 28.—A crew of men is at work on the triangular plot of land owned by the state, at the intersection of the two highways, where they go under the Sante Fe bridge here, building a road maintenance station. Plans call for the erection of a modern six-room bungalow, for the use of the road foreman, Hugh Henry; several other smaller dwellings for road workers; several garages; an oil storage tank and outbuildings to house road machinery and equipment.

All buildings will be of stucco, with tile roofs, and in Spanish style architecture. A high fence will inclose the property. As this road district is very large much time and money will be saved by the state in building a division maintenance station. The district extends from Tustin to the Orange county line, and from three-Arches to the location of the maintenance station.

Miss Helen Buck, H. B. Resident, Dies

Miss Helen Buck, 36, prominent Huntington Beach woman, died on the Santa Ana Valley hospital at 7 a. m. Saturday after an illness which had kept her in the hospital for the past several weeks.

Miss Buck was assistant secretary of the Huntington Beach Building and Loan association and was well known in business and social circles in the beach city. Her father is vice president and general manager of the First State bank in Huntington Beach.

Addresses Heard Yesterday In Santa Ana Churches

'MARKS OF TRUE CHRISTIAN' IS PASTOR'S TOPIC

Pointing out that an upright life, humility and brotherly love are important characteristics of the true Christian, the Rev. Moffett Rhodes, pastor of the Spurgeon Memorial Southern Methodist church, preached yesterday morning on the subject, "Marks of a True Christian," from the text, "Ye shall know them by their fruits," Matthew, 7:16.

"The Christian religion is not a profession, it is a life," the pastor told his congregation. "It is a life to be lived upon the highest plane of individual conduct. The best evidences, therefore, of a Christian life cannot be said to be in the realm of doctrine or dogma, nor in the profession of the creed or the faith, but just where Jesus himself put it, namely in the conduct of the life. By their fruits we shall know them. It is in this that we shall find those marks which characterize the highest type of Christian living.

"First, let us place as the supreme mark of a true Christian, an upright life. A religion that is not ethical and that is not on a higher ethical plane than the world, is an impotent and unattractive religion. Many wise men of today are thinking that the chief trouble with the church is 'the ethical obtuseness of religious people.' Too often we profess holiness and speak wickedly; we claim righteousness and deal selfishly with our neighbor; we cry, 'Lord, Lord,' and do not the things which He commands us. Truly there is needed a revival of ethical religion in church life today; a revival that will lift us above the ways and words of the world and actually make a difference in the manner of life between the professing Christian and the unprofessing world. The church can never attract except as it lifts, and it can never lift save as its life and character are pure and above the ways of the world. The real purpose of holiness is to make men holy.

"The next mark of a true Christian is humility. How difficult it is for us to profess the religion of Jesus and practice the virtue of humility. Our very profession has the tone and color of intolerance and bigotry. How foreign from the spirit of Jesus. This grace of humility grows naturally in the soil of consciousness of sin. Our own imperfections as seen in the light of the life of Jesus bring the sense of humility to the heart. Here there is no boastfulness of goodness, no claim to superior righteousness; only devoted service, generous thinking, kindly speaking, quiet, joyful living which the world comes to recognize as true righteousness. There is scarce-any virtue which is more difficult of attainment for us today than this same virtue of humility.

"But the life which embodies the true faith will be more than upright and more than humble. These two will be shot through with a third—that of brotherly kindness. A pure heart might be a cold heart, and humility might become an end in itself. The world needs and true religion supplies, the social passion. This was the burden of the Advent song, 'Peace on earth, good will to men,' and it is the need of the world today. Good will cannot be supplied except as it comes warm from the hearts of men. It will go far toward healing the wounds of hate and banishing forever the crime of war.

"The last mark and the crowning glory of the true faith is that it supplies the power and the incentive for its own fulfillment. These things are impossible of attainment with man. But God does supply the power by which men in all ages have attained to these virtues. This makes the true faith practical. It supplies the standard of life, the incentive of good living, and the power of attainment. By this test the true faith is to be identified. These marks are not bewond the reach of any who desire them. They are not theories finely spun, but practical living. Faith and living ever go together. Faith without works is dead, is a self evident truth. By their fruits ye shall know them."

NECESSITY FOR ENTHUSIASM IS TOLD BY PASTOR

The importance of enthusiasm was stressed in the sermon preached by the Rev. H. McElroy Stovall at the Second Baptist church yesterday morning. He pointed out that the need of many circles of modern Christianity was to relearn the fact that enthusiasm and praise is the normal thing in Christian service. He said in part:

"The Christian religion is a religion of enthusiasm. It is not a mere cold logic of righteousness and justice, it is righteousness glorified; it is justice aglow with mercy. To be a Christian is to be like Christ.

"There was enthusiasm over the birth of Jesus. The angels who came to sing the anthem about Jesus to the shepherds were happy angels, filled to overflowing with enthusiastic delight. They could not contain their joy, but shouted aloud their 'Glory to God in the highest!' John the Baptist, the forerunner of Jesus, was a man of great enthusiasm whose magnetic earnestness was so contagious that it drew multitudes out from the city into the wilderness to hear his flaming words.

"Christ himself throughout all His ministry gave to every one who came in contact with Him the impression that He was an earnest, enthusiastic soul. He had the quality, also, of arousing enthusiasm in others, and on the day when he came into Jerusalem to eat the Passover, feast with his disciples his friends gave vent to their loyalty and devotion in shouts of praise, crying out 'Hosannas' and casting their garments and palm branches in the way over which he was to travel.

"I am very sure that many circles of modern Christianity need to relearn this great truth that enthusiasm in Christian service and praise is the normal and not the extraordinary thing. Christianity is robbed of its power to bless and comfort and save in many churches, because it is shorn of the fervor and pathos which rightfully belong to it. A man is ever at his best in hours of enthusiasm and devotion. If we choose a time when we would like to have our personality remembered by those who are dear to us, and whose good opinion we most fondly crave, it would be the time when we are mentally and morally aroused to some high and holy passion for a noble cause. We all have a desire to be remembered at our best, and we are never at our best except when we are enthusiastic.

"Our Christianity is a religion not only of truth and righteousness, but it is full of singing and praise. David's expression of salvation from sin was: "He hath put a new song in my mouth, even praise unto our God." The great oratorios and the famous choruses have all been inspired by the enthusiasm of the Christian faith."

JUST HOW FAST, AL?

WASHINGTON July 28.—Commercial planes of the future will have to be considerably faster to suit Lieut. Alfred J. Williams, speed ace. "If 130 or 150 miles an hour were to be the top speed we could hope for in commercial air transporation, I would suggest that the public cease to waste its time on aviation and that they hereafter look upon it as a hobby," he says.

UNION CHURCH SERVICES OPEN IN SANTA ANA

Union church services in Santa Ana during the summer were inaugurated last night with a vesper service at Birch park at 5 o'clock and an evening worship hour at the First Presbyterian church. The series of union services will continue through August under the auspices of the Santa Ana Ministerial association.

At the vesper service in the park, which attracted a large attendance, the Rev. W. G. Nicholson, of Cambridge, Mass., who is filling the pulpit of the Congregational church during the absence of Rev. Perry F. Schrock, preached on the subject, "The Satisfactions of a Good Life." Congregational singing, under the direction of R. C. Smedley, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., opened the meeting.. Scripture lesson was read by the Rev. Moffett Rhodes, pastor of the Spurgeon Memorial Southern Methodist church, and prayer was offered by the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Phillips Sings

Special music was presented by Maurice Phillips, baritone soloist of the Congregational church choir, who was accompanied by Harry Garstang. He sang "Consider and Hear Me," by Wooler.

"It is one of the sad truths that most good things yield their treasures to only a fraction of the people. This would not be a sad truth if one could feel that the possession of the treasures was possible for all and some just failed to put forth the effort to attain them. But the fact is the treasures of many of the good things in life are as a closed door to much of the population. But this is not so with the treasures and satisfactions of the good life. Here the good is opened to all. It behooves the churches to clearly point out the satisfactions of the good life.

"There is first of all a selfish satisfaction. What a man does, largely comes back to him like a boomerang. 'Judge not that ye be not judged.' What does it mean? Simply, that if you give over your time to the petty criticism of others you will soon find people hurling the same criticisms at you. What is the community's opinion of a gossip? Exactly the gossip's opinion of the community. On the other hand the way the good comes back to a man can well be illustrated by friendship. 'The old proverbial writer had it right when he said: 'He who would have friends, must show himself friendly.'

Have Satisfaction

"But besides this selfish reason for living the good life, there are other reasons suggested by the text. He shall have the inward satisfaction of knowing that he has done his best in the struggle for goodness. For the good life is not a static life. It is progressive. And one is the recipient of inward satisfaction in proportion to the energy that he puts forth toward the ideal which he holds. Whether he reach his goal or not, the satisfaction is his. It is akin to the satisfaction that the runner has after having taken part in the race, even though he did not win the prize.

"There is also a satisfaction that is akin to that of the teacher. The teacher looks out upon the busy growing lives of those about him, and knows that some are finding the road to truth a little surer and a trifle easier because of him. He often knows when he has been the means of opening up a whole new area of truth to a few minds. No one else may know, but he fully understands, and that is enough. So with the good man. He silently knows that others are being cheered because of his striving. He sees lives open up about him into purer realms of living. No one else may know that he has been the source of strength, but it is enough that he is silently compensated.

Life Precious

"There is a still greater satisfaction. Life in whole aspects presents itself to a man in much the same colors as he presents himself to life. If a man be evil, life appears to him as evil, meaningless, stupid and idiotic. But if a man live the good life, life to him is precious as a great treasure. Listen to Jesus, the prince of all good men when he says, 'The kingdom of heaven, the good life, is like unto treasure hid in a field, the which when a man hath found he hideth, and for joy goes and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.'

'At the evening service in the First Presbyterian church, the sermon was presented by the Rev. W. H. McPeak, pastor of the United Presbyterian church. Clifford Johnson was the soloist for this service. A large crowd was in attendance.

'JESUS' TOPIC OF EVANGELIST HERE ON SUNDAY

"Thoughts about Jesus" was the subject of the morning sermon at the Southside Church of Christ yesterday. Evangelist J. W. Saunders, pastor, stressed the importance in this sermon of living for Christ as He lived and died to establish the cause for which He came.

"When we think of Jesus we think of one who was both human and divine," said the evangelist as he began his sermon. "As a man, Jesus was humble. Paul describes Him as one who made Himself of no reputation and taking upon Him the form of a servant was obedient in all things to His Father's will, even unto death. In this particular He is our example. 'God resisteth the proud but giveth grace to the humble.'

"Jesus was a poor man. It is no disgrace to be poor, but it is a disgrace to be poor through our own laziness. Jesus was not poor in this way. We are taught that God chooses the poor of this world, but they are chosen when they are rich in faith. Their acceptance is dependent on their faithfulness, not on their poverty.

"Jesus was a praying man. If He found it necessary to spend so much of His time in prayer, surely we need to pray. Jesus died for the cause He came to establish. Not only did He die for it He lived for it. That is what we must do. Live for Christ, and if necessary die for Him.

"The divinity of Jesus involves His lordship. He is a risen Lord; He is an exalted and glorified Lord; He is a coming Lord. When He comes, He will come for us. Are we ready? 'Blessed is that servant whom his Lord when He cometh shall find watching.'"

RADIO AIR RACES

CHICAGO, July 28.—Radio will again cover the National Aid races when they get started on August 23 here. As in Cleveland last year, both chains will cover the races, and the various events will be fully covered and sent to network links all over the country. Practically every local station is making arrangements to broadcast part of the races, also.

CLASH OF TWO FORCES CITED IN SUNDAY TALK

The clash between two forces which were the greatest in the world at that time—the Roman empire and the kingdom of God, was an illustration used in the sermon, "The Eternal Conflict," which was presented to the congregation at the First Baptist church yesterday morning by the acting pastor, the Rev. R. Fred Chambers.

"A great world crisis occurred when Jesus stood before Pilate," the pastor told those attending the service. "The world's two greatest forces clashed. The Roman empire and the kingdom of God. The one represented war, physical and spiritual human slavery, lust, greed, selfish ambition, material wealth, power, law without mercy; and in this crisis stood mastered by the situation when mastery was assumed. The other represented the hopes of millions who longed for freedom from Roman oppression and freedom from bonds that held men's souls in slavery. It represented all that was righteous, beautiful, uplifting, material poverty for the sake of spiritual enrichment, love's conquest of all men for the sake of freeing them in mind, body and soul; all that offered life at its best. And in this hour of crisis when it was meant to be victim, the kingdom of God, personified in Jesus Christ, proved to be the victor.

"This clash of worlds resounds in the eternal conflict in the soul of man today. The clash of war and turmoil with peace and serenity of soul. Peace can only come through the hearts of men. It is the clash of material wealth with spiritual enrichment. Men may strive to find life in amassing wealth, fame, power, etc., but they can never realize true happiness and life except through spiritual values.

"It is the clash of materialism (seen) and the spiritual (unseen) worlds. Here the scientist, psychologist, business and professional persons in their highest thinking clash. But more and more it resolves itself upon the truth that the spiritual is the only real and eternal. It is the clash between being satisfied with today or aspiration for a greater tomorrow; conservatism or a liberal and progressive attitude based on faith.

"The conflict touches all life and victory, can only come as the spiritual is recognized as real and eternal."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Truth" was the subject of the lesson-sermon Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

One of the Scripture citations included Paul's exhortations to the Romans: "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. And be not conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, presented the following statements: "One's aim, a point beyond faith, should be to find the footsteps of Truth, the way to health and holiness. We should strive to reach the Horeb height where God is revealed; and the corner-stone of all spiritual building is purity."

LEADERSHIP IS DECLARED VITAL IN CLASS TALK

As a preface to the lesson at the Men's Community Bible class service at the Fox West Coast theater yesterday morning, the Rev. Walter S. Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church and class teacher, read from the sermon on the mount which he characterized as being words of guidance through life worthy of being memorized by every man.

The lesson, one of a series of studies of the Old Testament characters, had for its central character, Deborah, the prophetess, who acted as a messenger for God at a time when there were no men who could serve in this capacity.

"The man who lets God work through him moves on to a fuller life of service and satisfaction," the teacher declared. "After the Israelites took over the land of Canaan they had judges to help in their government. These judges got so they did not let God work through them. Conditions became bad and God spoke to Deborah and told her to arouse certain leaders and tribes to combat the foes of the nation.

"The world needs leaders—it must have leaders to go on. You cannot get results without capable leaders. Jesus is the leader of the church, but man came in and tried to usurp and now we have 275 different denominations. They are again beginning to look to Jesus for leadership.

"We need to be very careful in selecting our leadership in America today. In the approaching primaries you should put your hand on the man who will keep his oath of office and who will remember that he is a servant of God as well as a servant of the people. The reason this nation stands where it is today is because of the leadership in the past of Christian men and women.

"If America falls, it will be because her womanhood leads out in impurity instead of purity. The fall of Rome and Greece is due to woman's impurity, and we must guard against such a thing in America and pray for the purity of our women.

"Let us be leaders in righteousness that we may give God the glory."

During the course of the lesson Rev. Buchanan commented on the stand President Hoover has taken on the prohibition problems and declared that some of the senators were acting like eight-year-old boys and needed to be spanked and sent home. He also declared that although he did not agree with many things Bog Shuler does, if there was ever a man whose heart is true, it is Shuler.

Special music arranged for the class yesterday by E. H. Elsener, program director, was furnished by Mrs. Taylor Johnston, of the Santa Ana Conservatory of Music, who sang "The Lord Is My Light" and "Hear Us, O Father." Her numbers were enjoyed by the audience of 134 men.

At the close of the hour, W. B. Martin, class president, recently re-elected for his 14th consecutive term, made a statement in which he said that the class was not in politics, but that it stood for the great principles of life and was interested in choosing men for public office who believed in these things and who would stand squarely on the support of the 18th amendment and moral law.

'LIBERALITY' DISCUSSED BY PASTOR SUNDAY

James H. Sewell, at the Broadway and Walnut street Church of Christ, spoke on "Liberality," yesterday morning, reading as a foundation for his remarks, II Corinthians, 8:1-15. He said in part:

"In this chapter the apostle, Paul, is holding up to the Corinthian Christians, and calling to their attention, the liberality of the poverty-stricken Macedonian brethren; the obsolete expression in the first verse 'we do you to wit,' meaning simply 'we desire you to know' or 'we make known to you,' and the fact he made known to them was that in a great trial of affliction the Grecian brethren had abounded in joy and in liberality.

"To abound in joy in the midst of great afflictions, we must have our minds firmly fixed, not on the things of this life, but on the things of the life to come, in the land where the Lord has prepared joys for those that love and serve Him. If our minds are fixed on heavenly things, rather than on the things of this life, we shall have cause for joy, even in the midst of affliction. It is also easy to abound in liberality, even in the midst of poverty, if we are giving attention to the things of the spirit rather than to things that pertain to the body.

"Paul tells the Corinthian Christians why the Macedonian brethren could abound in joy and in liberality in the midst of great affliction—because they first gave themselves first to God by obeying His will. Unless we first give ourselves to God, we may shower our means with great liberality, but it will not amount to anything in the sight of Heaven. But, having yielded ourselves in obedience to the gospel of God, we must abound also in liberality. Having taken faith and hope and love and the other Christian graces into our lives, we must abound in this other grace—the grace of giving."

REVERENCE FOR WORD OF GOD IS DECLARED NEED

Asserting that the greatest need of America today is reverence for the word of God, the Rev. R. W. Harlow, pastor of the First United Brethren church, preached yesterday on the topic, "Hearing and Doing." The sermon was based on the story of the rebuilding of the walls of Jerusalem and the subsequent rebuilding of the spiritual life of the people.

"About 50,000 of the Israelites had returned from captivity under Zerubbabel, and 7000 under Ezra, and had succeeded in building the temple," he began. "Ezra had tried to establish some reforms, but for some reason he had failed to accomplish very much. The work had been at a stand-still for about a dozen years. Some think he spent that time preparing the book of the law, while others think he made a trip back to Babylon.

"Things at Jerusalem had gotten in a bad condition, the surrounding nations had plundered the city and ill-treated the Jews. Nehemiah learned of the distress of the remnant of his people in Jerusalem and spent four months in prayer for them and the Lord sent him over to Jerusalem to look after their welfare.

"Amidst great opposition he succeeded in rebuilding the walls of Jerusalem in 52 days, for the people had a mind to work. God's work always prospers when His people have a mind to work.

"The walls built, Nehemiah turned his attention to the building of the spiritual life of the people. He issued a call for them to come together. All the people gathered themselves together as one man in the street, for worship. What an army! They were anxious to hear the word read and stood up for six hours, with great reverence, listening to the word of God as Ezra read it to them, from early morn until midday. A great revival was on. The people wept aloud and confessed their sins. One fourth of the day they stood up and read the law, and one-fourth of the day they confessed their sins.

"What this nation needs more than anything else today, is the reverence for the word of God that Israel had. We as a nation must heed its teachings, repent of our national and individual sins as they did and get right with God, or suffer the consequences of a broken law, at the hands of Him who said, 'For it is written, as I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God. So then every one of us shall give an account of himself to God.'"

As the summer season draws to a climax for that delightful little group known as the "Fulla Fun" club, members are adding to their list of memorable occasions, with Saturday evening's session at Ketner's cafe when Mr. and Mrs. Philip LaLonde were hosts standing out as one of their most charmingly informal get-togethers.

Dinner was served amidst colorful appointments featuring an abundance of asters in soft tones of lavender and pink. Members were more than ready for the lively games of bridge which followed as the natural course of the evening's diversion. The reward for scoring high in the women's group, a desirable hand-made card table cover, went to Mrs. Ben Bankers, while Mrs. Noble Watson was consoled with an adorable handkerchief. Frank Dane, in upholding honors for the men, was given linen handkerchiefs, while Harry Drown was consoled with a bridge set.

Those present to share the evening's pleasures with the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. LaLonde, were Messrs. and Mesdames Frank Dane, Noble Watson, Thomas Tournat, Homer Neer, Earl Neer, Harry Drown, Jesse Wright, N. A. Walker, William Stanford of Fullerton, Ben Bankers of Orange, and Worth Alexander of Tustin.

Novel Theme Offered By Bridge Party Hostess

The pretty home at 502 East Pine street, abloom with quantities of montbresia in yellow and orange tones, was the scene of a merry and unusual bridge party Saturday afternoon, when Miss Lois Winslow entertained with earthquake bridge. Card tables bore clever tallies, fashioned by the hostess, and portraying famous characters of the comic sheet. At the end of each round of bridge, novelty prizes were presented, such as having to play with gloves on, or wearing amusing dunce caps. Miss Elaine Smith received an attractive prize for holding high score, while Miss Virginia Powell received consolation.

Following cards, refreshments were served at the tables which were spread with comic sheet table linens with napkins to correspond.

Plans Announced for County Executive Board Meet

With the Santa Ana Woman's club as hostess organization, the executive board of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs will hold its quarterly session in this city on Tuesday, August 5, with the Y. W. C. A. rooms on East Sixth street as setting.

Since Mrs. Joseph Thurston of Laguna Beach, president of the county federation, is abroad for the summer, the meeting and its activities will be directed by the vice president, Mrs. E. E. Smith of Anaheim. The session will open at 10:30 a. m. with introduction of new county officers and chairman and various business matters to be brought to the attention of members. Among these will be the discussion of programs for the new club year. The speaker and special music features of the afternoon session will be announced later.

The sessions as well as the midday luncheon, will be open to clubwomen generally, and a large crowd is expected despite the fact that the vacation season has led many clubwomen far afield. Those who wish to make reservations for the luncheon, have been instructed to call Mrs. W. H. Kuhn, president of the hostess club, who may be reached in her home at 802 Stafford street, Santa Ana, or by telephoning to 3384W.

Varied Pleasures Are Shared By Garfield Street Club

Yesterday's meeting of the Garfield Street club, in the home of Mrs. J. J. Thompson was a most delightful one, as several of the members had been away on vacation trips and had interesting bits of news to exchange. Whether the members stitched on dainty pieces of needlework, or darned thread-worn stockings, the hours were quickly whiled away as they discussed timely topics.

An interesting feature was the reading of clippings, some poems, others, news items, contributed by each of those present.

With 4 o'clock came the delicious refreshment course, served on trays. Mrs. Thompson was assisted in her hostess duties by Mrs. R. A. Schostag, of Tustin.

Guests present were Mrs. E. Carson of San Luis Obispo, Mrs. I .W. Bouldin jr., of Riverside, and Mrs. R. A. Shostag, of Tustin. Members present, other than the hostess, Mrs. J. J. Thompson, were Mrs. W. Dietrich, Mrs. David Caldwell, Mrs. G. D. Campbell, Mrs. Frank Calking, Mrs. Fletcher Zornes, Mrs. I. W. Bouldin, Mrs. Harvey Grover, and Mrs. Ida Deck.

Bridal Anniversaries Are Celebrated in Forest Home

Events leading to the permanent resting places of Dan Cupid's arrows were called to mind Saturday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Smith gathered in the hospitable cottage at Forest Home for a week-end observance of various and sundry anniversaries. For within close range of each other were the wedding dates of the three couples and thus provided half of the theme for the delightful dinner party which Mr. and Mrs. Smith presided over Saturday evening, while Mr. Brown's natal day furnished the remainder of the interesting motif.

Two delectable cake confections were features of the menu and were especially dedicated to the celebrations of the week-end.

Guests From Milwaukee Conclude Visit in Douglas Home

The past three weeks have been very delightful ones for Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Douglas and Miss Effie Douglas, 626 North Broadway, who gave their attention to providing varied entertainment for their houses guests, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Moore, and daughter, Jane, and son, Harrison, of La Grange, Ill., and C. Reeder of Milwaukee, Wis.

Numerous intimate little dinners were planned, one of the most charming of which was held in the Laguna Beach home of Miss Alice Parker. The easterners were charmed with "Our Village" and its quaint and artistic offerings. Mrs. E. A. Douglas also entertained in their honor at the famous colony. Picnic luncheons at other beaches delighted the guests, who had the opportunity of meeting friends of their hosts who live in Pasadena and Beverly Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore and their family, and Mr Reeder, made the trip by auto, and started on their return journey, Friday. They were to go by way of Yosemite and Yellowstone parks.

Laguna Art Gallery Is Open to Public On Saturday Nights

Santa Anans who turned their attention backwards for Saturday and Sunday pleasures, were especially interested in the opportunities offered Saturday night at the Laguna Beach Art gallery, whose doors were thrown open to all visitors attracted by the opening of the exhibit of small paintings to be auctioned off to the highest bidders.

Bidding on each individual canvas opened at ten dollars, and this bid may be increased by anyone interested in securing a particular picture, the whole thing to end on Saturday night, August 23. In the meantime the gallery will be open to the public with no admission on each Saturday night of the month with various members of the art colony acting as hosts.

Last Saturday evening, the visitors were greeted by F. W. Cuprien, veteran artist of Our Village, especially noted for his marines, and Miss Julie Raymond, well-known woman member of the association.

Next Saturday night, according to John Hinchman, director of the art gallery, and member of the talented colony of artists, Ross Shattuck and Mrs. A. B. Marshall will greet the visitors. Mr. Shattuck is a well-known artist and Mrs. Marshall is state chairman of art for the P.-T. A. It has been largely through her efforts that the invaluable traveling loan exhibit of Laguna artists' work has been made available to the schools of the county.

Enjoyable Bridge Tea Compliments Summer Visitor

Complimenting Miss Frances Reynolds, charming house guest of Mrs. R. E. McBurney, 825 Garfield street, was one of the end-of-the-week's pleasantest parties, a bridge tea given by Miss Ida Nay in her home on West Sixth street.

Miss Reynolds has just returned from an extended visit in the Hawaiian Islands, and her spirited account of the beauties of the islands, and her varied experiences there, was no small part of the afternoon's enjoyment.

Miss Nay used zinnias from her own garden to add to the attractiveness of the home, their soft yet vivid colorings providing an effective background for the card table arrangement. In the bridge contest, Mrs. Hugh Neighbour scored high and Mrs. Fred Cole, second, each receiving a pretty gift in reward.

Dainty linens, pink roses and slender pink tapers were charming accompaniments to the enjoyable two-course tea menu with which Miss Nay climaxed her afternoon's hospitality.

Merry Group Enjoys Beach Party

Motoring to Laguna Beach, members of the Adult Acting class of the Visel studios, shared a memorable day as one of the events of the past week. The lively young girls reached "Our Village" in time for an exhilarating swim as a prelude to the mid-day luncheon which, needless to say, was all the more enjoyable because of the exercise-sharpened appetites.

The usual beach games and an interval of hiking provided additional entertainment for the group which consisted of Miss Vivian Rogers, Miss Neva Fay Gerdes, Miss Ramona Williams, Miss Emma Williams, Miss Marian Leihy and Holly Lash Visel (Mrs. Nelson Visel).

Camp Life Enjoyed Over Week-end

Seeking a cool retreat where they might enjoy a restful and interesting week-end, a small group of Wrycende Maegdenu club members drove to the Y. W. C. A. Camp Emma Otis Saturday, returning here last evening. Situated in a charming spot near Modjeska's home, the camp formed a most enjoyable setting for the week-end event. Plans for the success of the venture were successfully carried out, and were in charge of Miss Dorothy Dresser.

The Rev. Mr. Miller has been here for the past six months, and during that time has formed innumerable friendships, and has been invaluable to the local church. In voicing his farewell to those who were present, he told of many most interesting events which he experienced in China during the six years he was stationed there as a missionary.

Especially lovely was the refreshment course, which featured a large white frosted cake bearing an inscription from the 121st Psalm in pink letters.

Those present to bid their pastor goodbye, were the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lindsey and family of Orange, Mrs. James H. Sims, Mrs. W. Flockton, Mrs. Guy H. Bolyard and daughter, of Tustin, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. George A. LaRue, Mr. and Mrs. Gobergh, and Miss Nellie Thacker and Ray Fellows.

Anticipations of a delightful trip to points of interest in New York, followed by a year of study in Columbia university, have made a pleasurable summer for Miss Helen Woodward of 213 Orange avenue, who left yesterday afternoon to begin her eastern journey. As a final farewell party, Mrs. Otis Waldo entertained yesterday morning with an early breakfast in Irvine park.

The attractive setting of the popular picnicking grounds, seemed lovelier than ever, combined with the freshness of the morning air. A bouquet of quaint lavender blossoms centered the prettily appointed table.

Bidden to share in the delightful occasion, with the hosts, Mr. and Miss Goodward, were Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Waldo, and the honor guest, Glenn Twining of Norwalk, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Waldo of Huntington Park, Miss Clara Carmichial of Garden Grove, Miss Maurine Coon, Edward Crothier, and Mrs. Wilbud Woodward.

W. C. T. U. Picnic Comes Tomorrow

Plans today were all in readiness for the annual Orange county W. C. T. U. picnic which is to be an all-day affair tomorrow in Irvine park, with picnic dinner at noon and an interesting program arranged for afternoon hours.

All W. C. T. U. workers in the county are asked to make it a point to be present with their families and with well-filled picnic baskets, to enjoy the occasion, which is always one of the outstanding social affairs of the Union years. At 11 a. m. will be an additional feature of the program, a matrons' contest, the winner to receive a silver medal. This will be in charge of Mrs. C. D. Hicks, director of medal contests.

Dinner at 12 o'clock promises to be especially enjoyable, as everyone knows and loves the famous county park and its charms. For the afternoon program, an interesting speaker has been provided in the person of the Rev. J. G. ("'Dynamite") Adams who has devoted over a quarter of a century to lecturing for prohibition. Dr. M. Len Hutchins, woman candidate of the Republican and Prohibition parties for the office of secretary of state, will also be on the program. All county candidates for office have been invited to be present, and will be given opportunity to speak.

Anyone wishing transportation to the park should be at the Congregational church bungalow at 10 o'clock, and members with extra seats in their automobiles will call for them.

Playground ....News

Roosevelt Playground

There were nine people at Roosevelt playground that received silvercertificates last week. They were Lenore Costelia, Mac Beal, Louise Crawford, Jimmie Waters, Paul Gonzales, William Semnechec, Harris Warren and Kenneth Warren. Each had 250 points.

The elementary team played the elementary team from Lowell. Because so few of their players could come Roosevelt furnished four players. The score was 23 to 9 for Roosevelt.

Lathrop Playground

All the children have acquired the golf bug and learned to play golf on the miniature course built by the boys. In handcraft the girls have been making raffia mats and baskets and they have learned numerous things from soap. On Monday the elementary boys played Franklin in indoor and lost. Two silver certificates were awarded last week, one to Jessie Julean and one to Gerald Stauffer. The greater part of the time has been spent in preparing for the pageant.

Fremont Playground

Fremont won first prize for the best playground golf course. The prize was a picnic. The Excelsior creamery took 45 boys to Irvine park, where they hada wonderful time and lots of ice cream.

Franklin Playground

The playground has had over 50 new members with a big attendance each day.

Chariot racing, Japanese dancing, tumbling and stunts for the pageant have been the work of the week besides keeping up tournament practice in checkers, dominoes, baseball, shuffleboard and croquet.

Mr. Mustol has a fine attendanceat orchestra practice and is getting results.

Mr. Archer and Miss Pithie entertained the playground directors Monday evening after the business meeting.

Peaches, With or Without the Cream

Early peaches are in the market so, today, I want to suggest ways of using them other than the standard peaches-and-cream style.

First comes a salad, a very superior kind of salad, which serves as salad-dessert, adding zest to jaded hot weather appetites.

Have some ripe peaches and cantaloupe well chilled, but unpeeled. Arrange choice lettuce heart leaves on plates and slice peaches and cantaloupe onto the lettuce. Dress with a thin tart mayonnaise mixed with a little whipped cream, or make a boiled dressing with a pineapple-lemon base mixed with whipped cream.

A quickly made peach dumpling can be had by buttering individual baking cups, slicing peaches into the cups with sugar and butter. Cover with a rich muffin batter slightly sweetened. Bake, turn onto serving plates and serve with plain cream.

A modern version of Floating Island is made this: On thin thin slices of sponge cake arrange sliced ripe peaches. Have ready a boiled custard, quite sweet and very cold. Pour a generous quantity over the cake and peaches and serve at once.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Frozen Plum Pudding

1 small can plumb pudding
1-4 cup cream
1 rounded teaspoon gelatin
1-4 cup cold water or
1-4 cup cooking sherry
1 cup cream whipped stiff
Tiny pinch of salt

This is a marvelous recipe for use in a mechanical refrigerator. It can be frozen in a covered mould (can) buried in ice and rock salt. This way of freezing permits slicing for serving.

• • •

Any good canned plum pudding can be used. Turn it out of the can, break in small pieces and let it soak in the quarter-cup of cream for 15 minutes. Soften the gelatine, using water or cooking sherry, and melt over hot water. Add to the softened plum pudding and let stand till it begins to jelly. Fold into the stiffly whipped cream, add a few grains of salt and put it away to freeze. If the mechanical refrigerator is used, just let it stand in the ice cube pan at this temperature for 10 hours. Do not stir.

This is such a rich dessert, only small portions should be served. The recipe will take care of six, and the calory total per person will be 325. The ingredients in this pudding are the intensive energy making kind.

This week, the leaflet is written for the special benefit of the men who read the Mixing Bowl, some of whom have written me asking me to tell them of things they can cook, and in quantities for one person.

I will admit at the start that I had to have help in getting up this leaflet from a man who does a lot of his own cooking, and if I can interpret recipes, they are good enough for all the women to send in a stamped, self-addressed envelope this week for a free copy.

Just mark it A BACHELOR'S OWN RECIPES.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, July 28.—A surprise shower was given for Mrs. Walter Hudson by two friends, Mrs. Charles LeGrande and Mrs. Manuel Adamson, recently, the guests gathering in the Hudson home for the afternoon. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostesses to the group of friends. Those present were Mrs. Walter Lessig and Mrs. J. Sauers of Garden Grove; Mrs. Ray Burk, Mrs. L. Morshing, Mrs. E. C. Hylton, Mrs. Beatrice Knapp, Mrs. F. Eastwood, Mrs. J. W. Montgomery, Mrs. W. Y. Gabriell, Mrs. J. A. Montgomery, Mrs. Hazle Hurd, Mrs. Richard Arnett, Mrs. James Morgan, Mrs. John Haxton, Mrs. P. A. Lawrence, Mrs. Adamson and Mrs. LeGrande.

Torosa Bridge Players Are Entertained In Chandler Home

Members of a certain little bridge club, all of whom belong to Torosa Rebekah lodge, held an enjoyable session late last week, when they were entertained by Mrs. A. B. Crandler in her home at 406 East Walnut street.

Dahlias in tones of brilliant orange formed an attractive setting for the bridge tables. The hostess herself held high score, while Mrs. John Mitchell held low. Prizes are not awarded at each meeting, instead, scores are kept, and at the conclusion of the season the grand prize awards are made.

Those present, other than the hostess, Mrs. A. B. Chandler, and three guests, Mrs. John Turner, Mrs. Claude Brown and Mrs. Olen Turner, were Mesdames Herbert Allen, Charles Bowers, Allie Cain, William Kesemann, Henry Pankey, Frank Pickel, John Mitchell, Maude Swarthout, and Nellie Young.

Bridge Group Enjoys Hospitality of Mrs. Steele

The past week was a popular one for club luncheons, and one of the pleasantest of these was given by Mrs. Joe Steele in her home at 933 South Main street, Thursday afternoon. The inviting menu was served on the linen covered card tables, centered with yellowpom-pom dahlias which harmonized prettily with the nut cups of yellow and blue. This color scheme was carried out in theafternoon's bridge appointments.

A lovely set of ice tea glasses was awarded Mrs. Paul Carnahan, who held high score, while Mrs. Roy Irvine was consoled with a practical cookie jar. Mrs. John Gould received a box of candy as a special prize.

Those present, other than the hostess, Mrs. Steele, were Mesdames Paul Carnahan, John Gould, Roy Ivins, Fred Cole, Helen Hughett, O. K. Carr, and Cornelius Neuschwanger.

SURPRISED ON BIRTHDAY

CYPRESS, July 28.—A very pleasant surprise was staged on Thursday when relatives called on Mrs. A. Hartman of Hansen road and reminded her of her birthday.

Watermelon, ice cream and cake were served after an evening spent listening to music.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. Remland sr., Mr. and Mrs. C. Remland and son Paul of Lincoln avenue, Harding; Mr. and Mrs. C. Hartman and sons of Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. A. Stach and children Gustav and Selma, Mr. and Mrs. L. Retlich and children Louisa and Henry of Hansen road and Mr. and Mrs. A. Hartman and son Alfred.

As romantically lovely as the Mediterranean resort which gave it its name, Lida Isle provided a charming setting Friday night for a happy birthday celebration staged in the yacht clubhouse as a compliment to Miss Patricia Lynch.

The young honoree is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Lynch of 158 South Main street, who took special delight in arranging for the celebration of her eighteenth birthday anniversary. The plans included a delectable supper served in the patio to the accompaniment of yellow and white flowers and table appointments.

Supper was followed by dancing, although there were various other diversions enjoyed by the light-hearted young people, who divided their 'tention between the entertainment offered within the clubhouse, and that provided by the swimming beach of Stillwater bay and the speed boats placed at their disposal.

Those who aided in making the day a memorable one for Miss Patricia, included the Misses Claudine Brayton, Eileen Carroll, Blanche Illingsworth, Lois Anderson, Dorothy Lynch, dele Lynch; Messrs Reynold Benson, Floyd Hubbard, Victor Chatten, Ewing Bellows, Ralph Morris, Wallace Smith, Roy Griggs, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll J. Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Fred McCandless, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCandless jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Claude D. Anderson.

Slowly but surely the game of contract bridge is gaining popularity in this city, and Santa Anans who formerly were ardent auction bridge fans, now divert their energies to the pastime they find the more thrilling. Among these converts are members of a little card club which was entertained Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Emrys White at 2115 North Broadway.

Following the prettily appointed luncheon, served at 1 o'clock, came the card session in which Mrs. Mark B. Lacy was successful in holding high score, Mrs. Dexter Ball, second, and Mrs. W. H. DeWolfe, third. Each was awarded an attractive price.

Those present to share the afternoon with their hostess, Mrs. White, were Mesdames B. J. Macmullen, Horace B. Van Dien, H. T. Dunning, F. C. Rowland, W. E. Winslow, Leonard G. Swales, M. D. Borgmeyer, Wade W. Warner, Mark B. Lacy, Dexter Ball, and William H. DeWolfe.

Family Group Returns From Extended Trip

Returning late last week from a most interesting and historial trip throughout the eastern states, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hardy, of 518 East Second street, and their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hardy and children, Richard and Anita Mae, of 1007 West Camille street, report a wonderful time, and an eventful journey. Mrs. E. E. Hardy remained for a more extended visit in MacPherson, Kans.

The first stop was made in Quincy, Ill., where they visited a week with E. E. Hardy's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Harshman; and from there continued on to Perry, Ill., home town and birthplace of E. E. Hardy, where the time was pleasantly spent with old friends, relatives and schoolmates.

In Washinton, D. C., over a week was profitably spent in seeing the various historic places. The Santa Anans met Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the house, and attended several sessions of congress. Robert Lee's home, the United States mint, and the incomparable Smithsonian Institution, were all duly visited, and perhaps the most famous of all, beautiful Mount Vernon, the former home of Washington, which overlooks the placid flowing waters of the Potomac. One of the more new places of interest taken in by the travelers was the St. Paul's and St. Peter's cathedral, which is being erected in the city, and is the third largest of its kind in the world. Eleven years have already been spent in work upon this beautiful edifice, with 15 more years to elapse before its completion is anticipated. Arlington cemetery was also viewed before they left for other points.

In Baltimore, Md., they were guests of friends. The battlefield of Valley Forge, where Washington's headquarters were located, was visited. In Philadelphia, Mrs. Lula Backtel, formerly of Santa Ana, was their hostess. The battlefield of Gettysburg, and Lee's headquarters, which have been converted into a private museum, and are located just outside of the battlefield, were points of interest.

With these historic impressions in mind, the travelers journeyed to Quincy, Ill., through Ohio, and after stopping in Kansas for a short time, returned to their homes, rich in the knowledge of their country.

It is supposed that balsa is the lightest wood. It weighs about seven pounds to the square foot, or about half the weight of cork.

TWO BLACK CROWS HERE IN WAR FILM

Moran and Mack, "The Two Black Crows," return to Santa Ana today in their second all-talking comedy success, "Anybody's War," which is said to be just twice as good as their initial success on the screen, "Why Bring That Up," which was seen here several months ago. The picture will be seen at the Fox Broadway theater Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The new picture is a comedy on the late war, in whch the two crows go to France, unconsciously become heros and return home proud possessors of medals but still wondering what it was all about.

The story starts in Buford, Tenn., where the dusky comedians live at the time the war breaks out. Mack is the town's dog catcher, where he is so kind hearted that rather than have the dogs killed that he takes into the pound, he takes them home and boards them himself.

Moran joins the ranks of the colored boys going to war, and Mack is chided because he is to stay at home. He attempts to join but is turned down on account of his flat feet. He later walks off with the contingent of soldiers that leaves Buford and no one ever knows he is in the ranks. With him goes "Deep Stuff," his favorite pup.

BRIDE OF REGIMENT AT STATE THEATER

One of the most thrilling and at the same time pictorially beautiful pictures that has reached the screen for a long time is "Bride of the Regiment," which opened last night at the State theater.

It is not, however, one of those last-minute-dash-to-the-rescue melos. The bride, threatened by an Italian officer, saves herself in a remarkable and unexpected manner, thanks to the aid of several quaint and amusing circumstances. Moreover she saves her husband at the same time. The characters are delightfully human.

The picture is exceptionally beautiful because it is filmed in Technicolor throughout. The color is clear, brilliant, and remarkable for its depth, giving an illusion of third dimension or stereoscopic effect. The backgrounds represent a picturesque section of Italy.

MYSTERY DRAMA AT FOX WEST COAST

Set against the background of an isolated island off the surf-beaten Maine coast, in the black of night, with a terrific storm raging outside, "Midnight Mystery" creates an atmosphere of nerve-tingling mystery that is guaranteed to thrill the most jaded theater-goer. It describes the tragic consequences of a "dummy" murder that takes on gruesome realism, and the solving of the mystery by the quick-wit of a girl who is a member of the oddly-assorted house-party on this forsaken island.

The fine cast of "Midnight Mystery," and the thrilling nature of the story makes the film one of the most exciting to appear on the Fox West Coast theater screen.

Two Catholics, Daniel Carroll of Maryland, and Thomas Fitzsimons, of Pennsylvania, helped frame the Constitution of the United States and signed their names to the draft reported by the convention.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

The Tinymites had had their fill of Bagdad. It was quite a thrill to travel round the city 'cause the scenes were very queer. The narrow streets that wound around in all parts of the town were found. And far, far down the Tigris they could gaze, when it was clear.

They'd had a boat ride all along the river front mid current strong, but everyone enjoyed it. They decided to repeat this wondrous trip, so off they went and 'bout a half an hour was spent in drifting 'round and singing songs that sounded very sweet.

The folks on shore gave them a hand because they thought the music grand. One fellow shouted, "Sing again." And so they sang one line. "Wee, happy Tinymites are we who travel round, the sights to see. We're glad we came to Bagdad 'cause we think your city's fine."

Once more the clapping filled the air. "I guess our singing's rather rare," said little Clowny Tinymite. The others all agreed. The Travel Man said, "Yes, you're grand, but come, we must go back to land." The Tinymites obeyed him and returned to shore with speed.

"Where are we going now?" asked one. "What can we do to have more fun? We've seen enough of Bagdad. Let's be on our merry way." "All right," replied the Travel Man. "Another town we'll shortly scan. It's far across the desert and we'll start this very day."

"How well we travel?" Clowny cried. "We'll have to have some way to ride." The Travel Man just grinned and said, "By caravan we'll go." A camel train soon was brought out and mid a very merry shout, the Tinies climbed aboard. My, but the camels traveled slow.

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.
2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.
3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

FORE to CAST—FORECAST a low score for yourself and then go out and shoot it. It's a simple par three hole.

HOMECOMING OF OLD RESIDENTS HELD ALL DAY

COSTA MESA, July 28—The second anniversary of the building of the new Costa Mesa Community church was celebrated at all services Sunday.

At 1 o'clock a reunion was held in the social hall, the former church building, where 50 people ate dinner together. Reminiscences were given by members of the board of trustees, members of the building and also the organ committee, which included Donald J. Dodge, J. B. Cleghorn, F. A. Daley, Mrs. Harry Clark and Mrs. M. V. Reid.

The young people of the Epworth league were in charge of the evening services, with Robert Fuller in charge. Special vocal solos were sung by Mrs. Hempshall of Garden Grove accompanied at the organ by Mrs. E. L. Bennett, and Miss Martha Hassel accompanied by Mrs. A. F. Hassel at the piano. "March On," a special number, was sung by the choir.

Robert Coyner gave the scripture reading. Frank Fairley of Santa Ana spoke on "Youth" and Harry Meyers of Costa Mesa chose as his sermon topic, "Saving Grace."

WOMEN'S GUILD PREPARING FOR FASHION SHOW

LAGUNA BEACH, July 28.—Extensive preparations are being made by the Women's Guild of St. Mary's Episcopal church for the August 9 fashion show. Latest fashions will be displayed in a parade by 25 girls, showing past, present and future. Cards and dancing will follow the program.

Miss Lucinda Griffith is chairman of the committee and is assisted in various ways by Mrs. Elinor Hutchings, Lorraine Pardee, Priscilla Batty and Mrs. Joseph Jahraus.

Those who will act as models are the Misses Bobbie Isch, Doris and Virginia Thurston, Katherine Pence, Ruth Woodward, Betty Perrin, Ida Griffith, Barbara Donnell, Lucinda Griffith, Eleanor Knecht, Anne Young, Elaine Smith, Louella Marshall, Mrs. Betty Arden, Mrs. Dorothy Pierce, Mrs. Hollister Laude-Knaggs, Mrs. G. Hartwell Smith, Mrs. Bettie Ritchey, Mrs. J. Walter Rankin, Mrs. Frank B. Champion, Mrs. Herman Eberle and Mrs. Charles J. Coll.

The fashion parade is given for the benefit of St. Mary's church to help toward payments on two lots recently purchased.

JAPANESE PLAN VACATION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 28.—Student of the Japanese Mission school of Orange county will enjoy a week's vacation at Huntington Beach beginning August 11. Rooms and sleeping quarters have been engaged at various beach cottages and apartments about the city for the 150 students who will be here for the week.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 28.—Fish lice are worrying the fish this year more than usual, it is claimed. Little is heard about fish lice, as a rule. In fact, few people ever heard of fish lice. But they do exist and Noah Webster defines them in his famous book, the dictionary, of the English language.

D. E. Burry, superintendent of the American States Water Service company at Huntington Beach, put a fish louse under a microscope this week. The creature has a shell over its back, its feet end in vacuum cups, and it has a forked tail and fearful head, resembling a miniature shovel-nosed shark The lice get under a fish's scale and after once getting a safe hold, they perform like any ordinary land louse. A fish louse is larger than a land louse, resembling in size a tick and growing like a tick to the size of a cowtick, or small pea.

Hide On Gold Fish

Mr. Burry took the fish louse he examined from one of the gold fish in his fish pond. But the same sort of lice infest sea fish. This proves that a fish louse like a fish can live in salt water or fresh water. A fish that is carrying a louse has plenty of worry on his hands. He jumps, flits through the water and when he is not trying to swim or leap away from the louse, he is to be found rubbing his back or sides against the sea weeds or water plants, or even the side of a rock. It is apparent from the action of the fish, that there is no fun in being a fish and having a louse.

Fish lice bite people, but are easily removed from the skin and as a rule they are rarely seen. But this year they are more numerous than usual and ocean swimmers have been troubled with them. Fish have been unusually plentiful this year, crowding the sea and the lice increase may possibly be due to the overpopulated condition of the fish communities. At least lice get thick on pet gold fish when the gold fish ponds become overcrowded with fish.

REALTY BOARD WANTS COLLEGE IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, July 26.—The Fullerton district junior college is one of the biggest assets to this community and one on which property values as well as rentals are maintained at their present excellent standing, according to the members of the Fullerton Realty board which unanimously went on record as endorsing the stand of J. A. Prizer, president of the Fullerton school board of trustees, in favoring a college for this vicinity, at their weekly meeting yesterday at McFarland's cafe.

"Members of the realty board were unanimous in their belief that the Fullerton district junior college should be continued in this section as a result of the big assets which it creates," Verne A. Baker, president of the Fullerton Realty Board, declared following the meeting.

Baker offered information on building activities provided by the Southern California Edison company and showing that during the month of June just past, Fullerton led all Southern California cities in the consistency of gain in building activities.

A table computed for a five-year average of building in leading cities of Southern California shows that this city had a building total for June, 1930, that amounted to 146 per cent more than the average for the five-year period. Pasadena with 136 per cent was second, San Gabriel with 110 per cent was third and Anaheim with 107 per cent was fourth.

BOOK TO HAVE SAN CLEMENTE HISTORY

SAN CLEMENTE, July 28.—Brea Post 181, American Legion, will stage a Labor day celebration, rodeo and free barbecue on August 31 and September 1. In the program of the event will appear a story of San Clemente. The story, sent by the Spanish Village Chamber of Commerce will tell of the progress of the city from the time it was founded until today, giving the reasons of San Clemente's popularity as a place to live.

The story will appear in competition with stories from other chamber of commerces of cities of Orange county.

REPAIR SCHOOL

BREA, July 28.—Work of redecorating the Brea grammar school cafeteria has been completed by the contractors, Massey & Thaxton. The manual arts room and the garage of this school have also undergone some repairs and redecorating.

Build Store For Beach Dairy Firm

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 28.—The Golden State Dairy Products company has entered into an agreement and lease whereby C. C. Carswell of Chicago, purchaser of the lot adjoining the Ocean Wave hotel on ocean boulevard near Main street, will erect a new building to be used by the Golden States company as a retail store for dairy products and also as a lunch room and restaurant for the sale of dairy lunches. Work on the new building is to start this week and will be rushed to completion.

It is to be a stucco building with ornamental front and the store room will be decorated after the artistic fashion of all the Golden State Dairy products company chain stores and restaurants. The company selected Huntington Beach for its location on account of the heavy traffic on the coast highway.

TUSTIN JOINS COUNTY PICNIC

TUSTIN, July 28.—All members of the Tustin W. C. T. U. are urged to attend the all day meeting to be held Tuesday, July 29, in Irvine park. The group will meet at the corner of Main and D streets, at 10 o'clock, with basket lunches and will continue in a group to the park. Dinner will be served at the tables at noon.

CANDIDATES IN ELECTION MEET IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, July 28—Politicans ruded the Fullerton Round Table club, with virtually the entire group of candidates in the county election present at McFarland's cafe Friday noon. More than 65 persons were in attendance.

While the club endeavored to settle the political fortunes of the county, the candidates after the meeting were endeavoring to settle the bill for a round of cigars apiece for the 65 persons present.

With Harry Suters presiding, initiation ceremonies were conducted for the following: B. K. Maxwell initiated twice, once to become a member of the club and once for his hole-in-one; Henry Warren, president of the Hacienda club; W. Kee Maxwell, father of B. K. Maxwell; Clarence Trickey of Santa Ana, recently married; R. P. Mitchell and Ray Adkinson, joint endorsement for county superintendent of schools; George D. Montgomery, candidate for county assessor; Sam Jernigan, incumbent, and William Sylvester, candidate for sheriff; Harry Westover, candidate for district attorney; W. K. Hilliard, county surveyor; J. C. Lamb, county tax collector; E. P. and Joe Backs, of whom only E. P. Backs was present; W. C. Jerome, county auditor, and C. D. Brown, county coroner.

It was announced that all other candidates had already received the club's endorsement. Ralph McFadden, candidate for sheriff; D. G. Wettlin, candidate for district attorney, and Earl Abbey, candidate for county treasurer, also were present.

BENEFIT DANCE FOR BAND ON AUGUST 2

SAN CELMENTE, July 28.—The stage is set to make the benefit dance for the San Clemente band the social affair of the season. The dance, to be held Saturday, August 2, will be a civic affair under the sponsorship of the Men's club and will be in charge of Sammy Henon, dance chairman of the men's organization. Money from the dance will go to the band.

On Friday, August 1, a concert by the band will be held at the Social club. J. C. Thompson, director, promises an hour of good music.

Friends Surprise William Mitchell

BUENA PARK, July 28.—Mrs. William Mitchell planned a delightful surprise party for her husband, at the home on South Grand avenue, Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell were dinner guests at the home of the former's brother, John Mitchell and wife, and when they returned to their home later in the evening, presumably on an errand, the honoree was much surprised to find a group of friends who had gathered to assist him in celebrating his birthday.

Rook and other games furnished the entertainment and refreshments of home made cake, birthday cake and punch were served.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bastady, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Neal, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Haggarty, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Warlaumont, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hillman, Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. George Cole, Mrs. Rose Hartman, Mrs. David Lemke, Mrs. E. S. Jones, Esther Hartman, Ruth Bastady, Margaret Cole, Jennie, Edna and Cordelia Mitchell, Ida Mae Hartman, Barbara Bastady, Claribelle Lemke, Jean Cole, Harvery Hartman, Edwin and Carl Bastady, Robert Cole, Dudley, Jack and Bobby Lemke, George Mitchell and the host and hostess.

FLOWER TREES BRING PRAISE TO FULLERTON

FULLERTON, July 28.—The beauty of the Jacaranda trees lining Jacaranda place is attracting attention from other cities from all over the Southland.

The latest city to comment on the unusual trees is Santa Barbara. A copy of an editorial urging more trees and published in the Santa Barbara Press follows:

"The city of Fullerton, east of Los Angeles, has done a thing that Santa Barbara could well emulate. It has planted an avenue of jacaranda trees, and when they are in full bloom, as they are at the present time and have been for some weeks, they draw as much attention as Altadena's famous 'mile of Christmas trees' during the holidays. These jacarandas are planted on both sides of Jacaranda place, and their purple blossoms sweeten the air with a perfume as delightful as their color is attractive to the eye. As the city has grown, the rows of trees on each side of the street have been extended. We have few of these trees in Santa Barbara and might try an avenue of them next year—starting on Arbor day."

START DRILLING ON OIL WELL IN CAPISTRANO

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 28.—The oil well located on the John Forsteh ranch, two miles south of this place is again the scene of keen activity. For the past week preliminary work, such as grading the road from the highway to the well, steaming up the boilers, and cleaning off the property has been under way.

Drilling started Saturday and a crew of seven men is now engaged on the well, under the direction of O. K. Carr, who with E. C. Johnson, successful oil operator of Wyoming, is putting down the well. Much interest is felt in the progress of the Carr well. The bringing in of an oil field in this part of Orange county would open up a new era of development.

The history of the Carr well is interesting, and points promising to the gringing in of an oil well. Drilling on the lease started several years ago, proceeding to a depth of 4180 feet. At 3939 feet strata of varcaous sand was struck, which was 85 feet in depth. This is the same sand found in the famous Kettlemen Hills oil fields. When tested water above this was found to hold 18,000 grains of salt. Ocean test is but 14,000 grains, the test proving that in remote time the present site of the Carr well was ocean bottom.

The log of the well shows that three oil sands have been found, one at less than 2000 feet. At 1400 feet a gas pressure was struck, with 5,000,000 cubic feet of gas. It is expected that oil will be found in the next fifty to one hundred feet; if not, the drilling will proceed to 6000 feet.

More than $120,000 have been spent on the Carr well, and not a bit of stock has been sold or is for sale. The well is geologically located, and is supposed to be in a structure which extends northeast-southwest. Several geologists from major oil companies have visited the Carr well this week, and if oil is truck within the next month, as is expected, this locality will be the center of the new field.

NOTED NEW YORK ARTISTS IN SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO PAINTING HISTORIC SCENES

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, July 28—Interesting people from other parts of the world find their way to this quaint old town, drawn by its historic charm and romance. Most of them continue on their way, a few remain to make their homes in the locality.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Payson Ames, artists from New York City, have established their studio recently in the old adobe building which was once, so tradition tells, the home of Governor Pico. Here in this historic environment they will continue their work, each painting in his own medium.

As Frances Ames, Mrs. Ames was one of the best known artists of New York City, her particular fore being portraits, both in oil and on ivory. In the reception room of the Old Adobe studio is a large case, covered with glass. Here are found a number of priceless miniatures, on ivory painted by her clever brush. Here are portraits of noted people, including Victor Herbert, the composer; tiny Gloria Caruso, daughter of the renowned singer; Mrs. Potter Palmer, society leader; and Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, who figured in the most sensational murder cases of the country.

In the adjoining room are a number of fine studies in oil, including one of a woman, "Etude," which won Frances Ames recognition in the Paris Salon, while she was abroad studying art. A recently painted study of Father St. John O'Sullivan, of the San Juan Capistrano mission, stands on an easel nearby.

Mrs. Ames came with her husband to California several years ago, direct from her studio on Madison avenue. She has been seeking a spot where she would find old world charm, quaint types and historical background, since coming to the state. Now she feels that San Juan Capistrano offers all she has demanded.

In addition to being an artist of the finest talent, Mrs. Ames is a remarkable woman. During the war, Mr. Ames, who was a noted art photographer of the east, was officer of camouflage in the 27th New York division, with a large number of artists under his direction. Later he was sent overseas with his division. Mrs. Ames made many attempts to follow her husband to the war front, but was not permitted. She then went to the little town of Fort Plane, New York, where a woolen mill made shirts for sailors, and worked all summer in the mill, "doing her bit," and raising potatoes, on the side, to help along the food supply.

Among the people she remembers who have sat for her, for portraits, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw is outstanding. Mrs. Ames knew her when she was a girl of 15; knew her during the White-Thaw murder trial, and recently heard from her in a dive, in Panama, where she is now singing.

INDIA LILIES BLOSSOMING IN HILLCREST PARK

FULLERTON, July 28. — Great East Indio pond lillies are now in full bloom in the park at Hillcrest, according to Henry Byerrum, superintendent, who declared that it is "blossom time" for water flowers.

These huge, delicately tinted blossom have been one of the atttractions at Hillcrest park during the summer for years, visitors coming from many part of Southern California to see them.

Although no additional funds for development of the parks have been available this year, much improvement work has been done, Byerrum said. The city's park system this year has been on a "maintenance basis," it was declared.

At Hillcrest park, cages for squirrels and birds have been installed. New picnic tables have been added and new barebcue stoves have been placed in the camp grounds.

At Commonwealth park, a plan is under way to replace with grass the heavy growth of brush and shrubbery surrounding the lily pond. This will permit a view from the street back to the large lawn and band platform in the rear.

Picnic tables for more than 300 persons are available in this park, Byerrum pointed out, with wood stoves arranged to provide the best method of broiling steaks or such other picnic foods desired.

FULLERTON POLICE GET STRANGE MOTH

FULLERTON, July 28.—Held in prison by the Fullerton police, Celerio Lineata passed away Thursday night, and the body was turned over for the dissemination of scientific information.

By the way, Celerio, in case it is not generally known, is the first name of the white lined sphynx moth, otherwise known as the "hummingbird" moth.

This busy creature, a night flyer, with wings constantly in motion like a hummingbird, dips its beak-like proboscis into flowers while poised in the air above. It is similar in appearance to the miniature hummingbird.

Reports from Santa Barbara countyhave indicated an exceptional number of the insects there this season. The larvae feed on apples, grapes, turnips, sugar beets and a few other forms of vegetation. It was not believed by scientists, however, that even in Santa Barbara county any damage would be done.

REV. DR. PECK SPEAKS SUNDAY TO METHODISTS

ANAHEIM, July 28.—In the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Ralph W. Lee, who with his family is vacationing in British Columbia, the pulpit at the White Temple Methodist church was filled Sunday morning by the Rev. Dr. Harcourt Peck, D. D., Methodist Episcopal clergyman and author. Dr. Peck has held a number of important pastorates, including Santa Ana, Redlands and Phoenix, Ariz. He also served as superintendent of the Los Angeles district and at one time was professor of Greek at Columbia college, British Columbia, Canada.

Rev. Peck took his text from Hebrews, the ninth chapter, verses 27 and 28 and Relevation, chapter 20, verses 11 to 12. He reminded his hearers that the scripture says "It is appointed unto us once to die and after that the judgment." He referred especially to the judgment day. "We are not asked whether we die nor are we asked whether we be born or whether we be white or black or red or yellow," the speaker said. He pointed out that we are all writing a book and that from this book, or the life we live, the Christian is judged. The book of the parent's life, he said, is the book the children read, and stressed the point that if the parents make a chum of the child he will instinctively love our God.

In the course of Rev. Peck's sermon, he said no one lives in the body today as we will tomorrow, since it is constantly changing. He said we are to live on—but where? In discussing the point of some people not believing in life hereafter, the speaker said "your belief or mine does not settle it." He further said that the best minds of today believe in Christ and the hereafter.

A statement that gave food for thought was that "the more education you give a young man, if his heart is not in the right place, the worse man you will make of him." In stressing the importance of Christian parents and a godlike home, he brought out the need that the children in that home know God and that they are given the right channels. If not, he said, they will not be true to ideals and not true to God.

In conclusion, the speaker referred his congregation to the Bible reference stating that what we sow that shall we also reap, leaving the encouraging words that God will abundantly pardon, and that He appointed us not to destruction but unto salvation.

Musical Program Given At Church

VILLA PARK, July 28.—The musical program at the Villa Park Community church Sunday morning was quite varied and was reported the best for many weeks.

The program was as follows: Prelude—Nocturne in F (Schumann); anthem — Ashamed of Jesus, (Allene K. Bixby); vocal solo—The Plains of Peace, (D'Auvergne Barnard) by Miss Elizabeth Skiles, and offertory, Reviere (Carl Wilhelm Kern).

The sermon was "Alone," and was presented by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Walter M. Tippie.

POSTPONE CHURCH SERVICES

TALBERT, July 28.—There will be no church services at the Talbert Methodist church, south, until the last Sunday in August, at which time there will be a Rally day service held. The pastor, the Rev. T. P. Turner was given this vacation by his congregation that he might regain his health which is not good owing to several operations and a recent illness from which he is convalescing.

The undersigned, the City Clerk of the City of Santa Ana, State of California, hereby gives notice that on the 24th day of July, 1930, the Superintendent of Streets of said City having made an assessment to cover the sum due for the work performed and specified in the contract made under proceedings for the improvement of Lowell Street and Russell Avenue, initiated by Resolution of Intention No. 2166, passed February 3rd, 1930, filed the same with me. I hereby fix August 11th, 1930, at the hour of 7:30 o'clock P. M. as the time, and the Council Chamber of the City Hall of said City, as the place where and when all persons interested in the work done thereunder or in the said assessment will be heard by the City Council. This notice will also be published by the undersigned twice in the Santa Ana Daily Evening Register, a newspaper published in said City. The owners, contractor or his assigns, all other persons interested in the said work or in the said assessment feeling aggrieved by any act or determination of the Superintendent of Streets or the City Engineer in relation thereto, or who claim that the work has not been performed according to contract in good and substantial manner, or who claim that any portion of the work for any reason was omitted or illegally included in the contract for the same, having or making any objections to the correctness of the assessment or diagram or other act, determination or proceeding of the Superintendent of Streets or City Engineer, shall prior to the day fixed for the hearing upon the assessment appeal to the City Council by briefly stating in writing the grounds of appeal.

For a description of the said work, reference is hereby made to the above mentioned Resolution No. 2166.

(Seal) E. L. VEGELY,

Dated this 15th day of July, 1930.

Clerk of the City of Santa Ana and the City Council thereof.

NOTICE OF TIME OF PROVING WILL, ETC.

No. A1816

Notice is hereby given that Friday, the 8th day of August, 1930, at 10 a. m. of said day, at the Court room of this Court, in the Department of the Presiding Judge thereof, in the City of Santa Ana, County of Orange, State of California, has been appointed as the time and place for hearing the application of Security First National Bank of Los Angeles, Calif., praying that a document now on file in this Court, purporting to be the last Will and Testament of the said deceased, be admitted to probate, that Letters Testamentary be issued thereon to said Bank at which time and place all persons interested therein may appear and contest the same.

Dated July 23, 1930.

J. M. BACKS, County Clerk.

JOHN A. JORGENSON, 1322 Dehniller building, Los Angeles, Attorney for Petitioner.

Beach organization. The Acorns intend to rely on Deene Downer, a City league fast ball pitcher, who has done well everytime he has started for the Long Beach club.

The race is strictly between Santa Ana, La Habra, Anaheim and Long Beach. Whittier, defeated by La Habra last week, has no chance now but as the Quakers still play Santa Ana and Anaheim they will have a lot to say in determining the eventual winner of this torrid streamer hunt.

SUNSET BEACH

SUNSET BEACH, July 28.—Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen, of Bay View drive, entertained the following guests at a dinner party: Mr. and Mrs. Bill Larmie and Mr. and Mrs. W. Reed, both of Willowbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Patton, of Whittier, have rented the Buena Fortuna cottage on Canal Way, for a short duration.

Mrs. Ray Allen, of Coast Highway, had as her guests for a few days her niece, Ellen Geene Sandlin, and her chum of Long Beach.

Mrs. C. M. Earll, has as her guests her sister-in-law and niece Mrs. Rose Luz and daughter Eleanor, of Santa Ana. They will spend a couple of weeks with her.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sheeley, of Park avenue, had the following guests on Thursday and Friday; Eleanor Wood, of Santa Ana, Mary Gisler, of Greenville, Mr. and Mrs. S. Krukenburg, of Oxnard, and Mr. and Mrs. Merton Penhall and family of Cypress.

Miss Rosa and Catherine Phillips, of Los Angeles, were the charming young hostesses at an all week festivity held at their beach cottage on Fifteenth street, music, dancing games and swimming made merriment for all. The guests were: Misses Agnes Barrett, Florence Gage, Peggy Wade, of Los Angeles, Nadine and Carlos Richards, of Los Alamos and Lee, Bill, and Don Madson of Long Beach.

NEW YORK BONDS

NEW YORK, July 28.—(UP)—Demand for railroad securities featured an htoerwise dull and irregular bond market which assumed a rather ragged apeparance around noon today as price fluctuations spread to a wider range.

Seaboard 4s spurted nearly 5 points to lead a genreally upward movement among the carriers, while lesser gains were retarded in such issues as New York, Chicago & St. Louis 6s, Seaboard 6s, New York Central 5s and Colorado and Southern 4½s.

Support was withdraw from utility isues and members of this division moved downward in the wake of American Telephone & Telegraph off 4¼ points. The exception to this tendency was International Telephone and Telegraph 4½s, up ½ point.

Foreign omnbligations backed and filled in a narrow range, with Latin American issues noticeably steady. Slight declines were registered in Lyons 6s and Rome 6½s. After a quiet opening, United States governm securties were in fair demand in prices near previous closing levels.

Industrial and Amusement bonds moved iregularly, as trading continued to center in other sections. Oils were fairly active, and principal bonds in this division firmed up slightly.

L. A. PRODUCE

LO SANGELES, July 28.—(UP)—Fruit and produc moved fairly well on today's market, with prices generally unchanged fro miast week.

Apricots were in limited supply with most stock coming from cold storage. ..orthern Royals ranged from 3-5c per lb. Local fancy packed avocados of various varieties jobbed at $6.50-$11.50 on 1st grade 24-42s.

Local cantaloupes were in heavy supply with prices weaker. Hale's Best in standard crates, 2s-27s, jobbed at 75-90c.

Local and San Diego county cucumbers were practically unchanged from last week at 40-60c per lug. Coachella figgs fuond slow demand, with prices weaker. Black Missions in 6-lb. flats jobbed at 50-60c on small to medium size stock. Bakersfield seedless grapes jobbed at mostly 2-2¼c per lb.

Dry pack lettuce was in liberal supply, with fairly good demand. Guadalupe and Santa Maria 4s jobbed at $1.25-$1.50, with best stock $1.75.

San Joaquin Elberta peaches were in liberal supply with most stock jobbing at 2-2½c per lbm., few 3c, and poorer 1½c.

Local tomatoes were mostly of fair to ordinary quality and Earlianas, 5x6 and larger, jobbed at 75c-$1.00. Local white rose potatoes were firm with best stock at $2.40-$2.50, and fair quality $2.00-$.225.

NEW YORK CURB

Buying operations went ahead in representative public utility stocks such as Electric Bond & Share, American & Foreign Power warrants, American Light and Traction, Cities Service, American Superpower, Insull Utilities, United Light A., and American Gas, in which advances ranged from fractions to 5 points took place.

Trading in other sections of the list was lethargic and prices seesawed in a generally narrow range. Oils steadied when early offerings dried up and held around the previous closing levels in light dealings.

Holding company issues were subject to a better demand and fractional gains were made by Goldman Sachs, United Founders, Public Utility Holding and Electring Power associates. In the general list there was some quiet buying of aviation stcoks like Fokker and Transcontinental Air Transport, which made fractional gains. American Cyanamid B and Ford Lt., were in supply at fractional concessions.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE

CHICAGO, July 28—(UP)—With the visible supply increasing 14,503,000 bushels, even larger than the trade had expected, and continued heavy hedging pressure, wheat closed sharply lower on the Board of Trade today after having a weak undertone most of the session. Rains in Nebraska and Canada were depressing. Corn felt the effect of the showers more than wheat, and the market weakened by the 16c advance recently, broke sharply. Oats were easy with the other grains.

At the close wheat was 1¾ to 1⅞c lower, corn was 1¾ to 2⅝c lower and oats were ½ to 1c lower. Provisions were firm.

L. A. STOCKS

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—(UP)—Opening lower and with very little support, Transamerica Coporation today experienced another bearish market which pushed the stock down to within two points of its all time low on the Los Angeles stock exchange.

Transamerica opened at 23½ and immediately fell off a point with sales mounting into the thousands. Indications were that unless new support was felt the stock would near its all time low established a few weeks ago.

EXAMINE THE CANDIDATES

Four weeks from tomorrow is primary day, at which time the citizens will vote for those whom they desire to have serve them during the coming four years.

For nearly every office there is more than one candidate who presents his claims to the people. In the midst of discussion and advertising and personal visitation and speeches, it is well to examine as to where the allegiance of the candidate is, and where it will be after election, so as to determine whether the one asking for suffrage is certain to serve all the people and be responsible to all the people, or whether in his own mind he will owe his election to a group of politicians, which allegiance will govern his attitude after election.

There are those running for public office who are recognized by everybody who knows anything about the situation as being simply the candidates of the "machine." These men, it is recognized, would have no chance except for the "machine." Thrown on their own, they would be defeated before they started.

There are other candidates who are appealing to the people on principles, and are standing for that which they believe to be better government for the county. These men owe their allegiance to all of the voters, and propose to be governed in their political action after election by the principles for which they stand.

There are other candidates whose position is perfectly colorless. They hope that either the people or the "machine" will pick them up and nominate them or elect them.

It is a period when it behooves the voter to examine pretty carefully the claims of the candidates, and to note whether the candidate is a real candidate, to whom all people will have access, or whether he will be an official in name only, simply an automaton with the hidden wires that move his hands and mouth, connected with those who would run the particular office in their own interests.

Let us elect men as supervisors who will not take orders from the man who has been running the board of supervisors.

Let us elect officials for other offices who, whatever their friendships may be, will not ask someone else what to do when a case affecting their offices is presented to them, but will decide the case on its merits.

It is the year of years to establish in Orange county men in public office who recognize it is a public trust. If a man is elected who feels that he owes his election to the people as a whole, his allegiance will be there. A man who feels that it is a small group that "puts him over," will feel an allegiance to that small group.

Examine the records and the connections of the candidates.

After smoking 144 cigarets in 15 hours to break a world's record, a Bulgarian was declared to be in perfect condition. His experience made him inhale and hearty.

THE NEW MODELS

The automobile market begins to move again with the coming of new models. One of the largest manufacturers announces that never in the history of his company have they had so many advance orders for the new model as they have had for the one soon to appear. With the hoped-for pick up in business in the fall, most of the motor companies are looking for a larger business than that of the past year.

There was a time when there was a tendency to standardization in the automobile industry, when change in models was looked upon with distrust by the manufacturers. We recall that Mr. Ford held on to his Model T all too long for his own good. For years he was averse to any change whatever. It was only after the severest pressure that he made any change in the shape and size of the hood of his car. He was the last to put in a self-starter as standard equipment. His passion always was, and to some extent is yet, to put out the most inexpensive car that will run and give service. We remember when the Dodge company, discountenancing the methods of its competitors, advertised very vigorously that it was not in business to make changes every year. The man who bought a car from that company, it was stated, was certain that his car would not be out of style the next year. And we recall, when the four-brake system was introduced, one company widely advertised the defects of four-wheel brakes, and announced that it would never introduce them. They had to come to it, however. All these three companies suffered from their efforts to standardize motor cars.

It is a rare company now that does not make some change, or some improvement, in its cars each year. Some of them even make changes during the year, so that the early model of a given year is quite different from the later model of the same year. Sometimes the changes are slight; more frequently they are very radical. The changes for the coming year are destined to be much more radical than for some years in the past. The tendency is toward larger cylinder capacity. The four-cylinder car has all but disappeared. The eight-cylinder car in the middle-priced car is becoming general. In the larger cars, and of the more expensive make, the sixteen cylinder type is coming in.

It is a far cry from the horseless carriage of the '90's to the most approved of modern cars. We often wonder how much farther the improvement can go. We said that five years ago. But the improvements go on; and probably will continue to go on. In the meantime the number of companies producing motor cars are growing less. The present year is an exceptionally hard one for the smaller companies. There are quite a number of "orphan" cars on the road today, and there is quite likely to be more of them in the next few years. Like all other industries, the fittest will survive, and the few remaining companies will do practically the whole of the business.

Theodore Dreiser, the writer, has returned from swinging around the circle over the United States, and he finds everything all wrong. When interviewed he said, "All newspaper interviews are stupid. For years I have not seen one that is worth anything. I bet you $10 that you cannot get into your paper the things I am going to say."

From that point on Mr. Dreiser began to attack all the ills of the United States in general and the universe in particular. Constitutional government in the United States has been abdicated, he says. There is no such thing as constitutional government. America is controlled by trusts that function as government. American citizens have become nothing but "trudging asses." The mental capacity of our school teachers is nullified by the dictates of business men who forbid them to say anything about Darwinism or bolshevism. There is no place for a great writer, writers have concerned themselves with love affairs, and the hero of literature today is some dub from the detective world. America is verging on social tragedy, and American life lends itself only to satire and irony. No one dares to survey the world as it is. Things will grow worse until 60 per cent of the people begin to feel the pinch. Then the pinch of misery will stir the people to do something.

So much, and very much more, did Mr. Dreiser say. In closing he said to the reporter, "Be sure and mail me that $10." Well, we know Mr. Dreiser. He belongs to the school of critics who are out of step with the processes of the world and social life. He is one of our literary shockers, without much of a program of his own, but with a keen vision of the things that are wrong. It might be said of him, as it was once said of H. L. Mencken, that he looks into the world as if it were a crooked mirror, and then spits into it. Such people perform a very useful function in society. They are the implacable foes of smugness and complacency. They sting us into bestirring ourselves and looking around to see what our own eyes can see. And we shall find enough to see.

In an age when most of us conform and the interdependence of life is great, it is not a public calamity to have a voice, crying as it were in the wilderness, like that of Mr. Dreiser. We can listen without being too much disturbed and without the feeling that everything is going straight to the dogs. Things usually do not go straight. Individual and social life have their tangents. Just when things are going to the dogs, the course of events takes a sudden twist. The curve goes up, and we find a better road. One need not have lived more than a generation to have seen wrongs righted, reforms effected, and the rights of humanity revindicated. Perhaps a Dreiser may, with his extreme despair, be one of the agencies to preserve the social balance, and to keep the race going right.

Imperial Valley Press

People who travel about this county a good deal often complain that American cooking is getting standardized. It makes little difference, they say, whether you eat in San Francisco or New York, Galveston or Bangor; the food you get will be just about the same, cooked in much the same way.

Undeniably the eating habits of all Americans are quite similar. Nevertheless, there are sectional differences, and the traveler who takes the trouble to inquire about them and to ask for the local specialties can still enjoy a good deal of variety in his meals.

The United Press recently sent a story from New York, analyzing the various sectional preferences in the matter of food. Some of its conclusions are interesting.

New York, for instance, holds up corned beef hash as its favorite restaurant dish. Philadelphia clings to its traditional scrapple. Dwellers in the middle west do not like things highly seasoned. New Orleans, on the other hand, does. Minnesota people eat a great many steaks. California goes for salads.

So it goes. One could add other things. Boston will give you pie for breakfast, and will implore you to have codfish cakes on Sunday morning. San Diego will introduce you to hot tamales. Michigan and Wisconsin will press Lake Superior whitefish on you. Maryland can show you a thing or two about fried chicken. Baltimore will give you oysters. Any New England state can prove the excellency of blueberry pie for the traveler.

There's a fair bit of variety there. It is possible that the uniformity of menus is more due to the traveler than to the native sons. The man who goes about the country ordering ham and eggs, or hamburger and onions, at every place he comes to has no one but himself to blame. If he'll take the trouble to find out what the local favorites are he can vary his diet considerably—and, incidentally, do some mighty pleasant dining as well.

This Is Fame

San Diego Union

Ambassador Dawes is entitled to be greatly flattered by the senate's final action of the London treaty. The senate adopted one reservation only, and that reservation directed entirely to what is supposed to be the Hon. Charlie's handiwork—the so-called secret documents which the senate was not allowed to discuss. These documents are said to have been cablegrams authored by the Hon. Charlie, and liberally stuffed with verbal indiscretions. The senate's reservation is to the effect that this sovereign republic declines to be bound by the ambassador's wise-cracks. This confers a unique and signal honor upon this eminent quipster.

When Mr. Dawes gets ready to resign, he is assured a magazine word-rate equal to Calvin Coolidge's or Al Smith's.

By James J. Montague

THE HAPPY DAYS

Chill penury's remorseless hand
Or need's cold clammy touch
Did not, of old, I understand
Distress our grandsires much.
They made but very few complaints
Amidst their toil and strife,
But bore like patient, placid saints
A dull and dreary life.

So, if the market goes to pot,
We never should deplore
The loss of everything we've got
And often rather more,
But calmly grasp the hand of fate
Be bold and self controlled
And show that we can emulate
The pioneers of old.

But those old lads had lucky stars,
To mitigate their woes;
They did not have to hock their cars
Or mortgage bungalows
Or sell their brand new radio sets
And Junior's motor boat,
To pay installments on their debts
And keep themselves afloat.

They bore with fortitude their cares
But—granting them their dues—
We think our griefs are worse than theirs,
For we have more to lose.
For when their opulence took wings—
Though it was tough, no doubt—
They didn't have so many things
To get along without.

PENALIZING ECONOMY

It seems a sham to keep arresting a musical comedy producer who was merely trying to save money on costumes.

A BETTER SHOW

A reformer complains that modern children will not listen to their parents. He forgets that the radio is more interesting.

RECIPE FOR PROSPERITY

"Advice to Uplifters"

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

Under this caption a Southern newspaper, in its editorial column, says:

"If all humanitarians were put on a six weeks' diet of their own creed, the world would be vastly better off. First, it would free us of a woeful amount of meddling; and, second, it would convince the uplifters themselves that their panaceas—education, higher wages, equality of wealth, the five-day week or whatever they advocate—will not cure our social ills and turn us into an Arcadian dream."

This reminds us of the tramp who beat a rug for his breakfast. When he brought in the rug, the owner pointed out several holes in it. "These holes weren't there when I gave you this rug," she said, accusingly.

The tramp eyed her reproachfully. "Lady," he said, "if they weren't there, where were they?"

Perhaps the cures for our social ills do not lie in education, higher wages, and a more equitable distribution of wealth. But if they aren't there, where are they?

Or should we assume that there are NO cures for social ills? That we must go on to the end, patiently enduring poverty and all its heart-aches?

The other day, in Boston, a young man of 24 offered himself for sale for $2,500. A boyish gesture, of course. But, after all, he was a boy out of work—a boy confronted with starvation or the humility of being fed by charity. Wouldn't the wages urged by meddling "uplfiters"—not HIGHER wages, but ANY wages—mean something to him?

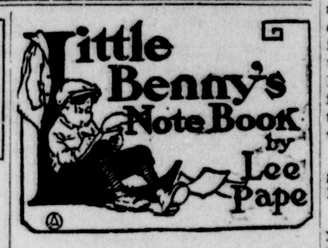

Uplifters are a meddlesome lot, no doubt. They are often tiresome. Worse still, they are often stupidly ineffectual.

But they have one grace which covers a multitude of stupidities. They are never light-hearted about OTHER people's troubles!

They may not succeed in transforming life, for all of us, into an Arcadian dream. But to their everlasting credit, they are not reconciled to its remaining, for any of us, a Stygian Nightmare.

Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Pape

After supper pop was reeding the paper, saying, This fellow Mussoleeny is a rich one all rite. Italy must be a regular 3 ring circus every day in the week with that chap making wild west speeches and issuing a new order every 5 seconds, he sed.

That reminds me, the baby is axually getting a tooth at last, ma sed. Meening my sister Gladdises baby, and pop sed, A very intristing bit of news, but how the dooce does Mussoleeny remind you of it?

Well, Mussoleeny is famous for his will power, izzent he? ma sed, and pop sed, Why yes, he's a man of grate resolution, to say the least, and ma sed, Well so is that child. He has an almost uncanny amount of will power for his age, she sed.

Am I wrong, or were you tawking about a tooth? pop sed, and ma sed, Yes, its almost out, you can see the little place where its going to brake through like a little white flower, and Ill be a very disappointed grandmother if it duzzent happen before Mrs. Shoosters little grand dawter's tooth brakes through. Their both at about the same stage, and thats where Im counting so strongly on the force of his little will power. This afternoon I leened over his little crib and I sed, Now Willy, the time has come for the ferst decisive action of your life. I wunt you to pull your little concentration together and give grandmother a little tooth while that pokey little Shooster grandchild is still making up her slow mind, I sed to him, and do you know, Willyum, I could see him axually straining in his efforts to bring that tooth out.

Mussoleeny? pop sed, and ma sed , What? and he sed, Arent you trying to tell me that Mussoleeny is about to have a tooth?

O reed the silly news in your silly paper, ma sed. You dont deserve to be told anything reely important, she sed.

And thats all she told him.

Thoughts On Modern Life

ECONOMIC SHELL SHOCK

Cases that do not root in any organic maladjustment need diagnosis more than they need dosing. cured.

I do not mean to suggest that the market slump was due solely to a brain-storm arising without rhyme or reason in an economic Utopia.

There are factors in the current economic situation that call for concentrated and creative thinking by America's financial and industrial leaders.

But I do suggest that just as, in the orgy of speculation, we exaggerated the bright side of economic America, so, in the present orgy of fear, we are exaggerating the dark side of the economic America.

It behooves us to look calmly at the facts and realize that, while America is mentally scared, she is materially sound.

The capital resources of the nation were never larger than they are now, and were never more fluid and free for constructive use than now.

Interest rates are low.

The private holders of capital can retard the nation's return to economic normalcy by undue caution in putting their capital into active employment, but the unusual size of the cash holdings of the banks is, I think, a hopeful thing, for with the banks bulking with funds thay will be under powerful incentives to put the money to work in order to show profits for the shareholders of the banks.

It is from this quarter that we shall probably see the first thrust toward business renewal.

OUR CHILDREN

SPOILING THE BABY

It is so very very easy to spoil a baby. It is no fault of the child, of course. He is helpless in our hands and we work our will with him—for the time being. Later, if we persist in the spoiling, he works his will with us, to his own sorrow and ours as well.

"When he is two years old I'm going to train him. He is too little now."

Dear me, he began interpreting you the day he was born. He feels you before he can see you. He has a keen sense of his own comfort and soon learns how to win the little attentions he loves. He would rather be cradled in your arms than lie in his crib. You love to pick him up and cuddle him, snuggle him to you, hear him crooning in delight.

How about the time when it isn't convenient to hold him? He will not understand that and he will protest loudly. Then you have a cross baby on your hands. Better let him alone. Accustom him to being lifted on schedule. He is far happier that way than the other haphazard fashion.

Then you just known he would love a little sugar. A little can't do any harm. Can't it? Ask your doctor. Feed the baby nothing but his own diet and that is to be supervised by the understanding physician who brought him safely to his crib. He knows the baby and you and should be an authority on diet and health habits.

When he fusses you are tempted to give him a little medicine. Somebody who knew told you that this and that was good for babies. Don't do it. No medicine for a baby unless a competent physician, a very competent one indeed orders it.

Avoid asking the baby to entertain. His coming out season should be postponed for several years. Grown-ups poking him, tickling him, breathing in his face, hefting him, lifting him up by his hands to see how strong he is, kissing him,—are a dangerous nuisance. Keep them out. Only very close friends and relatives ought to see a baby and they ought to know enough to keep their hands off.

I do not believe in secluding a child so that he makes no associations with people but there is a happy medium to be observed between spoiling him and isolating him. Either process is bad. A healthy amount of social experience is what we need.

All danger of infection, contagion, is to be guarded against. Flee from him who would tell you that a child has to have so many of the childhood diseases before he is six. The fewer he has the better.

Bringing up a baby is an art. I am not master of that art so I would refer you to the great doctor who did so much for babies and their mothers, Dr. Emmert Holt. His work lives after him in the little book, "The Care and Feeding of Children." If you read that book and follow its principles you will be happier in your children and they in you.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY of—

THE WORLD WAR

On July 28, 1914, Austria-Hungary declared war on Serbia five days after delivering an ultimatum containing demands with which the Serbian government would only partially comply.

Austria-Hungary had accused Serbia of complicity in the assassination of the Austrian heir-apparent, Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife, at Sarajevo on June 28, 1914, and alleged that the anti-Austrian machinations of Serbian patriots menaced the integrity of the Hapsburg empire.

Serbia was anxious to avert the hostilities that threatened. Diplomats of other European powers sought to iron out the difficulty, but Austria-Hungary refused to submit the matter to peaceful arbitration. The Russian government, sympathetic to Serbia, ordered the mobilization of its army. This caused Germany to declare what it considered to be a defensive war against Russia. Two days later Germany declared war against Russia's ally, France. When Germany violated Belgium's neutrality, England considered this sufficient cause to declare war against the invaders. The United States entered the conflict on April 6, 1917, by declaring war on Germany.
